

Mia McHaffey · 2w
As a juror on this trial, I did not take into account any of the confessions or any of the ballistics. I don't think the disclosure of those things made a difference ultimately in the decision.

Reply 72

Michelle Filoni Maleta · 2w
Mia McHaffey you were on this jury

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Michelle Filoni Maleta yes ma'am

Reply 4

Michelle Filoni Maleta · 2w
Mia i personally think you guys got it right

Reply 10

Brad Begley · 2w
Mia McHaffey I think you guys did a great job. Don't listen to all these losers thinking you got it wrong. There all gonna support child molesting and child killers no matter what

Reply 3

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w
Brad Begley Zero evidence RA had any interest in children/csam, thanks - theyd have used it if they found it, trust.

Reply 2

Francis Gibson · 2w
Caitlin Marie Daugherty didn't Allen state he thought they were older until he had them naked? yeah thought so

Reply 3

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w
Francis Gibson No, he didn't and what's that have to do with him having zero evidence of child anything anywhere?

Reply

Francis Gibson · 2w
Caitlin Marie Daugherty yes he did he stated he thought they were older until he had them undressed and he clearly had burner phones as he threw his under a lawnmower read Kathy's statement

Reply 1

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w
Francis Gibson Lol you have an interesting way of twisting facts to fit your narrative. The guy I'm replying to called him a pedo, I'm responding by telling him there's zero csam or anything like that - so you pull out some random "confession," he said while out of his mind that you just heard the Appellate Judges shock and dismay over and know those, if anything, are what's most likely to be thrown out but sure 😭😭😭

Reply

Francis Gibson · 2w
Caitlin Marie Daugherty he wasn't out of his mind when he spoke to Wala he was upset because Kathy wouldn't believe him, so Wala let him call Kathy and speak to her and he confessed in detail about the crime. go have a read of the transcripts and you tagged me not the other person and he is a self proclaimed paedophile

Reply 1

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w
Francis Gibson Oh are we doing a guess and assume? Cool

Reply

Francis Gibson · 2w
Caitlin Marie Daugherty no that's what the defense babies are doing

Reply 1

Reply to Michelle Filoni Maleta...

Janet Embree · 2w
Mia McHaffey I think he did it but more people involved

Reply 14

Susan Winegardner Perry · 2w
Janet Embree Exactly !!

Reply 2

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka · 2w

Janet Embree and it's okay to think, or to have a personal thought.. but not when you're sworn in to protect the Constitutional rights of a human being. they gave clear instructions that if there's reasonable doubt that is doubt. (it is better to let 100 guilty men go free then too in prison one innocent man) I believe that quote came from the USA Supreme Court.

Reply 5

Michele Wood · 2w

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka

Clearly they didn't have any doubt. You don't get to decide that. If you're ever on a jury you can. Hopefully you aren't.

Reply 5

Robert · 2w

Janet Embree That's not true. If it were true, Rick would have snitched them all out by now. I do think multiple people were involved, just not Rick.

Reply 11

Tricia Childers · 2w

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka so you believe someone who killed to girls should be let go

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 2w

Janet Embree It's very unlikely he would confess without naming others, unless you think his help was his direct family members. There also isn't any evidence others were involved. We only see one guy in the video, only hear one voice, only one man was seen leaving the scene.

Reply 5

Bill Evans · 2w

Tricia Childers YES, if he wasn't given due process (and EVIDENTLY he wasn't!) he should get a new trial. ISP and ma y others botched handling both the evidence and the protracted investigation trying to piece together a flimsy, incomplete case. Meanwhile, a clearly psychotic man was held, without a conviction, in a prison in solitary confinement for an inordinate amount of time in an facility where he had compromised care! A dog awaiting euthanasia would have been treated better

Reply 3

Janet Embree · 2w
Michele Wood I have sat on a jury 2 or 3 times in my life and it isn't something I just love doing , my comment above was merely an opinion from reading things from beginning. I have been to Delphi a few times. I hope justice prevails .i appreciate your comments

Reply

Jessica Scott · 2w
Shawn Palmi one of the guards was an odinist and most likely played a huge part in that.

Reply 3

Kenny Catron · 2w
Tricia Childers two

Reply

Kenny Catron · 2w
Bill Evans what experience do you have? Are you Law Enforcement? A homicide detective? A Lawyer? A Judge? How can you make that call?

Reply

Kenny Catron · 2w
Jessica Dawn hearsay

Reply

Catherine Zobbe- Kuntz · 2w
Bill Evans you say that like psychos never kill.

Reply

Brad Begley · 1w
Robert Richard Allen is 100% guilty

Reply

Ronda Susan · 1w
Janet Embree no evidence of anyone else being involved.

Reply 1

Jessica Brehon · 1w
Ronda Susan except the phone evidence showing Ron Logan at the crime scene at 7 and 10, geofence showing 3 phones at the crime scene during the crime and the unknown male DNA all over the victims. None belonging to Rick Allen.

Does anyone truly believe the state should not find out what man left DNA on two murdered children?

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Janet Embree I don't believe for 1 second that 1 person, particularly a 5'4-5 man could do all of that in 19mins 🤯🤯

Reply

Robert · 1w
Brad Begley No one's trying to change your opinion, just like you won't change mine.

Reply

Brad Begley · 1w
Robert You see the thing is my opinion is he is guilty and the opinions that are important has him right where he belongs. I sure am glad your not a judge or prosecutor bc all the child molesters and people who commit crimes against children would be walking the streets praying on there next victims. I guess it's true when they say child predators all stick together..

Reply

Reply to Janet Embree...

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mia McHaffey What did you do guess? Did you ever wonder if the girls were actually dropped off in the first place?

Reply 23

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tony Hunt this is an insane take lol what evidence at all supports this. How would you explain the video of the girls on the bridge?

Reply 17

Terry Young · 2w
Tony Hunt coin toss maybe?
Reply 1

Cheryl Reber · 2w
Tony Hunt the victim got a video of this guy just as he was approaching them..its him..he did it!!!
Reply 13

Karen Rayburn Edwards · 2w
Tony Hunt are you confused? They took pictures and Snapchats of being on the bridge!
Reply 5

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mia McHaffey Photo shopped, just like BG. You can do anything no days.
Reply 13

Tony Hunt · 2w
Cheryl Reber Would you bet your life on it? Nope!
Reply 5

Deb Bendon · 2w
Tony Hunt thank you for being on the jury! Justice was served!
Reply 10

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tony Hunt who photoshopped it? The police? Also, the video was captured almost 10 years ago.
Reply 8

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mia McHaffey Who ever murdered them 😳 You just cant automatically assume those pictures, recording "down the hill" and videos are legit. Not one person can put those girls there "physically" that day, not even Richard !!!
Reply 8

Tony Hunt · 2w
Cheryl Reber Yea, sure 😳😳😳
Reply 1

Brandy Ellis · 2w
Cheryl Reber RA is not the guy in the video
Reply 12

Shiloh August · 2w
Cheryl Reber did you see his face on the video? Just like they said the girls were so scared and they didn't know where to go. Yet thet weren't scared and Libby knew exactly where to go.
Reply 5

Shiloh August · 2w
Deb Bendon was it? So we aren't allowed to have a fair trial in this country now? I hope people like you end up in a situation like Richard Allen. Meaning you're in solitary for 13 long months and involuntarily drugged.
Reply 1

Mike Sims · 2w
Tony Hunt I heard all the discovery evidence, many people that should have been investigated never talked to the investigators. One went as far to say that he wasn't worried he had people that would not let him get in any trouble! 💩
Reply 1

Danielle Hawkins · 2w
Mia McHaffey so, what evidence shown made your decision?
Reply 4

Mary Beth Yemma · 2w
Cheryl Reber no the BG man on bridge was 5'10 to 6'0 tall Richard Allen was 5'5 max. He was not BG. He was however railroaded. Corrupt trial from Judge all the way on down. Most people can see this.
Reply 23

Sandra Prince Cole · 2w
Cheryl Reber yes!!!
Reply

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka · 2w

Mia McHaffey that is easy to do!.. as a juror, the rules are clear.. reasonable Doubt means there's doubt and you don't convict. I would love to know what, if what you stated was not considered or relevant, what was?? just statements made by law enforcement?

Reply 2

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka · 2w

Cheryl Reber OMGoodness! that is the most bizarre thing I've heard in a long time! just because someone happens to capture you on video you are guilty of a crime??.. the video does not even prove that the guy on the bridge did or attempted to commit a crime! it WAS shown to the jury.. What crime did you see occur??.. good grief! one of the victims own mothers said that the words the man allegedly said, just sounded like a normal conversation to her!🤦‍♀️.. and are you aware, did you pay attention when LE said that they interpolated the video???.. interpolated= Inserting into, Adding words, remarks, or passages into an existing book, document, or conversation/ Altering a work: Inserting unauthorized, extraneous, or false material into a historical manuscript or text... 🤦‍♀️

Reply Edited 5

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka · 2w

Cheryl Reber let me know if you would like to know exactly how many other people were out there that day, along with many many men!!.. js.. there's a lot of people that have done a LOT of research, and it's really heart-shattering to think that an innocent man has been horrendously tortured like he has.💔 And WHY.. 😔 NTM.. many many Hoosiers are outraged learning the facts because this ruling can set a precedent for any single person arrested!.. example you don't know that your driver's license was suspended and you get pulled over and for some reason they take you to jail and they don't like you, or they want to silence you.. so they ship you off to maximum security prison isolation for 13 months, well torturing the hell out of you, and involuntarily drugging you & break you by telling you if you would confess, it will all stop! maybe not you, but maybe your son, your husband, your father, your brother, your friend.. who's next??

Reply 5

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka · 2w
I apologize, I don't mean to be speaking sharply towards you, it's just upsetting when people know most of the facts and the facts do not support the conviction! did you hear the appellate judges on monday? "do you believe he was treated the same as other inmates there or better?".... (attny) yes, it was for his protection... "have you seen the videos?"... "you protected him INTO PSYCHOSIS" 😤

Reply 4

Michele Wood · 2w
Tony Hunt
Their bodies were found there. That was Libby's video. What is wrong with you?

Reply 4

Tony Hunt · 2w
Michele Wood Eat me!!! You'll see sheeple...

Reply

Brooke Walters-Schmidt · 2w
Cheryl Reber - There is zero proof that the guy on the bridge did anything.
🤦‍♀️🤦‍♀️🤦‍♀️

Reply 2

Kathy Abrell · 2w
Tony Hunt since Mia was on the jury she does not have to tell you anything about how they (the jury) came to their decision. Maybe the next time you get a letter to be on a jury, you do it !

Reply 1

Thomas Frost · 2w
Tony Hunt yall are CRACKED out 💀💀

Reply 6

Thomas Frost · 2w
Brooke Walters-Schmidt is it hard getting out of bed being this stupid?

Reply 2

Francis Gibson · 2w
Thomas Frost 😂

Reply 3

Ashley Marie · 2w
Tony Hunt their Instagram put them there.

Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Kathy Abrell I didn't ask her to tell me anything, with an IQ level she has and the rest of that paid off jury Im not even interested in hearing more lies from that coerced sheeple jury!!! I've had enough with all the lies! (party's over)

Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Ashley Marie You mean it put somebody else out there, role playing the victims and that's not even Abby either 😮

Reply 😂😮 3

Christine Danger · 2w
Tony Hunt RA is BG.

Reply 2

Tony Hunt · 2w
Christine Danger He was there but that's not him, Thats been proven photoshopped just like the so called Abby photo!
Reply 4

Tony Hunt · 2w
Simple minds in Indiana
Reply 2

Tony Hunt · 2w
Karen Rayburn Edwards Where's the rest of pics/videos? Because I'm sure there would be more than just BG, and Abby that would help prove they were really there?🤔🤔🤔
Reply

Thomas Frost · 2w
Tony Hunt buddy, you are saying some of the dumbest and most unhinged shit I have ever heard
Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Thomas Frost You have no idea what you're spewing out of your Hoosier mouth, I do!!!
Reply

Thomas Frost · 2w
Tony Hunt lol, okay. "Simple minded" I have two degrees, one in criminal justice and the other in business management from IU. I think I might know what I'm saying 😂
Reply Edited

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Tony Hunt Are you just trolling or are you really this stupid?
Reply

Brian Dusenbery · 2w
Mary Beth Yemma this has been covered 100's of times. Were have you been? Do better.
Reply

Brian Dusenbery · 2w
Brenda K. Simonton Kopka Rick Snay is this you?
Reply 1

Brian Dusenbery · 2w
Tony Hunt bless your heart! Read up on the case, review the documents then come back and comment.
Reply Edited 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Brian Dusenbery I don't have to read anything, Im not a sheep like you and the Hoosier state!!!
Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Shawn Palmi Likewise, back at you and you will see.
Reply

Leslie Stephens Geller · 2w
Tony Hunt , your lack of intelligence and basic comprehensive skills are showing 👌.
Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Leslie Stephens Geller You from Indiana too? 😭😭😭
Reply

Catherine Zobbe- Kuntz · 2w
Shiloh August pretty sure they were terrified.
Reply

Catherine Zobbe- Kuntz · 2w
Brenda K. Simonton Kopka it proved it made them uneasy enough.
Reply

Catherine Zobbe- Kuntz · 2w
Brenda K. Simonton Kopka tortured? A bit dramatic.
Reply 1

Catherine Zobbe- Kuntz · 2w
Brooke Walters-Schmidt or that he didn't.
Reply

Shelley Bray · 2w

Brooke Walters-Schmidt oh yea no proof at all, just cocks a gun and order them down the hill. if u don't believe he cocked the gun, he does order them down the hill. yep no proof at all . start using your brain

Reply

Shelley Bray · 2w

Tony Hunt you are an idiot

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w

Tony Hunt You couldn't even answer the simplest of questions. That says a lot.

Reply

Judy Hataway · 1w

Mia McHaffey did you also know that one of the female witnesses said in the beginning she came to BGs shoulder. She was 5'7". Also that the other female made a sketch saying it was a 10 out of 10 who she saw. Young 20s poofy hair. Richard Allen older with a crew cut. Lots of things the jurors didn't get to see or hear.

Reply 3

Judy Hataway · 1w

Mia McHaffey also when the state said I believe or we believe, why didn't the jurors ask for facts/ proof of what they believed? One of their experts even googled an answer.

Reply 1

JohnJohn Faulk · 1w

Judy Hataway The simple answer is that their trick worked solve the Delphi case get Liggett elected part #2 was getting a conviction , they replaced judge Diener with judge Gull who was once considered a fair judge , but this case was different and the defendant had 2 very good defense lawyers representing him , so Gull tried to remove them because of discovery evidence getting leaked , but Rossi & Baldwin appealed to SJC and they overturned Gull which set her ass on fire , she never forgot this so she made sure to rule for the state 90% of the motions and made it impossible for Rick to get a fair trial , now we just had oral arguments and I'm very optimistic about a new trial because we are talking judicial errors in every argument and the state has no answer to why Rick was in psychosis when needed but ok when he confessed , the 2 female judges showed concern and I think Rick will get a new trial and maybe Rick will get to have a 3rd party defense so the jury can see the crime scene was staged because judge Gull would not allow the defense to even mention that the sticks put over the girls looked like a message , a possible cult.

Reply 1

JohnJohn Faulk · 1w

Judy Hataway Yes it was during a 15 minute recess the man googled what causes a false notification of headphones plugged in and got his answer of dirt or water in the jack could give a false notification which is hearsay and usually not allowed in court but Judge Gull allowed it in , because they had to explain this or it would surely prove some 3rd party suspect was involved which is reasonable doubt , this whole trial was stacked against Rick Allen .

Reply 2

Judy Hataway · 1w

JohnJohn Faulk I know my heart breaks for Abby & Libby. I just hope one day they get the right person that cut their lives so short.

Reply 1

Jim Cope · 1w

Judy Hataway you lie more than CNN!

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Karen Rayburn Edwards the SN pic of Abby on the bridge wasn't actually on the phone (everything else was)? something both the prosecution and defence agree on 🤦. it's a screenshot from friends who saw the story. But LE didn't bother to subpoena snap chat to see who posted it or when 🤦. was it Victim 2's phone or someone else logged into Libby's account??

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Brenda K. Simonton Kopka yes Carrie actually said you couldn't make anything out until LE 'interpolated' it 🤔

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Brenda K. Simonton Kopka that's also why people around the world are watching! Innocent or guilty, Richard Allen was tortured! North Korea/Soviet Union style 'justice' in a Western Country! If people are so sure he is guilty they should be furious with the state for jeopardising the conviction 🤦

Reply

Reply to Tony Hunt...

Brandy Ellis · 2w
Mia McHaffey one question! Do you believe Lindsay Clancy is guilty?

Reply 😮 1

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Brandy Ellis what's the relevance? The only thing your "one question" insinuates is that you overlook differences and details that completely change the circumstances to fit your narrative.

Reply 4

Brandy Ellis · 2w
Mia McHaffey no because people like you are not looking at facts! What facts did you base your guilty verdict on?

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Brandy Ellis what is the relevance? Your "one question" tells me more about your inability to decipher differences in circumstance (possible voluntary inability) to fit your narrative. Even based off the fact that I was in the courtroom every single day for this trial, and was not for Lindsey Clancy. My opinion on her guilt is a moot point.

Reply 3

Brandy Ellis · 2w

Mia McHaffey no it's not because it will tell the rest of us if you actually base things on facts, opinions or hearsay. What evidence proves that RA did this with zero doubt?

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Brandy Ellis Richard Allen told us he was there that day and what time. He mentioned seeing a group of girls. That group of girls also saw Richard Allen. He was there, they saw each other, that is fact. Then, he said he was on the bridge looking at the fish, but didn't see the girls. There is no way that if he was on the bridge at the time he was there he didn't see the girls. He also said he was wearing a blue jacket, jeans, boots or tennis shoes, and had a hat. In one of his confessions, he mentioned a white van driving down and frightening him during the crime. After investigation, a white van was actually there near the scene at the time of the crime. No one would know that but the killer. No other man with similar clothing or anything was seen by anyone else there that day. The bullet found in his keepsake box had the same exact bullet brand and type. Even though all of those facts wouldn't stand on their own, the presence of all of them makes it unreasonable to believe Richard Allen isn't guilty of the crime.

Reply 4

Brandy Ellis · 2w

Mia McHaffey we ALL knew about the van before. And everything you described he said he was also told. So no those are not facts. That's still a person that was mentally tortured by LE. Did you watch the interrogation videos? So you're admitting there are NO FACTS! A bullet can't be tested like that.

Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w

Brandy Ellis That damn Bullet was took from his residence illegally and cycled through his gun, JS.

Reply 1

Brandy Ellis · 2w

Tony Hunt everything they did to him was illegal.

Reply 3

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Brandy Ellis as expected, you're manipulating things to fit your narrative. If you can show me proof that Richard Allen or anyone else at that matter, was aware of the van before he made that specific confession to Dr. Wala, I'll acknowledge that. I can prove everything I am saying with true, factual information from the record. Please elaborate how you arrive to me adimitting there are no facts? How did you come to that conclusion? That interrogation wasn't close to mental torture lol

Reply 4

Brandy Ellis · 2w

Mia McHaffey because you still haven't provided any Facts that RA unalived the girls. There is none!!! You're doing what people in the Clancy trial is doing. You're following and repeating what everyone else is saying instead of FACTS

Reply 1

April Vasquez · 2w

Mia McHaffey how did Vorhees see him at 2:15; video started at 2:13. There were other groups of girls out there.

Reply

Nana Foster · 2w

Brandy Ellis his voice, his likeness, his clothing in Libby's video. Get real. These pics were pulled from Kathy's fb page before trial started and before she locked her page. Exact same jacket. Exact same hat.
The facts were all provided; you just refuse to accept them.

Reply Edited 4

Nana Foster · 2w

Reply 1

Brandy Ellis · 2w

Nana Foster this is the judge that retired from there.

Reply

Nana Foster · 2w

Brandy Ellis your mom did it

Reply 2

Claire Ceci · 2w

I wonder if Mia (who says she was on the jury) noticed that Richard Allen is short. He is obviously NOT Bridge Guy. Justice has not been served. And I have to wonder how many people are involved in lying about this. While the real killer or killers are still out there. It's sick. It really is. I have weeped for humanity. I pray someone with real integrity does the right thing and I hope it's soon. Cause right now it's very wrong and it's evil what has happened.

Reply 2

Joleen Watson Haskell · 2w

Mia McHaffey I don't think the previous poster was saying he was tortured in the interrogation— I think he was saying the interrogation videos showed someone clear minded and very adamant about their innocence, and then his being kept in solitary confinement for 13 months as a pretrial detainee was equivalent to torture. And that showed up as a totally different person — a completely different mindset and demeanor than the interrogation videos.

Reply

Cassie Gaylor · 2w
Brandy Ellis wait are you saying that you believe judge fouts was the one u think did this ? I was reading the comments and confused why u posted his picture ? He definitely was involved in some sketchy ass stuff that I will agree with u on 💯

Reply

Stacey Foltz Eisner · 1w
Brandy Ellis you choose to live in delusion.

Reply

Stacey Foltz Eisner · 1w
Claire Ceci yeah, bridge guy was short in my opinion. However, we can all only have opinions on his height because an official height analysis was never done. Not by the FBI, not by local police, not by the prosecution team, and not by the defense team. So no one can say with authority how tall bridge guy actually is. Although now that we know Richard Allen is Bridge guy, we now know is exact height.

Reply

Claire Ceci · 1w
Stacey Foltz Eisner Whatever. No amount of gaslighting will work either.

Reply

Brandy Ellis · 1w
Stacey Foltz Eisner no I have common sense. I don't believe everything I'm told. Other words I'm not brainwashed!

Reply

Stacey Foltz Eisner · 1w
Brandy Ellis except for Bob Motta and all the other YT/Crime channel grifters 🤣

Reply

Reply to Brandy Ellis...

Misty Porter · 2w
Mia McHaffey What do you think about all the information that the jury wasn't allowed to see?

Reply 2

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Misty Porter my take is that (the sketches and Odinist theory) specifically wouldn't have changed the outcome. I think they were rightfully not included in trial. BUT - I welcome another trial if it's deemed most constitutional. I don't think my opinion really matters as far as predicted outcome, but I do think another trial would silence a lot of the public opinion surrounding the process.

Reply 8

Misty Porter · 2w
Mia McHaffey What about the drug angle? Would you like to hear more about that in a new trial?

Reply 1

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Misty Porter I haven't heard about the drug angle.

Reply 1

Misty Porter · 2w
Mia McHaffey That's the one I'm most interested in. It's definitely going to get interesting.

Reply 2

Danielle Hawkins · 2w
Mia McHaffey Are you not the least bit angry at LE for leading the jury to believe Rick was the only one out on the bridge that day? Now, we know there were at least 50 people and the jury was only given one option? Others have confessed and not one witness looked at Rick in court that day and said, Yes!, that's the man I saw! Respectfully asking because I would want all facts before convicting and ruining a man's life based on a lie and lil manbaby egos. I'm sorry, I know this wasn't easy for anyone on the jury, but he 100% did not do this.

Reply 8

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Danielle Hawkins I appreciate your compassion. You are right, it was very hard. But that is how a murder trial goes, they charge a person and the jury has to decide if they think that person is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. It was not my job to police their investigation, rather make a decision based off of the facts provided to me. I don't think we were led to believe he was the only one. Just that he was the only one there that all of the puzzle pieces fit.

Reply 9

Danielle Hawkins · 2w

Mia McHaffey I understand you were not there to investigate. From the outside looking in, we could see everything you were not allowed to see so now, what do you think? If you feel comfortable saying?
Do you think he got a fair trial?
And thank you for speaking and answering hard questions.

Reply Edited 1

Leslie Walker · 2w

Mia McHaffey A dad who trafficked drugs, who snitched on other drug traffickers and possibly owed them money who never came out to fight for justice for his daughter. They sent him a message. Message received. They didn't present this. They covered it up. Why? Because LE and others in Indiana higher ups are likely involved in underground activity. LE sought to hide evidence as to who was out there from day one. There were about 16 people out there that day. RA saw a group of girls when he was out there earlier. He wasn't there during the murder time the state gives. Those girls are Collier, Matta and Herrera. Dan Pearson was likely who BB saw on the bridge. Guess what? He's the first one who ran to the police. He did the first sketch. Why was he not in the trial? Go watch The Vault series on CasexCase. Go read Eye on Delphi's Docs and her videos. Go read Delphi Docs documents. If I were a juror I would be pissed at having been fooled by a corrupt prosecution who covered their own butts and used practically the only man in town without a record as a patsy. It's sickening.

Reply 2

Alicia Nicholette · 2w

Mia McHaffey After seeing Richard Allen, do you think he's tall, muscular, and handsome? Those are descriptions the witnesses gave. How did the other people on the trails at the time of the alleged crime not hear or see anything? Do you think it's okay to hold an innocent person in a prison in solitary confinement for 400 days? He wasn't allowed to have a visit with his wife for over 6 months. He was given involuntary haldol injections, yet people can't sign legal documents if they are under the influence. Does it not bother that law enforcement lost over 70 days of interviews, lied numerous times? Why would someone who was going to SA someone but got spooked then proceed to unalive 2 girls and then spend over another hour at the crime scene placing sticks/branches over the girls bodies and blood? One of the branches was 3x taller/longer than the alleged killer and weighed probably as much as he did. The white van that spooked him didn't actually show up until about 15 minutes later than the state said and at the time the girls were allegedly already dead according to what the state says happened. Also what about the grumpy/doesn't say hi guy Cheyenne seen that also matches the demeanor of BG? Cheyenne witnessed him after the BG video was recorded. Can you honestly say that you have no reasonable doubt?

Reply 3

Michele Wood · 2w

Misty Porter

They were only not allowed to see made up conspiracy theories with zero evidence.

Reply 1

Shawn Palmi · 2w

Danielle Hawkins Who cares who was there that morning or night. Most normal people care about who was there when they were murdered because the goal was to find the killer not make a bridge list. And around the time frame of the murder there was around 10 people.

Reply 1

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Leslie Walker So many things wrong with this. Firstly the DP sketch was made of someone their taking photographs after the girls were abducted. And if you follow the case it's obvious who it was and he had nothing to do with the case. And not message was received because at no point was it obvious that was the motive or committed the crime because of that motive. It's possible the father could have thought that was a possible motive, that doesn't mean it's what happened. And naming all those girls, are you suggesting they were involved?

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Alicia Nicholette Libby took a picture of her killer. He was not tall, does not look young. Handsome, we can't see his face, so I don't know. But my point is I trust my own eyes over a witness statement. I don't know why she got it so wrong. Did she see someone else? Was he too far away or too brief of a look to get it right? I don't know,🤷, but we literally have the image of the killer.

Reply

Danielle Hawkins · 2w
Shawn Palmi well, I'm sure the families of the girls care and Rick Allen and his family care. They have phone data that shows who was there exactly and one of them was not Rick's so yes, it absolutely DOES matter!

Reply 2

TaRa German · 2w
Mia McHaffey I am so sorry how awful some of these people are. Please be cautious on who you trust as we learned the HARD way. I keep all of you in my thoughts-I am sure it was very hard for you all.

Reply 2

Jane Townsley · 2w
Danielle Hawkins so who was it?what insight do you think you have.

Reply

Christie Harrell · 2w
Mia McHaffey it should have been televised.

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Christie Kennedy this I agree with.
Reply

Shelley Bray · 2w
Misty Porter you mean like BH 's bald and had a full long beard at that time, and a solid alibi. and the pic. they keep refering to on his post was from 2012 and looked nothing like what was said the way the girls was left.
Reply

Danielle Hawkins · 2w
Jane Townsley My "insight" is that his constitutional rights were violated and denied a fair trial. If you live in America, you would know this. There are other possibilities, some who have confessed, but would be hypocritical of me to name names as I am not an officer of the law. You know, the ones that should have done their job, especially one of this nature. Come on now, ffs!
Reply

Reply to Misty Porter...

Tony Hunt · 2w
Prove it's not fake.
Reply 3

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tony Hunt I think the main issue here is that you're discounting the evidence from the phone. Fine. But you haven't said anything supporting the fact the girls were never dropped off. So you just sound like all of the others who are throwing around unlikely theories with zero evidence to substantiate it. It's exhausting.
Reply 5

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mia McHaffey Oh, thats simple! They were murdered somewhere else and this whole timeline, BG, story, everything we assume as facts are simply not facts! And the search was fabricated too, by fire fighters and the guilty party's . Why didn't they find them the first night with the whole town searching?
Reply 9

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Tony Hunt still am waiting for even a shred of evidence to support your narrative. Save some foil for the rest of us lol

Reply 5

Tony Hunt · 2w

Mia McHaffey Likewise on the girls being there on the 13th! Prove it!!! Why was kelsis hair wrapped in Abby's hand?

Reply 2

Tony Hunt · 2w

Mia McHaffey And how about a shred of evidence on your guilty verdict instead of hear say bs. Indiana brains

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Tony Hunt because she was just in her car? That is not unlikely at all. Also, just because you're saying the evidence I'm mentioning isn't real, doesn't mean I'm not providing anything to you. Couldn't say the same about you though. Still waiting...

Reply 2

Tony Hunt · 2w

Mia McHaffey What are you waiting for, for me to fabricate a lie just like the timeline? Not one human being seen them there that day, phone pics, video, BG evidence should have been thrown out as hear say 101. It's simply not factual and when you put it with all the lies from LE and the families something should have clicked unless your a sheep. Thats exactly why this isn't solved yet because of what I'm saying! It was a good story for a minute but something had to give. Libby's phone pinging across town too, oh but not aloud to use that evidence hummm

Reply

Sally Alana Carroll · 2w

Tony Hunt Does anyone know who actually found the girls,not sure if true but heard it was a member of family ?

Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Sally Alana Carroll Theres been so many people from Ivan Brumbaugh, Pat Brown, somebody who saw two deer then seen the girls. But I guess Pat Brown gets the nod.
Reply 3

Leslie Walker · 2w
Tony Hunt 🎯🎯🎯🎯🎯🎯
Reply

Leslie Walker · 2w
Mia McHaffey No foil
Reply

Michele Wood · 2w
Tony Hunt
She was wearing Kelsi's sweatshirt. It's common. Her sister was a kid. Stop spreading these stupid lies and conspiracies.
Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Michele Wood Which sweatshirt or jacket and nobody is spreading shit!!!
Reply

Michele Wood · 2w
Tony Hunt
Her sisters. What are you talking about? If you watched the actual news and reporting you'd know she forgot to bring a jacket and wore Kelsi's shirt.
Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Michele Wood Everything is a lie...
Reply

Robert · 2w
Mia McHaffey It does sound bizarre, but if you examine the video and stills from the video, there doesn't seem to be any shadow being cast by BG like there is with Abby. Trust me, I know how weird that sounds, but it can't be ignored. There too many things that don't make sense in this case.
Reply 3

Nana Foster · 1w
Tony Hunt learn what burden-shifting is. YOU do it. There's no good reason to even think it is, other than your gullibility to believe unsubstantiated conspiracy theories, and misinterpretation of the facts.. A fuc*ing trial is where you 'prove it's not fake'

Reply 1

Jim Cope · 1w
Nana Foster if (and I doubt it will happen) these judges order a retrial, I can only hope and pray that you and I get called for jury duty!

Reply

Tony Hunt · 1w
Jim Cope Your both ignorant and don't belong on a jury!!!

Reply

Tony Hunt · 1w
Nana Foster I have many reasons along with evidence to back my shit up, I know every little detail and then some about this cover up, crooked ass state full of pedophile politicians just like are "government" (think about that one)

Reply

Tony Hunt · 1w
Nana Foster You have to be a Hoosier "LE wanna be little boot licker" scum..:

Reply

Nana Foster · 1w
Tony Hunt You know every little detail? Ok how far away was Betsy Blair when she saw BG? (Hint: she briefly saw him on platform 1 from the barricade)

Reply

Nana Foster · 1w
Jim Cope well, we might be biased (despite being reasonable)

Reply

Nana Foster · 1w
Tony Hunt Logical Fallacy 101: "corruption exists, so it must exist here". Claims without evidence; Who needs nexus

Reply

Reply to Tony Hunt...

Tony Hunt · 2w
Pictures and recordings dont count as physical evidence of being there, watch and see!

Reply 7

Ashley Marie · 2w
Tony Hunt Richard Allen won't suck your dick.

Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Ashley Marie He won't lick your rotten py either 😖😖😖

Reply

Ashley Marie · 2w
Tony Hunt he still wouldn't suck your dick. Sorry buddy.

Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Ashley Marie Go murder some more children!!!

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Tony Hunt In your world no one will ever be convicted of murder because you can always claim tin foil doubt. Maybe the whole thing was a hoax, maybe a time traveler did it, maybe aliens with advanced technology did it, maybe it's a cia opp to see how we handle it on and on. Do you really want people like Bundy, Gacy, Darhmer, BTK walking the streets?

Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Shawn Palmi They're innocent too!!! (You have to be from Indiana) 😏

Reply

Ashley Marie · 2w
Tony Hunt you want to do what! Wow, you're a sicko. Even if you hurt children, Richards still won't suck your dick. You might be invited to his club though.

Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Ashley Marie You a nasty girl or boy!!! I see what's always on your pedophilia mind, talking about dicks all the time.
Reply

Ashley Marie · 2w
Tony Hunt no matter how you stick up for him. He still won't suck your dick. You can keep trying, but it won't happen, buddy.
Reply

Ashley Marie · 2w
Tony Hunt Richard Allen obviously has a fetish for a little girls. He doesn't like fat, old, bald men that look like himself. No matter how far you go he's not gonna suck your dick. Get over it dude.
Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Ashley Marie Ok Trans.
Reply

Ashley Marie · 2w
Tony Hunt he still wants to suck your dick. Even if you're trans. He likes little girls OK.
Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Ashley Marie He'd probably like to suck your nose instead? 🤦
Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Tony Hunt You have nothing better to do than troll for serial and child killers?
Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 1w
Shawn Palmi Yea, right! You have nothing better to do than protecting the actual killers!!! You know Im right, eat shit and die!!!
Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Tony Hunt What is in it for you? Of course your opinion means nothing, but let's say you get your wish and these killers are released and kill again, what do you have to gain? And what are rambling about eating 💩? Sure you can do that if you want to, but keep it to yourself please.

Reply

Tony Hunt · 1w
Shawn Palmi For one Im for the victims justice. And nothing has to be in it for me, Im not a greedy politician pedophile, money hungry evil fk! And what are you talking about "killers"

Reply

Reply to Tony Hunt...

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Mia McHaffey since the trial, after learning that LE lied under oath, after seeing Blairs sketch which she says is 10/10 who she saw, etc do you second guess your verdict? Im genuinely asking. Because I truly belueve he is the wrong guy

Reply 2

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray not at all. I don't think someone's interpretation of how someone looked in a split second in a seemingly unimportant situation at the time is enough "evidence" to cause reasonable doubt. I think that is a small nuance/detail that doesn't really deserve much though. When deliberating, I (I'll only speak for myself) only took substantiated facts into account. Anything surrounding a sketch is too subjective to hold much weight for me.

Reply 5

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Mia McHaffey so we convicted a man because he went for a walk wearing blue jeans? Thats truly scary

Reply 8

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray oh my bad I thought we were having an intellectual conversation lol

Reply 6

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w

Mia McHaffey im truly trying to understand what got you to guilty. I wasnt being smart, but zero DNA, fibers, hairs, nothing electronically linked him to the girls, in fact the state fought (and won) to keep out geofencing because it showed Richard Allen was at home at the crucial time. The state argued how unreliable geofencing is, which is weird as hell since its usually the state that uses geofencing to convict people.

Reply 2

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Tammy Allen McCray assuming he was convicted for his jeans is crazy, that's why you lost me. But it's odd, you'd think if any of that was factual, they would have brought that up even for a second in the appeal hearing. His phone was never found.

Reply 1

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w

Mia McHaffey correct, but the day after the girls bodies were found, he came forward & they had his imei etc. So they had his location data. And everything i said is factual. Unfortunately the jury wasnt allowed to hear it. I didnt mean to sound flippant, but mere presence isnt guilt. And thats all the evidence they had.

Reply 5

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w

Mia McHaffey Oh apologies, so the phone was important to you. How about the fact that they had his phone info back in 2017 and that info was sent to ISP? It's on the tip sheet they also marked him as "cleared."

So while no, he did not have the phone from 2017 anymore, he had it when he spoke to them the very first time and they took his phone data down. See photo.

I imagine you found that out by now, does that not concern you?

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Tammy Allen McCray the presence isn't guilt. The guilt comes from him clearly lying about seeing the girls, and he was wearing the same clothing a BG, as reported by him. I'll acknowledge that it's a common thing for men to wear, but there is zero information pointing to the fact that there was anyone else there wearing those clothes other than him. Only the killer would know about the van. Or at the very least, someone that was at the crime scene. It's him being there along with all of the other "coincidences". As much as presence doesn't confirm guilt, a various amount of circumstances pointing to his guilt doesn't confirm reasonable doubt. Inferences can be made without meaning there is doubt.

Reply 9

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Caitlin Marie Daugherty I wasn't aware that his phone date confirmed that he wasn't at the scene. If you could point me to where this information is, I'd be more than happy to look at it

Reply 6

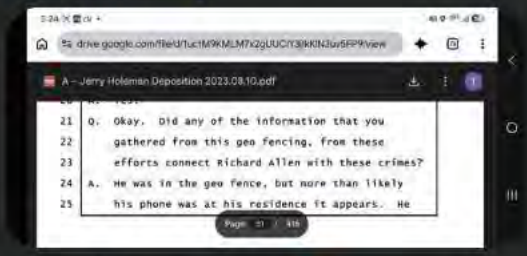

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mia McHaffey He didn't say he seen Libby and Abby

Reply 3

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tony Hunt correct. In fact, he said he didn't see the girls. Which would have been chronologically impossible if we believe the other claims that he made.

Reply 4

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Mia McHaffey

Reply 1

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Mia McHaffey the girls who testified were in a group of 4. Richard Allen said he saw a group of 3 girls. There were probably 75 people on the trails that day. And in fact a group of 3 girls who left a little earlier to go play basketball at the park.

Reply 4

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mia McHaffey He said he seen the three girls, not the victims.

Reply 2

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Mia McHaffey have you read the motion to correct error? According to the state the girls were dead by 2:32. Thats why the phone stopped moving. They also say Weber spooked him when he came home at 2:30 in his van. Problem is, there is surveillance video from another home showing that van heading down the road at 2:47 and connected with his house wifi at 2:52 So the van wasnt there to spook anyone at 2:30

Reply Edited 5

Tony Hunt · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray Bingo!!!
Reply 1

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tony Hunt I'm done arguing with you because you have the reading comprehension of a tomato.
Reply 2

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray 1- I don't think this alone proves anything. 2- his phone probably was left at home. 3- he said he was there so I don't get how this matters or proves anything other than that his phone was not with him
Reply 2

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Tony Hunt in all fairness, this cant be blamed on the jurors. So much was hidden from them. This is NOT how our justice system is supposed to work
Reply 4

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Mia McHaffey you may be correct. But the geofence does show 3 phones, aside from Libbys withing 100 yds of the crime scene.
Reply 4

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray was the motion granted? I have not seen it. But the thing is, anything can be said in a motion, but until there is something on the record, or a video or evidence that I can see, none of that proves anything for me. When it's something this serious, and so many people spew untruths, anything that will change my stance has to be substantive.
Reply 3

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray this is haven't seen. I only saw what you posed about Holeman saying he likely left his phone at home.
Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w

Tammy Allen McCray Agree, but you have one juror here supporting her verdict not knowing anything about this case? Shes definitely not a reasonable person and should never serve as a juror again, pretty scary! (How old is she 20 🧐)

Reply

TCC · 2w

Mia McHaffey so if I'm a man who enjoys walking trails I should avoid plain clothing and going to the trails when no one else is there or at the very least make sure someone is wearing what I wear. Got it.

Reply 1

Mia McHaffey · 2w

TCC you're conveniently picking specific comments out of a full picture. But go off lol

Reply 1

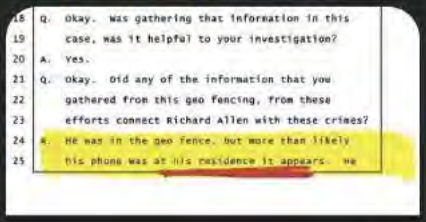

TCC · 2w

Mia McHaffey so what was the full picture then? You mentioned the clothes, the van, and that no one else that looked like him was there, right? So what else brought you to a guilty decision?

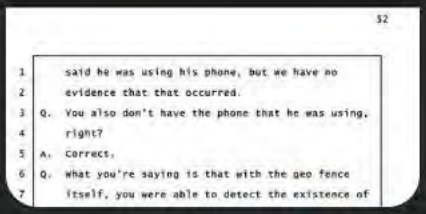

Reply 2

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w

Mia McHaffey Here's a depo from Jerry Holeman

Q. Okay. Was gathering that information in this case, was it helpful to your investigation?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did any of the information that you gathered from this geo fencing, from these efforts connect Richard Allen with these crimes?
A. He was in the geo fence, but more than likely his phone was at his residence it appears. He said he was using his phone, but we have no evidence that that occurred.

52

Q. You also don't have the phone that he was using, right?
A. Correct.
Q. What you're saying is that with the geo fence itself, you were able to detect the existence of

Reply 1

Leslie Walker · 2w

Mia McHaffey He didn't see the girls. He saw Herrera, Collier and Matta who were conveniently excluded from discovery to defense because prosecution "lost it". The second set of girls saw a different guy who was approximately 5'10" because he was taller than Reilly V (sp?) who was 5'7". RA is 5'4". He would be noticeably short to anyone who saw him. The state ran a scam of a trial and Gull was in on it.

Reply 3

Leslie Walker · 2w

Mia McHaffey There were approximately 16 people on those trails at the time. We all knew about the van all the way back from almost the beginning. That was not something only the killer would know. The state lied by 20 very important minutes as to what time the van came through to make it fit their lies. On top of that the creek was over 3 feet deep the day the girls were supposedly killed. No way did a 5'4" man and two 5'4" girls went through that freezing, rapid creek for him to all of a sudden rape, kill, undress, dress one, arrange their bodies and then the sticks to show up on the road for Sarah to see. On top of that in her original interview the guy was only muddy. It wasn't until years later her story changed and blood was conveniently added.

Reply

Leslie Walker · 2w

Tammy Allen McCray Yes, Herrera, Matta and Collier

Reply 2

Leslie Walker · 2w

Tammy Allen McCray 2:47 and 2:50.

Reply 2

Leslie Walker · 2w
Mia McHaffey So was a whole bunch of other people! He left by 1:30. His agreement to time is that he was there at part of the 1-3pm they asked about. So he said yes. But he was not there the entire time. He left by 1:30. He did not park at CPS. He parked on the other side of the highway. Not one person saw a short chubby man out there that was there. Daniel, Shelby, Cheyenne, Cheryl, both McCains were all out there at the time the girls were supposedly on the bridge. Daniel Pearson was standing on the bridge when the girls would have crossed. He did not see them. How is he and the girls on the bridge at the same time? This info is from phone records and witness interviews yet it was blocked.

Reply 4

Leslie Walker · 2w
Mia McHaffey He was watching the stock ticker while on the trails. The state doesn't want you to see any geofence that will prove he had left by 1:30. I'm sorry, but these people really messed with you guys and everyone else.

Reply 4

Theresa Steffens · 2w
Mia McHaffey in fairness the motion to correct error is on the record and does have video for you to see for yourself the time the van came home. The FBI agent that Judge Gull didnt allow to testify would have put Brad Webers "alibi" (because he was a suspect who was cleared due to the fact he wasnt home) on the actual trial record had he been able to testify.

Reply 4

Brooke Walters-Schmidt · 2w
Mia McHaffey - God help us all. JFC

Reply

Brooke Walters-Schmidt · 2w
Mia McHaffey - 1. He never said he saw the girls. 🤦‍♀️ He saw a group of THREE girls. Those 3 girls exist and were never interviewed . (Granted you weren't given that info so I will give you that.) And he never said he was wearing the same clothing. He said blue jeans, likely a black jacket, etc. Hell his blue Carhartt wasn't even purchased until AFTER the crime. 🤦‍♀️

Reply 1

Brooke Walters-Schmidt · 2w
Mia McHaffey - You need to watch Andrea Burkhart on YouTube and get the facts straight, as well as see how much information you didn't get.

Reply 1

Francis Gibson · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray It was highlighted that LE didn't lie under oath, Betsy blares sketch is subjective she is an older woman so would have seen a younger man and the girls are younger so would have seen an older man. that sketch looks nothing like Brad Holder so the defense shot themselves in the foot with that whole argument.
and yes they are arguing he was that sketch he waves it around like a child shouting "Brad Holder, Brad Holder"

Reply 2

Francis Gibson · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray stop spreading misinformation hand picking little things. Richard Allen didn't have his phone on him that day, the phone he gave to police was an older model the phone he had he destroyed before going to police he ran it over with a lawn mower READ KATHYS STATEMENT

Reply 2

Francis Gibson · 2w
TCC just don't kill little girls

Reply 1

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray You know Libby did take a picture of her killer. Go in Google images and search Delphi Bridge Guy. You can see for yourself what her killer looks like.

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray If you are honest that their is geofencing data proving he wasn't there, his defense would be screaming it, his family and friends also, and so would the girls friends and family as they would clearly want the correct person to pay for their crimes. So please explain how you know he was home?

Reply Edited 2

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w

Francis Gibson depositions are done under oath. In court testimony is under oath. If you read transcripts from different hearings, depos, and trial....lies are found. I dont think the sketch is Holder. But LE used the sketches to look for suspects, so it shouldve been allowed in at trial.

Reply 2

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w

Shawn Palmi I know from the geofencing that at the time the state says the girls were at the trail & were killed, Richard Allens phone was home.

Reply 3

Francis Gibson · 2w

Tammy Allen McCray sketches are subjective BB is older, the 3 girls are younger.
the point you make about there being 4 girls hasn't been contested by the defense or appellate so! you might want to educate yourself on minors and witnesses.
half of what you say is waffle Baldwin spouted and misinterpreting what you have.
the sketches like 3rd party have to be an exact depiction. correct me if I'm wrong (I'm not) BB was cross examined and asked about the sketch by the defense and said "it's a rough image of what I saw" 👈 not her exact words but you get the picture. That was the defenses chance to get the sketch in they failed. BH was at work, had that as his alibi aswell as his brother in law drove with him, Patrick Westfall was at him and around his home via his mobile data, Elvis fields wasn't even close enough to Delphi for them to legally check.
That leave the Klines Keegan was downloading CSAM in the house tony was around the neighborhood all day.
it's been 4 years coming into 5 and even though you people get debunked you run around shouting the same crap and it's tiresome now.
this will go to the supreme Court then you'll need to find a new child killer to defend

Reply 2

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
Francis Gibson oh so mobile data is accurate when we're talking about Westfall? The witnesses were a group of 4 girls. You know this.And how do we know where Elvis was? You don't find it even a little bit strange that he asked LE if they find his spit on 1 of the girls but he can explain it would he be in trouble?

Reply 1

Christy Sharp · 2w
Mia McHaffey What other claims ? Confessions ?

Reply

Francis Gibson · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray 1 was under the age to be a witness and saying you saw 3 isn't a big discrepancy. Elvis fields was with his carers visiting a friend at hospital that's a fact.
I haven't said anything about phone data being inaccurate but I will say out in the woods it is Steve a forensic expert went out and did experiments on the bridge and the crime scene and he pinged all over town. 😑 As Murphy originally stated before Ferency died, "sister was a drunk with pill bottles everywhere, her story changed Everytime and she couldn't produce anything she promised." about Elvis, "he seemed simple and asked a lot of hypothetical questions" once Ferency was killed him and click thought they could make a name for themselves click eventually fled the state because his dodgy police work caught up with him.

Reply 2

Tonya L Burris · 2w
Mia McHaffey wait.....was the whole "looking at the stock ticker" on his phone not true?

Reply

Kari DeBoe Hale · 2w
Mia McHaffey saying anything in a motion that is Not Factual is a violation just so you know. Lawyers can get themselves in big trouble for that. Ask your lawyer friends .

Reply 1

April Vasquez · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray
2:47 and 2:51.
I know you know this and I think your fingers hit the wrong buttons; as mine often do.
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Francis Gibson who mows their yard in February in Indiana?
He was only missing one phone, one phone destroyed by a lawnmower.
Prove he had a burner?
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Francis Gibson
Check out NM bragging about using 3 girls from the 4 girl group on Hidden True Crime.... This is not a secret.
If they can lie about this, they can (and did) lie about anything.
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Francis Gibson
Who needs an alibi when there is no true TOD?

How did Holder check into his gym at 1:41 pm on the 13th if he was on the clock at work until 2:45pm?
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Francis Gibson
Elvis Fields alibi was never confirmed. His phone sat from 10am to 7pm on the 13th without being touched.
He claims he was with Rod and Ned at a hospital in Muncie visiting a friend. It has been confirmed that friend was released before the 13th.
Elvis also said in his depo that he his a knife in his sisters camper for about 6 years and only took it out when she tore it down.
Holder owned a .40 S&W that was never tested.
All of this is in their depositions.
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Shawn Palmi Jerry Holemans deposition; read it. Actually, read all of them. They are quite eye opening.
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Francis Gibson
Brad Holder, the guy that was creating his own brethren at the time. They didn't limit themselves to Brad.
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Theresa Steffens
I actually feel bad for Mia and all of the jurors.
They had to base their verdict on what they were told/shown.
Personally, I see a ton of reasonable doubt even with what was heard at trial but I understand their decision.
I would be absolutely furious if I had been a juror who took a man's life away then came out to learn I was lied to about everything.
OR I would defend my decision because I couldn't handle facing the truth.
Reply 1

April Vasquez · 2w
Mia McHaffey
If you were to see the geofence; you would see when his phone appears in the area and no longer appears in the area.
It's not as simple as "he left his phone at home".
He went there, we know that. What is being disputed is what time he arrived and what time he left. The geofence clears that up. The defense did fight to have that admitted but the state fought back and won based on "privacy of others and the reliability of it". How can the state fight it based on reliability when they literally used it to locate and identify people that were in and around the area? Allen's lead sheet was marked cleared for a reason.

I thank you for doing your duty. I am sorry that you were forced to do so without hearing all of the facts.
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray
Do you have the screenshot of them saying that? I believe I still have it.
Reply

Tammy Allen McCray · 2w
April Vasquez I know. I forgot to edit
Reply 1

April Vasquez · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray
I assumed. I know that you know this case very well. 🤗
Reply

Francis Gibson · 2w
April Vasquez in the word of Leeman "brad holder Brad holder Brad Holder
Reply 1

Shelley Bray · 2w
Tammy Allen McCray a eyewittness can never be a 10 out of 10 . and to proove it , in court BB said the poofy hair she thought might of been some king of hat.
Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w
April Vasquez I read it and Holeman says he should up in the geofencing later that night. Wish they would have presented that at the trial.
Reply

April Vasquez · 1w
Shawn Palmi
He can say what he wants but the fact is; the geofence was over a twenty four hour period and Allen's phone goes in and out of the geofence. It will become public when it needs to.
Reply

Reply to Tammy Allen McCray...

Hannah Taylor · 2w

Mia McHaffey they didn't even tell you all the facts of the case. I don't understand how you all came with a guilty verdict. There is no evidence that says as magnetic except for his false confession that he did after he was in solitaire confinement for 13 months and being questioned for over like 30 hours.. I don't know this man, but I can tell you this I believe 100% the fan did not do it.

Reply 6

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Hannah Taylor I'm just gonna send this one back and ask that you do more research. Because the majority of your claims in this comment are false.

Reply 8

Leslie Walker · 2w

Mia McHaffey You are wrong. This man was tortured and drugged into confessing. He also confessed to cheating on a cigarette, starting ww3, killing his entire family including grandchildren he doesn't even have. He was eating and wearing his own poop. He was drinking out of a toilet. He was poking his own privates with a spork. His face and eyes were black where he was running head on into a wall. It's truly disgusting that the state and Gull got away with this. No one is safe as long as this is allowed to go on in a so called justice system. If you jurors really care about justice in this country you should want to fight for a fair investigation and a fair trial.

Reply 2

Brenda K. Simonton Kopka · 2w

Mia McHaffey I have no reason to lie to you... what you just said is factually wrong!! I take it you did not listen to the hearing on monday & how it seemed pretty apparent that even the judges were repulsed! and if you listen close you can hear the rally for Rick outside the courtroom screaming at the judges scorn. I can tell you a ton of things that you were NOT allowed to see, if you were truly a juror.. 💔 ..

AND I do not blame the jury! I truly don't!!.. all you knew is what you were dealt, although i think some of the jurors should have been able to see through some of the BS & consider that there has to be more than this... but the judge prohibited the defense from presenting their defense, that would've helped defend Allen...

(NO phone geofencing was allowed, NO 3rd party suspects that not only had the defense stumbled upon but the defense found out that an FBI task force had been investigating them for the crime for 3 years..

NO mention of any names of any person that police had spoken to previously, including the property owner..

NO mention of all the evidence that the state claimed they "lost" 😏.. or screwed up, no negative mention of the state whatsoever!..

NONE of the sketches that the state had used over the previous 6 years were allowed, per request by the prosecutor..

& so much more.. basically most of the states own work was hid from the jury!.. including the investigation into the odinists, which entailed the three-year investigation by an FBI task force team.

Reply 2

Reply to Hannah Taylor...

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w

Mia McHaffey So after reading some of your comments, I'm curious - what EXACTLY, for you, was what made him BG to you WITHOUT A REASONABLE DOUBT - if not confessions...bullet? Voice?

Reply 3

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Caitlin Marie Daugherty please see above comment

Reply 3

Reply to Caitlin Marie Daugherty...

Mike Sims · 2w
Mia McHaffey the judge already had her mind made up, who is she covering for?
Reply 7

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mike Sims Exactly!!!
Reply

Terry Young · 2w
One of Richard Allen's "peers" what a fruitcake! And SHE was a juror? wow
Reply

Reply to Mike Sims...

Brandy Ellis · 2w
Mia McHaffey so you managed to prove to everyone that you shouldn't have served on that jury. Not one Fact that he did it! Zero proof!
Reply 9

Brooke Walters-Schmidt · 2w
Brandy Ellis - I have lost all faith in humanity. 🤦‍♀️🤦‍♀️🤦‍♀️
Reply 1

Reply to Brandy Ellis...

Jodi Phillippo Stewart · 2w
Mia McHaffey I would ❤️ to know what evidence you did use for your decision. Also if you received any advice from the Judge on how to decide the case. I've never served as a Juror, so the process fascinates me. TY
Reply Edited

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Mia McHaffey did you not wonder whose semen is inside BOTH girls and whose male DNA was on both girls genitals and the one pair of underwear 😔. did the jury not care about whoever had there filthy paws all over both girls 😔 Justice for #AbbyandLibby 💙💜
Reply 1

Kevin Lucas · 2w
Mia McHaffey Debbie Slaughter Rowlison Frank Meister Gray Hughes TaRa German Becky Marchand Patty Susan Hendricks Hidden: A True Crime Podcast Aspen Conner Marvelous Marvin

Reply 1

Kevin Lucas · 2w
KevinÁine Greenlee

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Kevin Lucas hi áine & kevin 😀

Reply 2

Kevin Lucas · 2w
Mia McHaffey Thank you for both your jury service and coming forward.
👍🙏💜💙

Reply 1

Francis Gibson · 2w
Mia McHaffey Hi Mia I've sent you a private message I hope you don't mind

Reply 1

Kevin Lucas · 2w
Francis Gibson I'm sorry my tag of you and Tom Webster didn't go through.

Reply

Francis Gibson · 2w
Kevin Lucas you're ok buddy I hope you are well

Reply 1

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Mia McHaffey 😌😌💜💙

Reply

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Mia McHaffey 😌😌💜💙

Reply

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Mia McHaffey There is a memorial park built, maintained, and operated in their honor and memory. The scenic country campus is truly beautiful, even heavenly. Here is the now-defunct temporary beaming smiles double portrait billboard as seen shortly after the 2025 edition of Abby's Angels. I will be forever grateful to have had the opportunity to see with my own eyes, pay my respects, and photograph in person this angelic poster.
🎁🎁😌😌💜💙

Reply Edited

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Mia McHaffey The scholarship is seemingly now defunct, but its website hosts a precious set of portraiture. Thank you and your fellow jurors for getting this verdict right. 😌💜💙 https://impact.ivytech.edu/project/9663

Reply

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Francis Gibson I'm alright all things considered.

Reply 1

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Mia McHaffey A truly precious, priceless treasure for posterity! 😌💜💙 https://youtu.be/VwaV33U8UIs?si=pzoa3nocx_16fn1p

Reply

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Mia McHaffey The links are valid, they just seem to not hyperlink on the browser I'm using at the time of this writing. Here is a precious timestamp reference. 😌💜💙

Reply

Kevin Lucas · 2w

Mia McHaffey The timestamp references was humbly and respectfully shown only because the link wasn't obvious, not to be potentially problematic for anyone. 🙏💜💙

Reply

Kevin Lucas · 1w

Mia McHaffey Here is another dignified, respectful time stamp reference. Someday, many decades from now, you will hopefully get greeted by her like this precious image in the hereafter. 😌💜💙

Reply

Reply to Kevin Lucas...

Jamie Anderson- Wilkins · 2w
Mia McHaffey so please tell what evidence did you base your decision on?
Reply 2

View 1 reply

Anabella Maysen · 2w
Mia McHaffey Can I respectfully ask what did convince you beyond a reasonable doubt? Since the defense was not allowed to bring in evidence of third party suspects & yall never heard about the other men on the bridge, would that have made a difference?
Reply 3

Shelley Bray · 2w
Anabella Maysen what other men?
Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Shelley Bray there was lots of people there that day. Anna Williams said over 50! Here are a few I can remember off the top of my head - Daniel Pearson, Ron Logan, Dan/Dave McCain, Evan Fritz, a man with a little dog 🤦‍♀️. Abby and Libby also asked boys to go, one being Logan Holder (Brad Holders dad)
Reply

Mandy Salinas · 1w
Anabella Maysen I think this is the juror who spent all weekend looking for "unreasonable doubt". Good luck getting an answer out of her, she really just posted that she didn't believe the confessions or the ballistic, THAT'S REASONABLE DOUBT.
Reply 1

Shelley Bray · 1w
Classic Over Thinker ron logan was not there, neither was logan holder, daniel pearson after the fact , there was the guy with the dog but he didnt go to the brige nor was he dressed like BG. the only one over dressed like BG with the same outfit was RA.
Reply

Jessica Brehon · 1w
Shelley Bray Daniel Pearson, David McCain and Dave Riley were at the trails during this time period. Do you know what they were wearing ?
Reply

Shelley Bray · 1w
Jessica Brehon david mccain was wearing a flannel shirt, dave riley and daniel pearson tshirt and jacket
Reply 1

Jessica Brehon · 1w
Shelley Bray what kind of pants were they wearing? What color jackets?
Reply

Shelley Bray · 1w
Jessica Brehon they wasn't dressed like BG . they didnt have a mask over their face for one. and there was no guys on the trial or bridge during the abduction time of the girls. BUT RA was
Reply

Jessica Brehon · 1w
Shelley Bray you don't want to say they were wearing jeans? And perhaps blue or black jackets? David McCain testified he was at high bridge at the time of the kidnapping. He saw Daniel Pearson and Daniel Pearson saw him.
Reply Edited

Jim Cope · 1w
Mandy Salinas no, it isn't necessarily reasonable doubt. She would be the only one that knows why she voted guilty. Don't read into her statement anything that you don't know for certain.
Reply

Jim Cope · 1w
Classic Over Thinker you mean Brad Holders son. And we don't know if they actually asked any boys to meet them there. There is zero proof of that statement.
Reply 2

Kevin Lucas · 1w
Jim Cope Plus, Brad Holder's son was a good friend for and to Abby, and vice versa. Holders, both father and son, were not involved at all.
Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Jim Cope whoops yes Brad Holders son 🤣. you might want to read the transcripts, LE actually checked Logan's messages! Logan also messaged his dad - 'she's missing' ....?
Reply 1

Reply to Anabella Maysen...

Tonya Hatton · 2w
Mia McHaffey from interviews, it would seem that for most of the jury it came down to.. he was the only one there. Do you think it would've made a difference if the defense would've been allowed to present it's 3rd party culprit evidence? Such as, Libby had been catfished by a online predator and they were there that day because they were supposed to meet him. Do you think it would've changed things if you had been allowed to hear the defenses explanation of the sticks and placement of them and the connection to the odinist brad holder who was Abby's boyfriend's dad and all the crazy things he posted around that time?
Reply

Marissa Edens-Rosa · 2w
Mia May I ask why do you think there was not blood found in Richard Allens car?
Reply 1

Jim Cope · 1w
Marissa Edens-Rosa uh, because he had five years to scrub it and replace interior fabrics! Duh!
Reply

Marissa Edens-Rosa · 1w
Jim sounds 100% plausible, hahaha.
Reply

Reply to Marissa Edens-Rosa...

Kelsey Birkett · 2w
Mia McHaffey you were a juror on his first trial?

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w
I just want to say - I really appreciate the people with opposing views and opinions who were respectful and sympathetic. We are totally able to have opposing views and respect each other. The hateful rhetoric towards people that don't agree with you is so unnecessary. Whether you believe that Richard Allen is guilty or not, it can also be possible that both sides of this are made up of people who are just trying to do what they think is right. Support what they believe and feel passionate about. And that's okay. There doesn't have to be nefarious intent in opposing opinions. I know that I can speak for all of the jurors when I say that every single one of us took this very seriously. I promise you, when you're truly faced with something like this, you are not happy to write "guilty" down on that paper. It was a very emotional process for every single person involved. I know I will truly never be the same. Please take these things into consideration before making posts and comments. And most importantly, RIP Abby and Libby.

Reply 44

Ridge Nappier · 2w
Mia McHaffey what convinced you bridge guy killed the girls? For all I know he could have just been warning them not to fall off the hill? No hate just wondering

Reply 9

Christine Salzer · 2w
Mia McHaffey did you drastically change your appearance during trial? I was there every single day and don't seem to remember you. Where in the box did you sit? Also...if you really were a juror, there is proof on your profile that you broke the sequester order. The rules were pretty clear. Did one of the escorts allow it? If so, which one?

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Christine Salzer that's funny, I don't seem to remember you either. Please show me the proof on my profile I "broke the sequester order". I didn't have my phone, watch tv, or see my family for 3.5 weeks. But yeah, I'm just a random person claiming to have been on the jury. If you've looked back at my profile two years, you should've seen what I looked like then.

Reply 7

Christine Salzer · 2w
Mia McHaffey I sat second row, next to Bob Motta, Erica Morse, and Kathy Allen. You posted on Facebook in the middle of trial. 😐

Reply Edited 4

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Christine Salzer screenshot or it didn't happen 🤔 but yeah, I must've been too close to the front to notice you.

Reply 7

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Christine Salzer glad you were able to get a seat though!

Reply 5

Christine Salzer · 2w
Mia McHaffey I wasn't a spectator. I was there to do my job.

Reply 1

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Christine Salzer not too observant, I fear.

Reply 7

Ashley Marie · 2w
Ridge Nappier remember there's more to the video than what we saw.

Reply 1

Francis Gibson · 2w
Mia McHaffey she's one of the fake Pis the other one is on the run, her husband was just arrested as well for molesting a child. they aren't Pis they just run with any narrative

Reply 2

Angie Hopkins · 2w
Christine Salzer Mia McHaffey was sequestered and didn't have a device. Why would you put forth this lie? It's interesting that you don't recognize her, yet you were assisting Baldwin & Rozzi with Erica Morse. You literally sat at the front in a guaranteed seat as I saw myself daily.

Reply 6

Angie Hopkins · 2w
Mia McHaffey It was very obvious from Day 1 of trial how seriously the jury took their responsibilities. The questions put forth throughout trial, the stoic faces with very little obvious expression (except for those who cried during devastating testimony and viewing horrific exhibits) showed me how hard you all worked to fulfill your duties. The impacts of this case and this trial can never fully be explained to those who were not fortunate enough to bear witness. Justice was served. Thank-you for your public service. No matter what attacks may come at you now that you've outed yourself, just remember that there are many, many "guilters" who trust the conclusion that the jury reached when weighing the evidence against Richard Allen. He selfishly stole the lives of Libby & Abby, and has left indelible scars on so many. #JusticeforLibbyandAbby 💙💜

Reply 9

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Christine Salzer Christine where did you go? I'm still waiting on some proof of these defamatory claims 🤔🤔

Reply 2

Tony Hunt · 2w
Mia McHaffey Look who's talking!!! And you're not running the show! Im starting to believe your on some sort of mind altering medication, did they check all jurors to see if there were any mental diagnoses ? (They sure as hell should've !!!)

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Tony Hunt when did I ever say I'm running the show?? Also, it's so ironic how idiotic you sound and you don't even know it lol you'd think as someone who believes RA is innocent you would want people on the jury whom are are able to sympathize with mental health issues.

Reply 1

King Ron · 2w
Mia McHaffey yes, ty, and just maybe this division is by design. What better way to distract public attention from real criminals activities. And, speaking to the real criminals, you know who you are. Playing out as actors in a movie.

Reply

Caitlin Marie Daugherty · 2w
Mia McHaffey Thank you for having the nerve to speak, you're the only one who has, since your interview on Murder Sheet.

Reply

Lainey Marcum · 2w
Mia McHaffey you didn't pay attention to those things that you said why on Earth did you find him guilty

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Ashley Marie The video was released a few months after the trial? The Judge is still playing dirty and refusing to release other PUBLIC exhibits! If they are so convinced Ricks the right guy, I wonder why they are still hiding things??

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Mia McHaffey I really want to understand how/why the jury disregarded the DNA evidence? I don't mean to be disrespectful at all, I just honestly don't understand? There is male DNA on the girls genitals, breasts and the 1 pair of underwear that is not Ricks? Plus seminal fluid inside both girls 😞. Did the jury believe the girls were sexually active before hand (Which is fine if that was the thought process and I am NOT 'slut shaming' at all!)? Thats the only explanation I can think of? As the mother of a daughter this truly horrifies me and I want whoever had there filthy paws all over Abby and Libby locked up 😔. I would really like to reconcile this in my brain?? TY

Reply 😮😆 3

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Classic Over Thinker these claims just aren't factually true.

Reply 8

Shelley Bray · 2w
Christine Salzer no jury was allowed their cell phones you expect us to believe that. LOL

Reply 1

Shelley Bray · 2w
Christine Salzer so she is in her hotel room and?

Reply

Shiloh August · 2w
Angie Hopkins you're clueless huh??
Reply

Shiloh August · 2w
Ashley Marie no you saw the entire 45ish seconds of the entire video
Reply 2

Angie Hopkins · 2w
Christine Salzer wrong year
Reply 5

Shelley Bray · 2w
Angie Hopkins you got that right. maybe it will shut her up now about it.
Reply Edited 2

Christine Salzer · 2w
Shelley Bray at no point was I rude, so I'm not sure I understand your attitude. You're correct, I made a human error. For me, trial seems like yesterday, so I had the wrong year. My bad.
Reply 1

Shelley Bray · 2w
Christine Salzer i think its Mia u need to apologize to. accusing someone of something they didnt do , i found that rude. you just had to prove it and you didnt it backfired.
Reply Edited 4

Christine Salzer · 2w
Shelley Bray I made a human error. I acknowledged that. My apologies to Mia. Would you like a kidney, or are you satisfied?
Reply 1

Ashley Marie · 2w
Shiloh August no we didn't. It's a simple Google. Don't be stupid. Come on now.
Reply

Mia McHaffey · 1w

Christine Salzer thank you Kristine for such a genuine apology. It would be a little more believable if you weren't also posting screenshots with my name and photo on other groups accusing me of the same 😬

Reply 5

Christine Salzer · 1w

Mia McHaffey I only posted it once, and it was here. I would suggest a double check. 🤷

Reply

Shiloh August · 1w

Ashley Marie just gonna lie huh

Reply

Ashley Marie · 1w

Shiloh August what are you talking about? Did you just hit a crack pipe?

Reply

JohnJohn Faulk · 1w

Angie Hopkins Weighing the evidence ? It's hard to weigh hot air !

Reply 2

Shiloh August · 1w

Ashley Marie nah but I damn sure tagged the wrong person

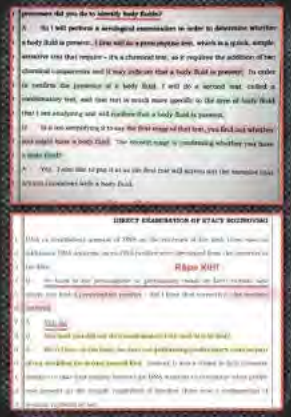

Reply

Bec Edwards · 1w

Mia McHaffey which part, I've read the transcripts so many times? There was lots of unidentified male DNA on the girls 😔. From the r8pe kits, BOTH girls swabs were presumptive positive for seminal material. Unfortunately the lab didn't bother doing the confirmatory tests or even lking at it under a microscope (apparently that's not part of there work flow 😔).

The presumptive tests do have an approx 10% false positive rate, however the chance of both tests being false positive when you add in the unidentified male DNA on the genitals and underwear would be under 1% 👧👧.

Why do you think LE refused to use a private lab to do the DNA testing that the state lab couldn't?

DIRECT EXAMINATION OF STACY KOZIOWSKI

R8pe Kit!!

Reply

Bec Edwards · 1w

Mia McHaffey please feel free to correct me if I'm wrong, I'm just a mother that is very concerned that unknown male dna on the genitals of girls and seminal fluid from cervical swabs could be rationalised as coming from the 'laundry' (per the government!).
What happens if a young girls claims SA, have all the above positive tests will LE just say it is from the laundry 🤬. It's a horrifying thought 😢.

Reply

Brad Begley · 1w

Ridge Nappier Did you not watch the video where one of the girls told the other girl he has a gun? Did you hear him say don't fall off the hill? No bc he clearly said guys down the hill while forcing them to go down the hill. Stop supporting that coward

Reply

Brad Begley · 1w

Lainey Marcum She found him guilty bc he is guilty DUH

Reply 1

Jessica Brehon · 1w

Brad Begley the audio says "this is the path that we go down". No one said "dat be a gun". Who talks like that? 🤦

Reply

Stacey Foltz Eisner · 1w

Classic Over Thinker these are lies

Reply 1

Christine Danger · 1w

Classic Over Thinker quit lying and making shit up. Disgisting.

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Mia McHaffey which part are you saying is untrue? Here is part of Stacy Bozinovski's testimony regarding the seminal material processes did you do to identify body fluids?

A. So I will perform a serological examination in order to determine whether a body fluid is present. I first will do a presumptive test, which is a quick, simple, sensitive test that require – it's a chemical test, so it requires the addition of two chemical components and it may indicate that a body fluid is present. In order to confirm the presence of a body fluid, I will do a second test, called a confirmatory test, and that test is much more specific to the type of body fluid that I am analyzing and will confirm that a body fluid is present.

Q. So is you simplifying it to say the first stage of that test, you find out whether you might have a body fluid. The second stage is confirming whether you have a body fluid?

A. Yes. I also like to put it as the first test will screen out the samples that are not consistent with a body fluid.

DIRECT EXAMINATION OF STACY BOZINOVSKI

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Christine Danger have you read the court transcripts?

processes did you do to identify body fluids?

A. So I will perform a serological examination in order to determine whether a body fluid is present. I first will do a presumptive test, which is a quick, simple, sensitive test that require – it's a chemical test, so it requires the addition of two chemical components and it may indicate that a body fluid is present. In order to confirm the presence of a body fluid, I will do a second test, called a confirmatory test, and that test is much more specific to the type of body fluid that I am analyzing and will confirm that a body fluid is present.

Q. So is you simplifying it to say the first stage of that test, you find out whether you might have a body fluid. The second stage is confirming whether you have a body fluid?

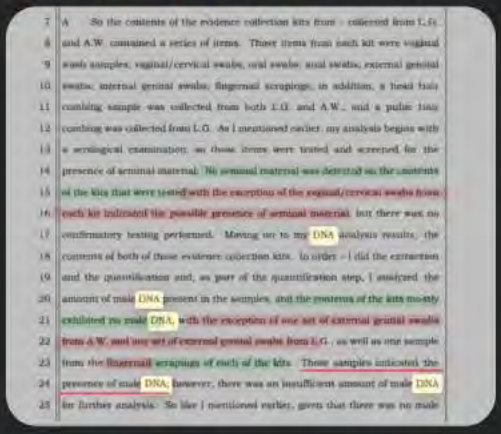

A. Yes. I also like to put it as the first test will screen out the samples that are not consistent with a body fluid.

DIRECT EXAMINATION OF STACY BOZINOVSKI

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Stacey Foltz Eisner testimony from Stacy Bozinovski ...

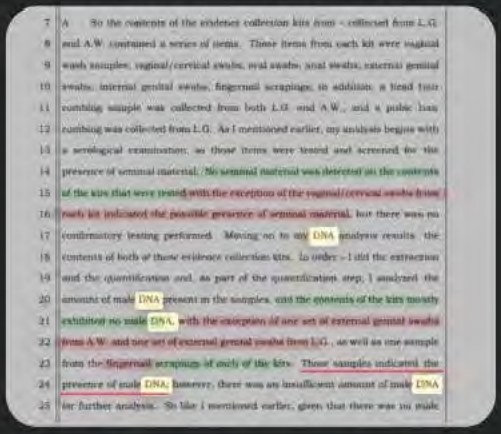

A So the contents of the evidence collection kits from – collected from L.G. and A.W. contained a series of items. Those items from each kit were vaginal swab samples, vaginal/cervical swabs, oral swabs, anal swabs, external genital swabs, internal genital swabs, fingernail scrapings, in addition, a head hair combing sample was collected from both L.G. and A.W., and a pubic hair combing was collected from L.G. As I mentioned earlier, my analysis begins with a serological examination, so those items were tested and screened for the presence of seminal material. No seminal material was detected on the contents of the kits that were tested with the exception of the vaginal/cervical swabs from each kit indicated the possible presence of seminal material, but there was no confirmatory testing performed. Moving on to my DNA analysis results, the contents of both of those evidence collection kits, in order – I did the extraction and the quantification and, as part of the quantification step, I analyzed the amount of male DNA present in the samples, and the contents of the kits mostly exhibited no male DNA, with the exception of one set of external genital swabs from A.W. and one set of external genital swabs from L.G., as well as one sample from the fingernail scrapings of each of the kits. Those samples indicated the presence of male DNA; however, there was an insufficient amount of male DNA for further analysis. So like I mentioned earlier, given that there was no male

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Mia McHaffey perhaps you should read the transcripts? Errors have been found in the transcript, do you believe this is incorrect?

A So the contents of the evidence collection kits from – collected from L.G. and A.W. contained a series of items. Those items from each kit were vaginal swab samples, vaginal/cervical swabs, oral swabs, anal swabs, external genital swabs, internal genital swabs, fingernail scrapings, in addition, a head hair combing sample was collected from both L.G. and A.W., and a pubic hair combing was collected from L.G. As I mentioned earlier, my analysis begins with a serological examination, so those items were tested and screened for the presence of seminal material. No seminal material was detected on the contents of the kits that were tested with the exception of the vaginal/cervical swabs from each kit indicated the possible presence of seminal material, but there was no confirmatory testing performed. Moving on to my DNA analysis results, the contents of both of those evidence collection kits, in order – I did the extraction and the quantification and, as part of the quantification step, I analyzed the amount of male DNA present in the samples, and the contents of the kits mostly exhibited no male DNA, with the exception of one set of external genital swabs from A.W. and one set of external genital swabs from L.G., as well as one sample from the fingernail scrapings of each of the kits. Those samples indicated the presence of male DNA; however, there was an insufficient amount of male DNA for further analysis. So like I mentioned earlier, given that there was no male

Reply

Monica Schneider · 1w

Mia McHaffey I agree with this and that he is guilty !

Reply

Reply to Mia McHaffey...

Breeun McNeil-Buhrkuhl · 2w
Mia McHaffey Thank you for your service. I know it must have been emotionally hard. If you don't mind me asking what juror number where you or what seat did you sit in.

Reply 9

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Breeun McNeil-Buhrkuhl #2

Reply 2

Breeun McNeil-Buhrkuhl · 2w
Mia McHaffey thank you. What juror # were you?

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Breeun McNeil-Buhrkuhl see above

Reply 3

Reply to Breeun McNeil-Buhrkuhl...

Brooke Walters-Schmidt · 2w
Mia McHaffey - Unbelievable that not a single person saw reasonable doubt in all of this. No DNA. Betsy Blair sketch doesn't match Richard Allen. Bullet is BS science. The list is absolutely endless. Sarah's sketch was influenced by still photos of BG. God help us all!

Reply Edited 3

Christy Sharp · 2w
Brooke Walters-Schmidt Jurors never saw the sketches, Gull denied it.

Reply

Shelley Bray · 2w
Christy Sharp they said this was not a DNA trial. state proved their case, all they had to do was prove RA was BG and they did it with the help of RA own statements. MIC DROP . and it was minus his own so called fake psychosis statements.

Reply

Shelley Bray · 2w

who do u think the sketch not a pic. but sketch looks like?this is Brad Holder during that time

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Christy Sharp even without the sketches the whole trial was reasonable doubt.

WHOSE MALE DNA IS ON THE GIRLS GENITALS AND SEMINAL FLUID IS INSIDE BITH GIRLS!

Reply 1

Reply to Brooke Walters-Schmidt...

Nana Foster · 2w
Mia McHaffey thank you for getting it right. Sorry you have to deal with the b@tsh*t crazy Crime QAnon conspiracy loons who think 1% possibility = 99% fact, and 99% fact is only 1% plausible.
The whole headphone jack saga was outrageous and didn't even prove anything regarding his guilt/innocence. Water damage plain and simple, and sad that state experts ultimately dropped the ball on that.
Did you dig into this case more after trial, or were you D-U-N done? You know that his phone never pinged at the trail, disproving his lie about being online looking at a stock ticker (his phone was either turned off/in airplane mode unable to access any online stock ticker/or left behind at home). And of course the only phone missing from the pile of phones he had kept. I can't remember the exact reason the cell tower ping/google geofence info wasn't allowed at trial, but I remember an interview McLeland did where he said it was a tit for tat legal procedure thing that would've opened the door for defense to bring up other evidence at trial that would've just confused the jurors.

Reply 4

Mia McHaffey · 2w
Nana Foster 100% about the pile of phones. People don't mention that often. They had every phone they've ever owned since the 90s, but not that one 🤔

Reply 2

Claire Ceci · 2w
If you were really on this jury, didn't you think it was suspicious at all that Judge Gull did NOT allow his defense team to show any evidence? Something very fishy and wrong happened in this Delphi, Indiana case and MILLIONS of us are questioning it.

Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Claire Ceci They were paid off before they even set foot in that court room, and they will be exposed "shortly" and be in "jail"

Reply 1

Nana Foster · 2w
Claire Ceci you should learn what nexus means

Reply 2

Claire Ceci · 2w
Nana Foster Whatever.
Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Medication time!!!
Reply

Reply to Nana Foster...

Robert · 2w
Mia McHaffey The judge and the state purposely kept so much from you. None of you were able to make an informed decision. They lied about the timeline, they lied about the bullet, they lied about Rick saying he was BG, they lied to get an unwarranted search warrant. They lied about nearly everything.
Reply Edited 3

Turk Payton · 2w
Mia McHaffey would the evidence of the ritualistic pagan sacrifice of swayed you in any way, or the evidence of the fact that one of the states witnesses would have testified that he is not the person that she saw
Reply Edited 3

Nana Foster · 1w
Turk Payton why did it sway you? Odinists don't sacrifice caucasian female children. Not even the defense's expert could say what runes the sticks were without misinterpreting. It wasn't "Hail Odin"; it was a Hail Mary SODDI defense. All the 'Odinist' suspects blamed by defense had solid alibis. There was no nexus linking anyone but RA to the crime.
Reply

Turk Payton · 1w

Nana Foster then why were the bodies placed in a ritualistic pattern with runes? Also, why would you think being Caucasian would make any difference in a ritualistic sacrifice that's a little racist don't you think? Pagans sacrificed other pagans and non-pagans it didn't matter the color that has nothing to do with it. What about the other evidence the bullet that was never fired that is one of the most common rounds in the United States. What about the woman's testimony and her description of a young curly haired man these are all things that the jerrry needs to hear he may he may not have done it he didn't do it by itself is my opinion if he did it , but you have to look into that they wouldn't have been placed in a ritualistic manner if it wasn't some sort of sacrifice sorry you're not an expert, and the states experts will testify to whatever the state wants them to testify to

Reply

Reply to Turk Payton...

Tony Hunt · 2w

Mia McHaffey You don't know anything about this case, nothing like I do!!!

Reply 4

The comment Mia McHaffey is replying to has been deleted.

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Adam Hanabarger and why is that?

Reply 1

Lorinda Cearing · 2w

Mia McHaffey I am not insulting your decision, but I will say without transparency in a trial, and only circumstantial evidence which even the Attorney General of IN even stated that on TV. It is also the responsibility of the jury to rule without a doubt. I do not believe that happened. Such a critical thing as a brutal murder of 2 little girls, and a person looking at their entire life behind bars for something they may have not done, because every single thing the defense wanted to talk about was denied ! This ma's trial was not fair and neither was his pretrial detention environment. Like judge Brown said : You protected him into psychosis.

Reply

Barbie Mitchell · 2w

Mia McHaffey Do you know you and 11 others convicted a 100% innocent man who they tortured in a maximum security prison to the point where he went into psychosis and all this was as a pre-trial detainee? There are hundreds of thousands of people all over the globe fighting for justice for this man. I honestly could not live with myself if I convicted an innocent man and then researched the case after the trial finding out he had nothing to do with it. I would join the fight to help Free Richard Allen, that's the least you can do before this innocent man dies in prison!

Reply

Margo Davis · 2w

Mia McHaffey then what evidence if you were a true juror did you convict him on please explain

Reply

JohnJohn Faulk · 2w

Please share your reasoning to vote guilty minus all conversations and what is left ? He tried to help by saying he was there but didn't see anything that stood out , did you watch his 1st interview then the 2nd interview was a set up for Jerry Holeman to pin it on with nothing but a bullet casino that had to be fired and only then did she eliminate Brad Webers gun , but its wrong to do it like that , then she destroyed the gun , and that's wrong but the worst thing they did is take an innocent man a put him into solitary confinement for 13 months allowing Odinists guards to watch him.

Reply 2

Nana Foster · 1w

JohnJohn Faulk the witnesses on the trail cleared the trail from noon to 2:15 and only saw RA. They saw him arrive at 1:30 and the digital metadata proves it. Then 20 minutes later Betsy saw him (from 100 feet away!) on the bridge platform just minutes before the girls got to the bridge. 1000% no way it was anyone other than RA.

It waa blaringly obvious RA lied about his altered time of noon to 1:30 during his interview/interrogation; to conveniently remove himself from the crime scene. But the metadata don't lie

Reply 1

JohnJohn Faulk · 1w

Nana Foster Mysteriously Rick's 2017 phone became missing because the GPS data would've cleared him at home asleep on couch , but I'm sure the physical phone is not mandatory to go back to his carrier and extract his phone and clear this man he is innocent , and I got a feeling the 2 women judges agree that Rick did not get a fair trial "and my prediction is they vote 2 - 1 and grant new Trial .

Reply

Nana Foster · 1w

JohnJohn Faulk herein lies your problem- you ignore the d@mning evidence in favor of unsubstantiated stories that can't make sense if you acknowledge the evidence. Metadata already proved he wasn't home sleeping on his couch. Metadata also proved he was never online looking at his stock ticker (another lie he told)

Reply Edited

Reply to JohnJohn Faulk...

Jessica Brehon · 2w

Delphi docs collected all the mentions of a van from far before Wala's "confession". We heard about a van in 2017

https://www.reddit.com/r/DelphiDocs/comments/1gpizrn/white_van_sightings/

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 2w

Ron Logan wore the bridge guy costume on the news and the FBI found out he arranged a fake alibi before the girls were found and his cell phone pinged at the crime scene.

His search warrant with the evidence from the FBI here: https://www.reddit.com/r/DelphiDocs/comments/utczd5/the_search_warrant_affidavits_for_ron_logans/?share_id=6B8tVmcBnfKmEpaJLEHHp&utm_content=2&utm_medium=android_app&utm_name=androidcss&utm_source=share&utm_term=1

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 2w

Webers van is seen on the neighbors camera entering the private drive at 2:44pm.

The state claims the girls were killed at 2:32pm.

How could the killer be spooked by a van that doesn't arrive for another 15-30 mins?

Screenshot on cctv here:

https://www.reddit.com/r/DelphiDocs/comments/1i6jof3/richard_allen_motion_to_correct_error_and_hearing/

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 2w

The landowner wearing jeans and a blue jacket and a hat, whose cell phone puts him at the crime scene during the crime.

Reply

Mia McHaffey · 2w

Jessica Brehon looks like different color jackets to me

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w

Jessica Brehon The color of the jacket is a different shade. And I'm not sure if BG is wearing a hat. But he jeans, LE should have arrested any man from Delphi who owned jeans, right?

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 1w

Mia McHaffey BGs jacket doesn't look like a black carhartt jacket at all though, which is what Rick said he wore in the first interrogation.

Did you read the Ron Logan PCA I linked you? Or the records of van sightings going back to 2017? The CCTV of Webers van arriving home 15-30 mins after the states TOD?

What do you think of "dat be a gun" now that we've heard the video ourselves where Libby says "this is the path that we go down" ?

Reply Edited

Jessica Brehon · 1w

The states TOD is 2:32, Weber enters the end of the private drive at 2:44pm and arrives at his house at 2:51pm.

Court docs w/exhibits including video of above cctv here: https://www.reddit.com/r/DelphiDocs/comments/1i6i10q/five_motions_filed_by_allen_on_correcting_errors/?share_id=4NuMmLguiMEGDAolbN5AX&utm_content=1&utm_medium=android_app&utm_name=androidcss&utm_source=share&utm_term=1

Reply Edited

Reply to Jessica Brehon...

Jessica Brehon · 2w

Mia McHaffey how do you feel about the state claiming that Libby said "dat be a gun", now that the bg video has been released and we all heard it was actually "this is the path we go down"?

Reply

Peter Barraclough · 2w

Mia McHaffey I think he's guilty, you got the right verdict. However the judge was biased and he didn't get a fair trial. I loved his defence lawyers as they genuinely cared and tried. Yet they made many mistakes. Webers van in video wasn't mentioned by them. They should of got the sketches in. @mia machaffey what did you think of Kathy, his mother and daughter, do you think they beloved he's innocent. They must of known.

The bullet shouldn't of been allowed in as they needed to fire it, and if it allowed in then the defence witness shoukd fo Benn able to testify. Judge gull was atrocious. The state shoukd of had this case solved after a week. Yet holeman got a promotion 😂

Reply 2

Brandy Ellis · 2w

Cassie Gaylor he matches BG more than anyone. And he resigned 🤔

Reply

Melissa Martin · 2w

Mia McHaffey then what exactly did you take into consideration bc that's all they had..??

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 2w

Mia McHaffey any thoughts on Webers van is seen on the neighbors camera entering the private drive at 2:44pm.

The state claims the girls were killed at 2:32pm.

How could the killer be spooked by a van that doesn't arrive for another 15-30 mins?

Screenshot on cctv here:

https://www.reddit.com/r/DelphiDocs/comments/1i6jof3/richard_allen_motion_to_correct_error_and_hearing/

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w

Jessica Brehon How would the state know the exact time of death? This can't be accurate.

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 1w

Shawn Palmi they don't actually. This is the TOD that they presented in the trial that Mia believes is true. She says the van confession convinced her (while also saying she didn't consider any confessions in her verdict) and asked for anyone with contradictory info to provide it. She's twice ignored my question about Weber not coming home for 15-30 mins after states TOD though.

Reply Edited

Shawn Palmi · 1w

Jessica Brehon Are you sure? How can they present an exact time of death? Whomever said that is either psychic, was there that day, or is an idiot. Or you're wrong and the state didn't present an exact time of death.

Reply

Reply to Jessica Brehon...

Jessica Brehon · 1w

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 1w

Mia McHaffey Do you think this 10/10 sketch of a young tall beautiful man looks like Richard Allen?

Reply

Mandy Salinas · 1w

Mia McHaffey Ma'am, that right there is what is called "reasonable doubt."

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 1w

The FBI says that Ron Logan's phone shows he was at the crime scene at 7:36pm and 10:16pm

21. During her March 8, 2017 interview [redacted] told LEOs when she first saw the photograph of the suspect she thought the police were looking for LOGAN because she thought the photograph was LOGAN. [redacted] did not initially realize that the photograph was that of the suspect.

22. A cell phone using LOGAN's cell phone geofenced cell tower data that places LOGAN's cell phone appears to be in or around his property on February 13, 2017 at 2:00 pm. Although his exact location cannot be confirmed, the tower data shows that LOGAN's cell phone was in the Delphi area at the area of the Monon High Bridge Trail.

23. An analysis of LOGAN's cell phone data revealed a text message sent from his phone at 7:36 pm on February 13, 2017. Initial exam of this analysis indicates LOGAN's phone was likely outside of his residence and in the proximity of where LG and AW's bodies were located.

24. An analysis of LOGAN's cell phone data revealed a text message received by his phone at 10:16 pm on February 13, 2017. Initial exam of this analysis indicates LOGAN's phone was likely outside of his residence and in the proximity of where LG and AW's bodies were located.

25. LOGAN met with LEOs on or about February 13, 2017 while they were on his property. LOGAN was physically able to get up and down the Hill from his house to the crime scene.

Reply

Jessica Brehon · 1w

David McCain was taking photographs at the bridge for 1/2 an hour between 2-3pm

https://drive.google.com/file/d/11mnooHg_SFHBgRywLFbm4-u_J4F_u1fn/view

DIRECT EXAMINATION OF DAVID MCCAIN

Volume: 05, Page: 24

Reply

Ronda Susan · 1w

Mia McHaffey The timeline is all you need. Glad you and the other 11 were smart enough to know that. His wife's reaction was also damning. In the last police interview. Sobbing, almost scared. 'You never told me you were on the bridge that day'. Hmm process of elimination. Richard Allen was Bridge Guy. And Bridge Guy killed the girls. 🙏

Reply

Stacey Foltz Eisner · 1w

Mia McHaffey thank you for the hard work you and each juror did in weighing the evidence and coming to a verdict all felt confident with. I'm confident justice was served.

Reply 2

Caron Williams · 1w

Mia McHaffey so what did you base your decision on? There was fuck all evidence against him. You previously said if not him who else. It's bizarre that you think that way yet work as a paralegal

Reply

Jim Cope · 1w

Mia McHaffey I sincerely thank you for your time and service to serving justice for these girls. I truly do believe that justice has been handed down. I know this whole trial had to be a real traumatic ordeal and I can't even imagine some of the things you had to see, the nightmares you've endured. I hope and pray that somehow you've found a way to cope with it all. I can guarantee you that the families of these two little girls appreciates everything that you and the rest of the jurors had to endure. We owe you a debt of gratitude. Pay no attention to the little Ricky fan group. They'll stick by his side no matter what, and nothing you say will change their minds. God bless you and your family.

Reply 2

V.R. Ritchie · 1w

Mia McHaffey lol you were not

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

I'm sure you've seen all of this by now 🤦‍♀️

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 6d

Mia McHaffey https://youtu.be/bMBvknMz5wQ

Reply

Leigh S. Lovell · 3d

Mia McHaffey how influential was the bullet they found at the scene in your decision? They were unable to replicate the markings on the evidence bullet with his gun by just ejecting the round. So, they fired rounds then claimed fired casings matched the unfired round. The metallurgist was not allowed to testify (denied by the judge). Allen's DNA wasn't found nor were his fingerprints. The bullet was not even found at the time the bodies were.

As a firearms enthusiast, hunter, and with experience in reloading ammo, I find the state's claims and "evidence" that it matched his firearm sketchy at the very least.

Extractor marks are often used to determine type and model of firearm - Glock, sig, Beretta - obviously caliber and sometimes can narrow down production range. Unless the firearm has unique wear the FBI, NIST, Foundation of firearms and Tool Mark Identification, amongst other entities entrenched in all things firearms and ammunition all agree that extraction marks alone rarely point to a specific firearm.

Since the firearm taken from Allen is one of the most popular firearms in the US, and the other firearms taken and tested in this case were not even tested the same way, I simply don't believe the round matched his weapon based on their testing and evidence presented. Their testing method was flawed. They also didn't fire the other guns they tested. His was the only one fired.

It's been a while since I read trial transcript so I can't recall how much if this was discussed in trial.

Sorry for the long winded post. Just wondered how much the bullet came into the guilty verdict.

Reply 1

Reply to Mia McHaffey...

Lorinda Cearing · 2w

Question : #1 The bullet was found in between the bodies ? #2 The bullet was found in his house in a mens collection box ? # 3 The bullet grew legs and walked to both places ?

Reply Edited 28

Marcia Mahony · 2w

Sigh. He wasn't tortured. His lawyers put on a vigorous defense, introduced lots of evidence. Just not what was inadmissible.

Reply 5

Shannon Van Zee · 2w
Marcia Mahony if it wasn't horrific, then why was the sound removed?
Reply 6

Melissa Southern · 2w
Lorinda Cearing THIS!! Westville is one of the most ran down & dangerous prisons in Indiana!
Reply 2

Susan Burrows · 2w
Marcia Mahony Have you ever been inside a prison? I have as staff and visitor. There is a lot more than torture that goes on in a prison!
Reply 2

Lorinda Cearing · 2w
Melissa Southern Exactly why it was chosen imo.
Reply 2

King Ron · 2w
Marcia Mahony so you were there?
Reply

Marcia Mahony · 2w
King Ron Nope. Just someone who paid attention to the facts of this case.
Reply

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Michele Wood · 2w
Lorinda Cearing
That's not what happened at all.
Reply 3

King Ron · 2w
Melissa Southern you might be explaining to an artificial entity. This page is riddled with Ai hecklers.
Reply

Kathy Hicks · 2w

Melissa Southern of all the evidence presented- the bullet, his lies, his confessions, the video, the sightings- what makes it someone else's crime (that there's no evidence of) than it NOT be his?

Reply

Melissa Southern · 2w

Kathy Hicks plenty of people have admitted to this crime! But were let go! RON LOGAN & his bogus Alibi which he's dead now can't be charged but his property is where the girls were found!

Also BRAD HOLDER & his alibi of being at work but why did he run off the stand when being questioned?? To come back the next day to go back on stand?

Also why were the 2 sketches presented in court? When EVERYONE IN THE WORLD WAS LOOKING FOR THESE 2 MEN!!! 🤔

Why wasn't the unspent bullet found the day the girls bodies were found? Nothing has ever been said about it until they search RA's home! Oh then BAM.... There's a bullet!!

Also PLEASE TELL ME SINCE WHEN DO MURDERERS CALL & STATE THEY WERE AT THE SCENE???

With just the "evidence" that's was presented in court... STILL HAS ALOT OF DOUBT!! No way the jury didn't get paid off to find this guy GUILTY BEYOND REASONABLE DOUBT!! This is WILD!

It was ELECTION YEAR IN CARROLL COUNTY! The sheriff needed a conviction the case had been open for 5 years & the prosecution barely has any evidence besides RA SAID HE WAS ON THE TRAIL THAT DAY!

Video of a man who is taller then RA WALKS WITH A LIMP (RON LOGAN) The county messed this whole case up since DAY 1!

RA did not get a fair trial GIVE HIM ONE AND WATCH HIM WALK FREE!!

Justice for Abby & Libby!!

FREE RICHARD ALLEN

Reply

Melissa Southern · 2w

King Ron ohhh... makes sense but I never check profiles 😂 guess I should start 😀

Reply

King Ron · 1w

Melissa Southern it's estimated over 80% on social media are bots now. I still catch myself falling for it sometimes but then my pattern recognition psyche kicks in. 😆

Reply

Reply to Michele Wood...

Jason Haynes · 2w

Lorinda Cearing the bullet found at the scene had been cycled, meaning, it was loaded into the chamber and ejected without being fired. This happens when you "rack the gun", and is typically done when you want to ensure there is no round in the chamber when storing, or when a round becomes jammed. But in this case, it is speculated that he "racked" the gun to instill fear in the victims into following his orders.

Reply Edited 1

Classic Over Thinker · 2w

Jason Haynes except the state says he racked the gun at the end of the bridge during the 'down the hill' 43sec video, yet claim the racked cartridge was found in-between the girls? Hence why it is called the 'magic bullet'.

Reply

Jason Haynes · 2w

Classic Over Thinker the state did not argue he racked the gun on the bridge. Richard allen made a statement about "doing something with the gun" at the end of the bridge but its unclear if he meant at the crime scene or on the bridge. Its also possible he racked the gun more than once, or that the first time there was no bullet in the chamber. Regardless, the bullet was found between the two victims. It was documented the day they processed the crime scene. Nice try though.

Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Jason Haynes it was also initially reported to be found on the Fri! Either way it did not match Ricks gun when just racking it. whereas Ron Logan and Brad Webers guns could NOT be excluded. The state wasn't happy with this so they fired ONLY Ricks gun 5 or 6 times and said 1 cartridge had sufficient agreement 🤔. Why do you think Gull wouldn't let the defence expert Tobin testify, because Tobin has crushed her 'I've never been wrong' testimony before 🤦. you don't have to believe me it's all in the transcripts but personally I never trust someone that says they have never been wrong, like Obergs lie! Maybe that's why she's moved on to insurance now?

Reply

Reply to Jason Haynes...

Steve Gilmore · 2w

Concerning this mysterious bullet. An unspent 'supposedly' cycled bullet laying there. Why? The girls were killed with something sharp. Why wouldn't Gull allow a FBI expert testify about the bullet for the defense.

Reply 6

Steve Gilmore · 2w

Terry Young what was it

Reply

Steve Gilmore · 2w

Jessica Dawn I know that

Reply

Reply to Steve Gilmore...

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Lorinda Cearing The evidence at trial was that it matched because the rounds had been in HIS gun. Not any similar gun. HIS gun.

Reply 6

Steve Gilmore · 2w
Marcia Mahony And the Gull wouldn't allow a FBI expert testify for the defense concerning the bullet.

Reply 4

Mary Beth Yemma · 2w
Marcia Mahony you can't compare an unspent round with a fired round. That is how the forensic person "tried to make them match" she tried every way she could but finally fired it and tried to make it look like a match. Two different things.Junk science. Doesn't work that way!

Reply Edited 6

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Marcia Mahony Thats incorrect. 1 - In tool mark analysis you cant state something is a match, its - sufficient agreement. 2 - Ron Logan and Brad Webbers firearms could not be excluded! Ricks gun was EXCLUDED when the cartridge was just cycled, so Oberg decided to fire ONLY Ricks firearm 5-6 times and 1 of those cartridges Oberg claimed sufficient agreement, even though RL & BW's firearms could not be excluded🤔. Another Judge excluded Tobin from a trial, just like Gull, and the verdict was overturned on appeal just by excluding Tobin!

Reply

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Melissa Southern · 2w
Lorinda Cearing ORRR... the UNSPENT BULLET WAS PLANTED THERE AFTER THEY SEARCHED RA's home.... N that was just part of the corruption of placing something there when it wasn't there in the beginning!! All to get a conviction!!

It's been a shit show of prosecution... which is about right for CARROLL COUNTY!!
They had 5 YEARS TO BUILD A CASE & pretty much have nothing & blocked all actual evidence from being submitted in court!!

JUSTICE FOR LIBBY & ABBY!!

Reply 6

Susan Burrows · 2w
Melissa Southern No documentation or chain of comnand in real time on that bullet! Science has already disproved the theory of matching an unspent round to a specific gun! I believe that bullet was planted after the unconstitutional search of his home! Bring Justice back to the legal system in Carroll County! ⚖️

Reply 2

Melissa Southern · 2w
Susan Burrows AGREED!! 💯

Reply 1

Claire Ceci · 2w
I do have a question...how many cases in our history have actually had corrupt judges? Cause it just doesn't make sense to me that Judge Gull would NOT let the defense team present their evidence. And also why did she try to take Richard Allen's attorney's off the case? These are important questions that really should be answered via an appeal as well, unless "someone" is trying to hide something or "cover up" something.

Reply 2

Reply to Melissa Southern...

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Lorinda Cearing Nope. The rounds found at the scene matched the rounds from his gun at home.

Reply 6

Danny Thomas · 2w
Marcia Mahony It matched thousands of guns!!!

Reply 20

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Danny Thomas Nope. The evidence at trial was that it matched HIS gun. In order to introduce expert evidence, it has to meet the Daubert standard, and defense's evidence did not.

Reply Edited 3

Angela Murphy · 2w
Marcia Mahony research the trial

Reply 4

Lorinda Cearing · 2w
Jo Schultz Well if you fire through their gun it will match, they put the marks on the bullet which is corruption in my eyes.
Reply 3

John Staver · 2w
Marcia Mahony What the forensic examiner testified to is not what her report scientifically concluded. Richard Allen's firearm did not provide sufficient markings to allow for comparison to the bullet recovered at the crime scene. People are easily duped. Some just enjoy the tales of a lying tongue.
Reply 10

Leslie Kingston · 2w
Extractor/Ejector Marks: The metal hooks that pull the casing out of the chamber and throw it from the gun leave specific scrapes and stamps on the side and rim.
Reply 1

Lorinda Cearing · 2w
Marcia Mahony They were just bullets that millions of people buy. Of course it matched. Why would someone buy bullets that would not work in their gun ? 🙄
Reply 6

Lorinda Cearing · 2w
Leslie Kingston I would love to see more proof of that, so lets get the man a fair trial so we can all see the proof instead of blocking camera's, blocking the media, trying to fire peoples lawyers, denying entry of anything the defense had to say or show the court. It was a one sided trial. Unconstitutional plus the torture the man went through while he was suppose to be kept safe.
Reply 10

Leslie Kingston · 2w
As I recall the police went to the media asking for help. Snap Chat killer, is the original name of Bridge Guy
Reply 2

Mike Sims · 2w
Lorinda Cearing the complete trial was corrupt!
Reply 5

Mike Sims · 2w
Marcia Mahony it was only 1 round
Reply

Courtney Hayden · 2w
Marcia Mahony how doe it match if its unspent
Reply 1

Leslie Kingston · 2w
Lorinda Cearing after that... if he's found guilty again would you say there is still corruption?
Reply

Megan DeSanto · 2w
Marcia Mahony Funny, because Melissa Oberg's actual findings were "inconclusive" yet she testified at trial they were a match.

You're claiming her false testimony as fact, when it's actually a violation of the Federal Rules of Evidence (Best/Original) for her to have claimed that on the stand, constituting yet another in a long list of Napue violations Gull overlooked.

It is criminal Prosecutorial Misconduct to allow false testimony into trial.

The deeper you dig into each piece of evidence, the more State error you will find.

Also, she had to fire the round to produce markings even close to that on the unfired bullet.

And, in Richard Allen's confession, he stated he racked his gun at the top of the hill, which would not explain how it ended up where the girls were found, between them, lodged in the dirt.

Reply Edited

Megan DeSanto · 2w
Lorinda Cearing And Judge Gull refused to order the preservation of evidence. It's going to be hard to retry him if half of it's gone come that second trial.
Reply

Sandy Battles · 2w
Marcia Mahony which match the one police man in question. The judge in the appeals hearing said its a common size

Reply

Sandy Battles · 2w
Jo Schultz exactly

Reply

Shannon Van Zee · 2w
Marcia Mahony false. They could not get the unspent round at the scene to match an unspent bullet from his gun. So after shooting this that and the other multiple times there were similar characteristics.

Reply

Shannon Van Zee · 2w
Marcia Mahony no ma'am. There are LOTS of YouTubers that have been very involved with this case and the people of delphi. Fran Gull fought for the right to have cameras in the courtroom for transparency. But for this case she banned them...suspish. Due to that bs the channel CriminaliTy True Crime made several episodes of reading the court transcripts. If you want to know exactly what was said, including homie googling a question and coming back to the stand and testifying to what an iPhone chat group said regarding the phone having a record of someone putting headphones or something into the jack and taking it out HOURS after the girls were murdered.

Reply

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Brooke Gunderson · 2w
Lorinda Cearing no gun was used

Reply 3

Mike Sims · 2w
Lorinda Cearing you can't do ballistics on a casing , it was a un fired round

Reply 3

Frank Meister · 2w
Mary Nell Riley lmao.. the pic. The bullet was photographed bagged and tagged and dated and there's a picture of it to the day that they found it which was on 14 February.

Reply 1

Reply to Mike Sims...

Nana Foster · 2w
Lorinda Cearing the bullet in the keepsake box was a 'trophy' bullet pulled from his magazine that he didn't rack-eject onto the ground; not the same bullet found at the scene. A memento to remember his murderous experience

Reply 2

Lorinda Cearing · 2w
Nana Foster That bullet was NOT a trophy. You have no evidence of that. My husband had the same kind of box. With all sorts of small items in it. So he would not loose them. Watch, ring, pocket knife, change, business cards, etc... He put all kinds of stuff in there 🙄 Are you a psychic ?

Reply Edited 1

Nana Foster · 2w
Lorinda Cearing if you don't believe me, ask Mia- an actual juror- what a reasonable person would assume/infer after sitting in court everyday hearing and seeing the totality of all the evidence

Reply 2

Lorinda Cearing · 2w
Nana Foster That is another one of the main issues 🙄 the jurors NOT seeing evidence. No transparency . Duh 🙄 that will be brought up in the Supreme Court if he is granted a new trial.

Reply

Nana Foster · 2w
Lorinda Cearing WHAT EVIDENCE didn't the jury see? What magical evidence are you referring to?

Reply 1

Reply to Nana Foster...

Anthony Greeno · 1w
Lorinda Cearing two different bullets
Reply

Seneca Farnsworth · 2w
Lorinda Cearing You are assuming there was ballistic evidence that tied the bullet at the scene with ammo the defendant had, which there was not. An unspent cartridge that was chambered in the firearm has an ejection mark which is quite a bit different than the lands and grooves of a fired bullet. Using a cartridge mark is not sufficient to to identify a specific firearm. The bullet found at the scene can be found in hundreds of not thousands of Hoosiers homes and was the weakest piece of evidence the state had. An unfired bullet was not the smoking gun some people are imagining it to be.
Reply

Terry Young · 2w
Lorinda Cearing NO damn bullet! cartridge !
Reply

Mary Nell Riley · 2w
Terry Young they weren't shot were they???
Reply 1

Mike Sims · 2w
Mary Nell Riley no
Reply

Leslie Kingston · 2w
Terry Young Racking twice does not harm the gun. It's won't cause the weapon to fire or cause a jam.

Example. You rack the gun , a round is chambered.

You rack it a second time, the chambered round is ejected and a new round goes into the chamber.

You can empty a whole magazine just by racking the slide over and over and ejecting 1 bullet at a time.

This happens because the ejector catches the lip of the round as soon as its seated in the chamber. When you pull the slide back to rack again, the ejector ejects the round from the chamber clearing the chamber for the next round.
Reply

Leslie Kingston · 2w

Mary Nell Riley he racked the gun the first time when he ordered the girls "down the hill" after they went down the hill he ordered them to undress and he saw a white van drive pass. That startled Richard Allen and he ordered the girls across the creek. Once they were on Ron Logan's property that is where he attacked and brutally murdered them with a box cutter. He rack his gun a second time causing the bullet to eject from the firearm.

Racking twice does not harm the gun. It's won't cause the weapon to fire or cause a jam.

Example. You rack the gun , a round is chambered.

You rack it a second time, the chambered round is ejected and a new round goes into the chamber.

You can empty a whole magazine just by racking the slide over and over and ejecting 1 bullet at a time.

This happens because the ejector catches the lip of the round as soon as its seated in the chamber. When you pull the slide back to rack again, the ejector ejects the round from the chamber clearing the chamber for the next round.

Reply Edited

Terry Young · 2w

Leslie Kingston and NO ballistics! duh?

Reply

Reply to Terry Young...

Most Relevant is selected, so some replies may have been filtered out.

Reply to Lorinda Cearing...

Melissa Wilson · 2w

If they found evidence in his house why shouldn't it be used if he's not guilty then they shouldn't have found any evidence in his house right?

Reply 21

Jerry Lee · 2w

Melissa Wilson ever heard of planted evidence

Reply 13

Mike Sims · 2w
Melissa Wilson they found nothing in his home
Reply 4

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Melissa Wilson They didn't find any evidence at his house.
Reply 9

Brittany Shelby · 2w
Rhonda Blair Quintero so the bullet theory?
Reply

Billy Scales · 2w
Brittany Shelby nobody was shot and nobody saw a gun and nobody saw Rick Allen? I'm not saying guilty or innocent but this is crazy.
Reply

Jerry Lee · 2w
Billy Scales facts there's literally no evidence that points to his guilt
Reply 3

Shiloh August · 2w
Brittany Shelby the markings didn't match after being racked or when it was fired.
Reply 1

Mike Sims · 2w
Shiloh August they don't do ballistics on shell casings !
Reply

Brittany Shelby · 2w
oh ok. Thank you for explaining why!
Reply

Jerry Lee · 2w
Mike Sims actually they do
Reply

Shiloh August · 2w
Mike Sims they did at least 6 test on his gun.
Reply

Jerry Lee · 2w
Tim Ringle which is inadmissible
Reply

Jerry Lee · 2w
Tim Ringle oh plz people confess to murder all the time and yes even innocent people
Reply

Reply to Rhonda Blair Quintero...

Shiloh August · 2w
Melissa Wilson nothing in his home or car points to his guilt. I guess not everyone paid attention to this case.
Reply 5

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Shiloh August unfortunately some people just follow MSM 😢
Reply

Tim Ringle · 2w
Shiloh August he only had years to cover his tracks
Reply

Shiloh August · 2w
Tim Ringle yet he kept his job even stayed in Delphi.
Reply 1

Reply to Shiloh August...

Aimee Lynn · 2w
Melissa Wilson what evidence was found in his house? NONE.
Reply 1

Dan Biddle · 2w
Melissa Wilson ever heard of the constitution?
Reply 1

Brian Quinlisk · 1w
Melissa Wilson evidence could've easily been planted in case you didn't realize there were. These were Delphi cops that started this investigation and I wouldn't trust much of Indiana's please force it all mean all we have to do is look in our backyard and see how crooked it is.

Reply

Most Relevant is selected, so some replies may have been filtered out.

Reply to Melissa Wilson...

Joanne Healey · 2w
I gladly accept a new trial. I can't wait for the Odinist defense to come in. 😉

Reply 40

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Joanne Healey RIP Det. Greg Ferency 🕊️

Reply

Rick Gruss · 2w
Joanne Healey if you knew what happens out in those woods at night, you would think differently, quickly

Reply 12

Jeremy Lee · 2w
Rick Gruss the getters will get you?

Reply

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Rick Gruss What happens out there?

Reply 2

Kenny Catron · 2w
Rick Gruss, yes, what happens out there?
Reply 3

Reply to Rick Gruss...

Fransik Regina · 2w
Joanne Healey exactly if that doesn't work maybe they'll try aliens or the boogeyman
Reply 6

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Fransik Regina Or perhaps they can actually go out and find the real killer(s).
Reply 10

Tony Mayhew · 2w
Rhonda Blair Quintero please share why you think the wrong man was arrested and convicted. You must have information that the jury was given.
Reply 3

Libby Baca · 2w
Rhonda Blair Quintero THIS!! Isn't Justice if they get the wrong man...
Reply 3

Reply to Fransik Regina...

Marian Jean · 2w
Joanne Healey I really doubt that'll happen. There was no basis to pursue that or it would've happened
Reply 5

Joanne Healey · 2w
Marian Jean Exactly, that's why I left a 😉
Reply

Marian Jean · 2w
Joanne Healey I honestly didnt see that lol
Reply

Terry Young · 2w
Marian Jean not if it wasn't allowed
Reply 3

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Marian Jean The reason why it wasn't pursued is because Judge Gull refused to allow it.
Reply 7

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Marian Jean Exactly.
Reply

Kenny Catron · 2w
Terry Young if there's no basis to allow it, there's no basis to allow it. That's WHY it wasn't presented!
Reply 1

Kenny Catron · 2w
Calypso Scentflower, that sounds like a lot of conspiracy. Investigators stated that all suspects were looked at, and eliminated except for Richard Allen.
Reply

Kenny Catron · 2w
Rhonda Blair Quintero she didn't allow it, because there was no basis to allow it! 🤦
Reply 1

Terry Young · 2w
Kenny Catron There WAS a basis and Gull suppressed! Don't YOU want justice for those girls either. Seems like it. I want the whole story to get that.
Reply 3

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Kenny Catron No, she didn't allow it, like so many other things, because she was biased agaibst RA from day 1.
She should be removed from the bench.
Reply 2

Amy Kilpatrick · 2w
Kenny Catron that's actually not how that works. There's ample evidence to allow it, but the judge and DA wouldn't allow it because she knew they wouldn't find him guilty if they had. They didn't allow anything that wouldn't secure a conviction. Just like the phones that the FBI pinged in the area of the crime scene, that wasn't allowed either.

Reply 1

Reply to Marian Jean...

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Joanne Healey 2nd biggest 'religion' in Indiana 🤦. That's why prisons have to have all the Asatru holidays

Reply

Julie Boyko · 2w
Joanne Healey two young girls were brutally murdered. This is real life not a movie for your entertainment. Shame on you.

Reply 2

Reply to Julie Boyko...

Most Relevant is selected, so some replies may have been filtered out.

Reply to Joanne Healey...

Ronda Hurley · 2w
He might or might not have done it or could have done it but he wasn't given a fair trial and should have gotten one.

Reply 47

Alyssa Bannach · 2w
Ronda Hurley truest words I've ever heard about this trial.

Reply 5

SJ Clifford · 2w
Ronda Hurley he got a fair trial.

Reply 3

Terry Young · 2w
Ronda Hurley bingo!
Reply

William Ernest Fannin · 2w
Ronda Hurley so, you have no official position of value. Got it. You could have done it. Anyone could have done anything, according to your comment. Hmm. Seems like anything else 8n this world, huh.
Reply

Sherry Burnette · 2w
Ronda Hurley there were things that were not talked about at the trial. Usually I don't have trouble with what the truth is but this case I do. I feel bad that I feel this way because of the poor girls and the family but things are fishy
Reply

Reply to Ronda Hurley...

Kimberly D Brown · 2w
Not sure of the location he was held at, but wasn't there a jail or prison guard that wore an Odenist patch on his uniform? Does anyone think that is weird?
Reply 17

Libby Baca · 2w
Kimberly D Brown yes I was told the same thing
Reply 1

Kimberly D Brown · 2w
Libby Baca I'm not sure if they will try and bring that detail in at retrial?
Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Libby Baca yes and when they were told to take them off (when defence noticed and took a pic) one of the guards got the symbol tattooed on his cheek! Attorney William Lebrato also confirms this, I can't link it here but his interview was with Barbara McDonald
Reply 1

Libby Baca · 1w
Classic Over Thinker thank you I will see if I can find it
Reply 1

Reply to Libby Baca...

Gloria Williams · 2w
Kimberly D Brown yes that was disclosed before .
Reply

Shiloh August · 2w
Kimberly D Brown yes at Westville Prison
Reply

Hollie Gentry · 2w
Kimberly D Brown that is BS
Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Hollie Gentry It's in court documents 👩. He admitted to wearing the patches
Reply

Reply to Hollie Gentry...

Shannon Van Zee · 2w
Kimberly D Brown additionally this was pre-trial! Everyone else housed in that building had been convicted of a crime. It is beyond humane what they did
Reply

Brian Dusenbery · 2w
Shannon Van Zee it was so he could be safe & get the appropriate care. Please try and keep up.
Reply 1

Shannon Van Zee · 2w
Brian Dusenbery girl please, he ate his own shit and stabbed his junk with a spork, involuntarily injected with drugs, kept away from his attorneys and family. Much of which was done BEFORE HE WAS CHARGED. Be soooo for real right now Mrs. Douchebery. Take a seat, there is not room for you here Brian.
Reply 1

Brian Dusenbery · 2w
Shannon Van Zee you can't even write a post correctly. Please understand the difference between charged & convicted. Any explanation will be lost on you.

Reply

Libby Baca · 1w
Brian Dusenbery definitely NOT safe

Reply

Reply to Shannon Van Zee...

Stacey Williams · 2w
Kimberly D Brown prison and extremely
It was not a fair trial..
The bullet was not fired...so there's nothing to go on....Do you know how many people own that same gun?
And that IS NOT Ricky!

Reply

Reply to Kimberly D Brown...

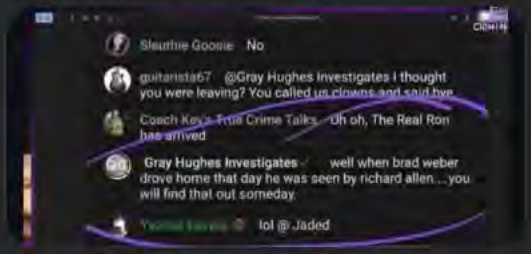

Anita Hagerty · 2w
You have to throw out the confessions, Allen had been kept in Solitary Confinement long enough to make him psychotic.

Reply 6

April Vasquez · 2w

Anita Hagerty

The detailed "confession" we only heard from Wala is very similar to her favorite YouTubers theory of the crime that he held for years. And he knew about the van before Wala's testimony.

Reply 1

Reply to Anita Hagerty...

Eileen TenEyck · 2w

Didn't he say he was in that area, the time the girls were there?Just how many guys were in that area, fitting that description? And didn't they find the jacket of the suspect in his home? I never understood the motives of the killings. I thought there was no sexual abuse evidence?

Reply 3

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w

Eileen TenEyck Dozens of people had walked the bridge and surrounding area that day.
Prosecutors said they found a 'similar' blue Carrhardt jacket at his house that had no DNA or blood from the victims on it.
Then later they admitted they could not clearly make out the logo of the jacket worn by the bridge guy in the video to determibe if it was a Carrhardt jacket or not.

Reply 7

Karina Balz · 2w

Eileen TenEyck in reports no but there are rumors in the towns surrounding Delphi. I live prob 15 -20 min from there and I've heard multiple things from multiple people who claimed to know the family or be from there.

Reply

Jim Clark · 2w
Eileen TenEyck actually he wasn't the only one there according to the police. The land owner was there also and from what they are saying both of them look alike. They never found any DNA evidence to link him to the crime and with the amount of blood there was he couldn't have possibly gotten rid of all it only a expert in the field could have

Reply 4

Libby Baca · 2w
Jim Clark and if I'm correct didn't the landowner's girlfriend or wife recognize his voice as bridge guy?

Reply 2

Jim Clark · 2w
Libby Baca which one did she say? I haven't heard that one before but there's a lot I haven't heard

Reply

Carli Della Foresta · 2w
Jim Clark Ron Logan was not at the trail that day. Richard Allen put himself there, at that time, in that exact outfit.

Reply 5

Carli Della Foresta · 2w
Libby Baca She said it sounded like him. But when you listen to BG and the videos his wife had on her Facebook page of him talking, it's a dead ringer.

Reply 4

Gloria Williams · 2w
Jim Clark i think the killer is already dead !

Reply

Jim Clark · 2w
Carli Della Foresta not according to the law enforcement go look it up

Reply 2

Jim Clark · 2w
Gloria Williams have no idea. And I don't know if he's guilty or not

Reply

Carli Della Foresta · 2w
Jim Clark Land owner, Ron Logan, had an alibi. Give it up.
Reply 1

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Carli Della Foresta Read the affidavit for the search warrant for Ron Logans home. It will prove you wrong when you said he wasnt there
Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Carli Della Foresta He absolutely did not have an alibi. Have you not read anything about this case? Before the girls were even found, Ron Logan asked his cousin to lie for him and provide an alibi for the 2:30 pm time period on Feb 13th. This was well before anyone knew what time they disappeared. The cousin told the police about the false alibi. Also, Ron Logans phone is in the geofence information. He was near the crime scene.
Reply

Reply to Jim Clark...

Monica Andry · 2w
Eileen TenEyck He was in the area and on the bridge that day. His car was captured on camera at the time the girls were there. There was no evidence of sexual assault. In one of his confessions, he said he panicked when he saw a van and killed them before he had assaulted them.
Reply 4

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Monica Andry "a car that looks like his car" according to the prosecutors. There is seminal fluid (without sperm) from the swabs of the girls genital areas. The State never had it tested to determine if they could get DNA from the samples. The van was debunked at the trial. Brad Weber testified that he arrived home at 2:30 which was supposedly the van that spooked R Allen and he forced the girls across the creek and their phone stopped moving at 2:32. However, there is now irrefutable evidence that Weber didnt enter the private drive until 2:44 and arrived home at 2:50.
Reply

Reply to Monica Andry...

John Brazzell · 2w
Eileen TenEyck had he not "self reported" he'd never got on the radar. I've always had mixed feelings about guilty vs not guilty because evidence is all over the place but him self reporting was silliest thing he could have done. Can you imagine the amount of people present that day who didn't self report? Regardless innocent or not he really did not get a fair trial which I blame on the hate the judge had on his attorneys so he should get a new trial but outcome may be the same.

Reply 4

Gloria Williams · 2w
John Brazzell Honesty isn't always the best policy !

Reply

Reply to John Brazzell...

Mary Gravely · 2w
Eileen TenEyck If you were forced to strip at gunpoint, would you not consider that SA in itself? He got spooked by the van and didn't finish what he planned. He said that, and it adds up.

Reply 5

Anna Fisher · 2w
Mary Gravely this comment wins. He described all by himself how he planned to SA the girls but white can drive by and he spooked. White van guy confirmed that exact time he drove by. THAT was NOT public knowledge until after RA made that statement. Ppl are wild out here defending his guilty ass

Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Mary Gravely Ah, but it doesn't. Brad Weber testified that he arrived home around 2:30 (in his van which supposedly spooked Allen and he forced the girls across the creek and killed them). The girls' phone stopped moving at 2:32. However, there is now irrefutable proof that Weber entered the long, private drive at 2:44 and arrived home at 2:50. So, it no longer coincides with the State's timeline and theory.

Reply

Reply to Mary Gravely...

Danny Thomas · 2w
Eileen TenEyck It didn't fit his description!
Reply 2

Danny Thomas · 2w
Eileen TenEyck He lived in the area!
Reply 1

Christy Sharp · 2w
Eileen TenEyck What description? None was presented at trial by State.
Reply

Robert Detert · 2w
Eileen TenEyck Yep.
He.still.had the cost.
Never ever even got rid of the coat
Reply

Amy French · 2w
Eileen TenEyck I'm sure Abby and Libby didn't take their clothes off without being ordered to. They were told to by someone. That's a form of sexual abuse
Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 2w

Eileen TenEyck according to Anna Williams there was over 50 people on the trails that day, I cant remember all the mens names but some are Ron Logan, Dave McCain, Dan McCain, Evan, a man with a little dog, there were girls over the other side of the bridge around 3. Rick said he was at the trail BETWEEN 1-3 (as he said he probably left around 1.30pm) NOT that he was there from 1pm to 3pm. Betsy Blairs description of Bridge Guys was young, 20-30yo, brown poofy hair, beautiful (definitely not how I would describe Rick), the group of 4 girls, Railly, Bree etc (Rick saw a group of 3 girls) saw a younger man, he had a mask on so they could really only see his eyes, which were described as not blue. Ricks eyes are definitely blue. Railly is 5'7 the girls said the man they saw was approximately 5'10? Rick is 5'4-5 (very short for a man). ive attached a pic of 'Bridge Guy', the top pic is what Rick actually said he wore in the interview, middle is the blue jacket from Ricks house that Kathy bought in 2019 🤦‍♀️ The bottom pic is Ron Logan, who actually confessed in 2017 😡. As for the SA, there is male DNA on both girls genitals, breasts and the one pair of underwear recovered - Ricks DNA was excluded!!!! There was also seminal fluid from BOTH girls cervical swabs 😭. LE refused to test the DNA properly 😫 . The ME said something along the lines of no visible sign of SA 🤦‍♀️ . The ISP Lab technician consulted with Bode Technology and another private lab to do the testing required (The ISP lab didnt have the capability & they had kicked the FBI off!!) but LE refused to test the DNA 🤬. Sorry for the giant essay, I could go on and on about the dna, its infuriating and an insult to Abby and Libby 😔

Reply 1

Reply to Eileen TenEyck...

Jennifer Halsmer · 2w
Why did he say he did it if he didn't do it?

Reply 8

Amanda Moy · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer 🎯🎯

Reply 1

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer Why do any criminals say they don't do it? They don't want to go to jail.

Reply

Robin Welcher Thomlison · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer
He also "confessed" to killing his grandkids....he had none

Reply 1

Sandi Smith · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer right? I'd never admit to a crime so horrible as this if I was innocent ..no matter who or what interrogated me id never take blame for someone else's cruel activities such as this and look at life in prison...hes either guilty as hell or stupid as $$$$...

Reply

Claire Ceci · 2w
Sandi Smith Or a third choice. He was tortured. Look up what the cops did in a true crime case about Stephanie Crowe. They forced a 14 year old kid to confess for a crime he did not commit. It was actually an intruder who killed his 12 year old sister, not him.

Reply

Reply to Sandi Smith...

Marshall Peaslee · 2w

Jennifer Halsmer let me tell you something, if you're arrested them cops will manipulate you or hold you Ransom until you admit to what they wanna here. Guilty or not, If you don't admit you're only like 25% of the population that wouldn't tell the police what they wanted to hear just to try inn go home. Can't imagine sitting in a solitary confinement 4x7 cell, the only people you talk to on a daily are telling you you did something to them two girls and if you admit it we'll let you call home, or we'll let you have this ? or do that, in his mental State of Mind ? Who telling what he would or wouldn't have admitted to . I mean come on guys think about it, he admitted to killing his daughter raping his daughter beating his wife none of them things happened ? And all you people saying " I would never admit to something i didn't do. Yeah ok, you definitely don't know that until you're in that type of situation. The justice system has let thousands of people across America go home a year that was incarcerated for one year all the way up to 50+ years for admitting to something they did not do. They eventually get exonerated. Not all but some, just emag

Reply Edited 9

Libby Baca · 2w

Marshall Peaslee EXACTLY!!! And this place they held him that is terrible I have a loved one there and I wouldn't want my worst enemy there

Reply 4

Brian Dusenbery · 2w

Marshall Peaslee some of you are just total clowns. RA never said anything close to what you just said. His attorneys lied about a few items and it was later proven not true about his conditions.

Reply Edited 1

Marshall Peaslee · 2w

Brian Dusenbery so you were there holding his hand you're the clown I never said that's exactly what he said goofball

Reply

Marshall Peaslee · 2w
Brian Dusenbery that's just what the news reported while he was incarcerated. There's multiple reports of his psychiatrist coercing him and offering gifts for admitting his guilt he had multiple reports of inmates threatening his life if he didn't admit to what he did. Even the guards so who's the clown fool everybody in this group has got their own opinion do you hear anybody else calling people clowns or names until you started you're lucky you're not in person having this debate because if you called me a clown to my face you'd be the one with the red nose

Reply

Marshall Peaslee · 2w
Brian Dusenbery and let me guess you don't even live in the state of Indiana anywhere near where this happened and and you don't even have an ounce of what actually is being said and going on around here but what you read on Facebook or the news correct

Reply 1

Reply to Marshall Peaslee...

Mike Sims · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer they are covering it up , he was framed

Reply 2

William Ernest Fannin · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer ask Google. Or read the news.

Reply

Anne Leighty · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer good question!

Reply

Larry McCullough · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer easy. The police coerced his admission by sleep deprivation as well as food and water being denied to him. Not to mention the lying cops and prosecution team. Cant forget that small town cops lack resources and is usually incompetent to handle high profile cases like this. Its common

Reply 4

Austin Westerman · 1w
Larry McCullough awwww the Facebook detectives are speaking out🤣🤣🤣🤣
Reply

Reply to Larry McCullough...

Karen Olney Ashton · 2w
Jennifer Halsmer happens a lot when they interrogate for so many hours with no rest. He said he shot them! Big problem! They were not shot!
I think he is innocent
Reply 2

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Jennifer Halsmer why did Ron Logan say he did it? why did Elvis Fields say he did it? why did Kegan Kline confess? none of those were in solitary being involuntarily injected with Haldol 🤦. why did over 50 people confess to the Yoghurt Shop Murders?
Reply

Reply to Jennifer Halsmer...

Diana Banas · 2w
You saying, you were a juror I was there, didn't see you
Reply 2

April Vasquez · 2w
Diana Banas
It's been confirmed that she was juror #2.
Reply 1

Shawn Palmi · 1w
April Vasquez So he is this Bananas lady who was there but doesn't know what was going on?
Reply 1

April Vasquez · 1w
Shawn Palmi she is the juror that spoke to Murder Sheet. The interview is; interesting.
Reply

April Vasquez · 1w
Shawn Palmi
The juror is in these comments speaking. First name Mia.
Reply

Reply to April Vasquez...

Shawn Palmi · 1w
So you were there, but not paying attention to what was going on? What were you even doing there then?
Reply 1

Reply to Diana Banas...

Becky Elkins Samuels · 2w
sometimes the smallest piece of a case is the thing that finally closes a case. What one may feel isnt important in a case another may feel different. All effidence is important,its a murder trial.
Reply 3

Anne Marie W · 2w
Was there ever a motive?
Reply 5

Jaime Walton · 2w
Anne Marie W, he's deranged
Reply

Krystal Carmack · 2w
Anne Marie W ya to r*pe those little girls ...the clear motive a digusting predator would be after that was walking up on children
Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Krystal Carmack Thats Wala's story. No one has ever heard Rick Allen say that.
Reply

Reply to Krystal Carmack...

Dave Turbin · 2w
Anne Marie W yes he's a pervert
Reply 5

Brian Devlin · 2w
Dave Turbin and do you have anything at all to back your claim up?
Reply 2

Dave Turbin · 2w
Brian Devlin Why else would he lead two young women DOWN THE HILL to a secluded spot make them strip do whatever and then kill them.
Reply 1

Anne Marie W · 2w
Dave Turbin with no prior record, no witness, no statement. Just a confession under duress.
Reply

Brian Devlin · 2w
Dave Turbin nope? Didn't think so you fucking weirdo 😔
Reply 1

Dave Turbin · 2w
Brian Devlin your need to get your head out of your ass ad look at the facts and quit believing what you read on the fucking internet
Reply 1

Brian Devlin · 2w
Dave Turbin so what are the facts you fucking tool? Please tell me or will are you too busy making fake ass Ai profile pictures you fucking lame?
Reply

Brian Devlin · 2w
Dave Turbin so I am assuming you have facts that he is a pervert, if so please share. If not, get fucked you bitch.
Reply

Dave Turbin · 2w
Brian Devlin no sense arguing with a moron
Reply 2

Brian Devlin · 2w
Dave Turbin whats there to argue about ya bitch, just show me these FACTS you claim to have. If not then shut the fuck up and go back to fantasy land with your Ai, dipshit 😔😔

Reply Edited

Dave Turbin · 2w
Brian Devlin You just stay in your moms basement eating cheetos being the great talking tuff computer warrior you are

Reply 1

Brian Devlin · 2w
Dave Turbin ooooh sick burn 🔥 lol

I actually live in paradise with my beautiful lady, something you appear to be lacking lol. Albeit I did just eat a bag of cheetos earlier today 😄😄

I hope all you maga dipshits fucking die and soon, your time is coming 😘

Reply

Dave Turbin · 1w
Brian Devlin Awww I see you got smart and deleted all that childish BS you were posting good job

Reply 1

Brian Devlin · 1w
Dave Turbin yeah that's funny because all my comments seem to still appear but yours are gone. I promise I've no reason to delete anything. Weirdo 😘

Reply

Reply to Dave Turbin...

Robert Detert · 2w
Anne Marie W Nut job phsyo

Reply

Sheryl M Bearden Dijon · 2w
Anne Marie W none..

Reply 2

Reply to Anne Marie W...

DixAnn Campbell · 2w
I think he did it but maybe not alone. There is evidence in the trial that points to him.

Reply 5

Steven Malesky · 2w
Let's look at these timelines shall we

Bridge Guy Timeline:

1. 1:26-1:30pm three girls pass a man who they say resembles the person in Libby's video. This man was walking with a purpose towards the bridge.

2. Betsy Blaire sees a man standing on the first platform that looks like the man in Libby's video.

3. Around 2pm Betsy Blair leaves the bridge and walks past the girls as they are making their way to the bridge.

4. At 2:13 Libby starts to record and captures a man with a blue jacket and blue jeans.

Richard Allan revised timeline from 2022
(Different than his 2017 one)

1. Richard Allen says he arrives at 12:00pm

2. Has he is walking the trail and passes 3 girls.

3. Richard Allen says he walked out on to the first platform looking down at the fish

4. Richard Allen states he left the bridge and sat down on a bench.

5. Between 1:30-1:45 he walks back and leaves.

Now RA wants us to believe these two events, which are the exact same, took place one right after another.

This means there should be a different set of 3 girls that he would have passed, yet no one has mentioned another set of girls

And for shats and gaggles let's say he passes the girls on the way out and it is the same three girls that saw BG. Well the girls would have said they saw two men cross paths and RA would have without a doubt seen BG which he never states he does since the girls saw a man walking to and not away from the bridge.

Oh let's not forgot both Allen and BG are wearing the same clothing.

Reply 4

April Vasquez · 2w

Steven Malesky

Two of the three girls commented on this post.
As did 1 of the girls used as a witness. The one used as a witness was not with the other two.

Reply Edited 2

Steven Malesky · 2w

April Vasquez What does this even show?

Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w

Steven Malesky You wanted to know about the group of 3 girls that Allen passed when he arrived and they were leaving, right? Read the comments again for the answer. Also, your storyline is flawed. It was a group of 4 girls, not 3, that said they passed Bridge Guy. Also, see Blairs sketch. Thats who she saw--young, beautiful, looked like Justin Timberlake. Does that sound like Richard Allen to you?

Reply 2

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Steven Malesky it's a group of 3 girls that were at the trails earlier, Tara German is Libby's aunt. Anna Williams has said in an interview that there were over 50 people there that day, Kelsi German has said there was lots of people there 🤦. There was also Cheyenne and Shelby (not sure it they had another girl with them). Don't forget Railly (from the group of 4 girls) said they saw the man in the mast at 2.15, yet the 'down the hill' video was 2.13 🤔. I don't know how anyone thinks this is Rick?

Reply

Reply to April Vasquez...

Steven Malesky · 2w

There isn't a single person in that text exchange that gives a time they were there.

The storyline is not flawed.

Blair in the end said the person she saw was the person in the video Libby took.

At no point in time has anyone described that person in the video as someone who looks like Justin Timberlake. Also, she states she was 50 feet away, but when you actually measure the distance to where platform 1 is to where she states she was standing she was 110-125 feet away.

Reply

Reply to Steven Malesky...

Susan Elieff Dawson · 2w

If he is innocent why are they debating the search of his home? If he's innocent then it shouldn't be a problem.

Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 2w

Susan Elieff Dawson If he is guilty why wouldn't the judge allow the expert to counter the magic bullet BS? Goes both ways and personally I don't trust governments blindly, especially CC - pedo protectors!! Why didnt the other 8 murdered kids get this attention and reward money? Was it because DG was a CI/snitch? How often does someone get a 20yr sentence reduced to 1 day time service? Justice for ALL the murdered kids in that area! RIP Flora4, Abby & Libby, the 3 Hite kids (all under 4yo 😭) & Mya Thompson 🕊️. Protect the kids of Carroll County!!

Reply 2

Reply to Susan Elieff Dawson...

Chasity Young · 2w

This is why defendants rights should always matter. No matter the crime, or how we feel about the person. By giving EVERY defendant a fair trial, the families suffering don't have to reopen those wounds they are trying so hard to heal.

The judge, the prosecutor, the police, and the rest should be held accountable for what they did in this case. Turning the loss of these two innocent girls Abby Libby into a circus. Richard Allen tried to help, and was cleared. The police lied so they could search his home. The same home he lived in when he first contacted law enforcement. He drove the same car, had the same email, same phone number, same job 5 years later. He didn't leave town, change his number, get a different car or job. He worked at CVS where a picture of the sketch of the alleged killer was hanging. Attended a local bar regularly with his wife where another picture hung. No one thought for a second he could be the man in the picture. No one called the tip line believing he was the killer. He went on about his life.

When contacted 5 yrs later he cooperates with law enforcement, does not request an attorney, rides to the police station to try to help again. Seems very relaxed. It wasn't until they turned him into their suspect that he became defensive.

He continues to speak without an attorney. Any innocent person would have behaved the exact same way. Had he committed that crime, he would have been expecting that call or visit and he would have been shaking like a leaf. He would have been looking over his shoulders every single day. His behavior would have changed, his appearance, and so much more. It didn't. He owns the same type of gun that many do. His gun matched the bullet only after they fired it to make it match. The bullet was unspent. No eye witness identified Richard Allen. "Bridge guy" could have no connection to the crime. Bridge guy is not Richard Allen either. The killer(s) are still out here or dead.

Abby and Libby will never receive justice keeping Richard Allen in prison for their murder. He is not the killer. Police know this too. They are the real monsters. They allowed this to unfold in an unconstitutional, and unjust manner.

Reply 16

Ronda Hurley · 2w

Chasity Young and the family needs the truth no matter who did it

Reply 3

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Chasity Young I agree that we need fair trials. And I have concerns about using the confession of a mentally ill person. But no one turned this into a circus. The police didn't lie to search his home. You lose credibility when you exaggerate to make your point.

Reply

Chasity Young · 2w
Marcia Mahony no exaggerating over here.

Reply 2

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Marcia Mahony read the probable cause affidavit.

Reply 1

Marcia Mahony · 1w
Kristina Magnuson Read the trial transcript.

Reply

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Chasity Young Thank you for your clear, concise comment. You are spot on!

Reply 1

Reply to Chasity Young...

Jim Martin · 2w
He wasn't put in solitary to coerce a confession, he was put there to keep him alive! What did you want them to do, put him in the Holiday Inn? His life would of been threatened even there. He had iPads, movies, phone calls, text messages. He wasn't in psychosis then.

Reply 9

Jennaca Keeler · 2w
Jim Martin a county/ local jail in a seperate cell would have been sufficient vs prison where they had to keep him in solitary cause he can not be with gen pop since he was not convicted yet. Cass county said they would take him. Judge said no.

Reply 3

Sheryl M Bearden Dijon · 2w
Jim Martin thats BS
Reply

Jessica Scott · 2w
Jim Martin one of the CO's was involved with the Odinists. According to what I have read and heard.
Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Jim Martin How does every other jail keep people alive? Brian Kohberger, Ted Bundy etc??
Reply 1

Mandy Salinas · 1w
Jim Martin If the state of Indiana wasn't trying to coerce a confession, then why did they have the suicide companions and guards writing down everything he said?
Reply

Reply to Jim Martin...

Scott Elliott · 2w
Fall guy not bridge guy
Reply 21

Tony Hunt · 2w
Scott Elliott No doubt !!!
Reply 1

Sheryl M Bearden Dijon · 2w
Scott Elliott exactly 💯
Reply 1

Austin Westerman · 1w
Scott Elliott Lotta idiots think that
Reply

Reply to Scott Elliott...

Joanne Mistrulli · 2w
He didn't do it. I don't know what they did to him but him saying he it then confessing and then going in jail saying yes and no there's something up there with that.

Reply 13

Melissa Wilson · 2w
Joanne Mi why did they find the jacket in his house then please do tell

Reply 1

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Melissa Wilson They seized a jacket that wasnt linked to the crime. So you want to know why he had a jacket in his house? Probably for the same reason you have a jacket.

Reply

Reply to Melissa Wilson...

Trisha Smith · 2w
Joanne Mi he was locked in solitary for months until he lost his mind! His confessions were under extreme duress!

Reply 6

Reply to Joanne Mistrulli...

Kenny Catron · 2w
Nobody, including myself, commenting here, were not the Judge, were not the Prosecutor, were not the investigators investigating this horrendous crime, or were part of the jury. If you have some absolute proof that he's not guilty, maybe you should let his attorneys know. If you have some absolute proof that the Judge was incompetent, maybe you should let the Indiana Supreme Court know. If you have direct evidence that the investigators are incompetent, and messed up the investigation, maybe you should call the FBI and let them know about it. That being said, all these hunches, accusations of other suspects, accusations of misdeeds by the professionals that are educated in their profession, are just that, hunches and accusations.

Reply Edited 7

Mark Arthur · 2w
Kenny Catron so when you see someone steal, you dont call them a thief? Or say they a stealing?

Reply

Kenny Catron · 2w
Mark Arthur, of course. But what does seeing someone steal, have to do with this? Apples and oranges.🤦

Reply

Mark Arthur · 1w
Kenny Catron the absolute proof is right before peoples eyes. One instance of the judge being incompetent, which was substantiated by the Supreme Court, was removing his attorneys. This violated his constitutional rights. Arguments were given to warn her against proceeding on that course. She did it anyway. That is just one instance. It's not apples and oranges. It's not about stealing, its about recognizing something right before your eyes. People are just calling it out. Instead of recognizing the obvious, you are calling an apple an orange.

Reply

Reply to Mark Arthur...

John Thomas · 2w
Kenny Catron amen kenny so there is someone on here with some damn common since 💯👍🤟😀🇺🇸

Reply 2

Kenny Catron · 2w
John Thomas thank you!👍

Reply

Reply to John Thomas...

Becky Elkins Samuels · 2w
Kenny Catron your 100% correct. Sometimes you can know a person for most of your life and one day you read about them flipping out and killed someone. Sometimes for what ever reason it just happens. Something makes them snap. There are all kinds of mental illness and some may have one or several but maybe no one was aware of it. If Richard is guilty i have a hard time believing he did it alone.

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Kenny Catron That is part of the problem though, even though I think he did it, I also think the judge not allowing cameras and the prosecution not allowing the geofencing data among other things made it hard for some to accept the verdict.

Reply

Kenny Catron · 2w
Shawn Palmi, and not to be disrespectful, and I apologize up front if you take it that way, but how much trial law experience do you have? There is more than likely that the Judge didn't allow certain things because of the way the law is written. I don't know, I don't have any trial law experience either.

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Kenny Catron I have zero trial law experience. Assuming you are correct, that everyone was just following the law, then I question why the laws appear to hide so much info from the public. I'm a believer that the government should be as open as possible. A great example here is the geofencing. LE did geofencing, then it wasn't allowed to be presented at trial. RA's supporters believe it's because it shows he's innocent.

Reply 1

Kenny Catron · 2w
Shawn Palmi so your stance is Law Enforcement sent an innocent man to prison for the rest of his life, just to close the case?

Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w

Kenny Catron If it were just one thing, I think most people could look past it. But its a mountain of issues. I think everyone can agree that the interviews conducted with witnesses and potential suspects should be done as soon as possible while their memories are intact. Law enforcement lost the first 60-70 days of interviews. They taped over them for the first half and the second half they erased the audio. One would think that the best corrective action would be to re-interview everyone again. Not in this case. They just accepted the fact that they no longer have the most crucial interviews.

They lost Dave McCains SIM card. He was at the trails at 2:44. He took pictures everywhere at the trails that day, including 25 minutes on the MHB taking photos! They lost the Marathon gas station CCTV footage. They refused to let the geofence information in that would tell everyone the 3 phones that were at the crime scene. They allowed everyone to change their recollections of the events that day (even the crucial pieces such as who dropped the girls off, what time they arrived, etc). I used to believe it was incompetence. But by the 3rd or 4th "lost" piece of crucial info, it has to be something other than incompetence.

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w

Kenny Catron No, I think he's the killer. But, prosecutors want to win, so that means they don't want to include at trial anything that doesn't help them win. So forever people will be speculating about what the geofencing data showed.

Reply

Kenny Catron · 1w

Kristina Magnuson and here again. You weren't there for the interviews. I remember when this first happened, they had thousands of leads called in by different people. Names were thrown out there that didn't have anything to do with it. For you, who have zero Law enforcement experience, and no trial law experience, can say that Law Enforcement and/or the trial Judge muffed it up is just crazy. You can't possibly know what Law Enforcement did or didn't do.

Reply

Kenny Catron · 1w
Shawn Palmi I can agree with that. I truly think that Law Enforcement, the Prosecutors, think he's the man, or they wouldn't have moved forward. And I truly believe that the Judge followed the law on what was to be allowed and what wasn't.

Reply

Reply to Shawn Palmi...

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Kenny Catron I don't think the FBI is the correct governing body for the Carroll County law enforcement.

Reply

Kenny Catron · 1w
Kristina Magnuson ok, Indiana State Police. Whoever.🙄

Reply

Reply to Kristina Magnuson...

Reply to Kenny Catron...

Bob Henning · 2w
So wrong to judge only God Can judge let it go trough the process you might find they made mistakes it happens all the time 🏁🤦

Reply 4

Shannon Hauser · 2w
Iv always said it wasn't him. Doesn't look like guy in picture

Reply 2

Renee Alkazoff Kulon · 2w
I don't think he did it

Reply 45

Robert Rogers · 2w

Renee Alkazoff Kulon i question it. I don't feel confident either way in saying he didn't do it or that he did. There's so many Q's and things that don't add up. I've watched the full police interrogation videos... and yeah, just doesn't seem like the guy. But it doesn't mean he didn't do it. Maybe he did.
I just know the state didn't help itself @ trial.

Reply 5

Renee Alkazoff Kulon · 2w

Robert Rogers I think they did a poor investigation & wanted to close the case & chose him & it was a false confession. But yes it is confusing. It was a high profile case & needed a patsy Unfortunately the truth sometimes doesn't matter they just want to close a case

Reply 10

Claire Ceci · 2w

Renee Alkazoff Kulon It really was not confusing to those of us who followed this case from day one. Judge Gull did not even let the defense team show evidence. Something very fishy happened in this case and I bet millions of us don't buy what the state "tried" to say.

Reply 7

Renee Alkazoff Kulon · 2w

Claire Ceci ya I didn't follow it that intensely. But from what I watched I don't think he did it. Let me know if I'm wrong but they didn't put much information out I am all for the law but I do know they sometimes don't care about the truth it's about closing cases. I hope he gets a new trial so we can make our decision over the facts. Im assuming your into true crime. I also feel the state screwed up the investigation on the Idaho 4 & that's why they made a deal. They never included the on the plea & that's very very unusual. Ya so I think there is something there & im not conspiracy nut. But think about why it didn't go to trial & prosecution actually snuck a deal against the families wishes

Reply 2

Reply to Robert Rogers...

Melissa Wilson · 2w
Renee Alkazoff Kulon if he didn't do it why was the jacket of who did it found in his house

Reply

Trisha Smith · 2w
Melissa Wilson never any proof or DNA of any kind on the jacket. This man should never have been convicted!

Reply 6

Hernandez C Elizabeth · 2w
Melissa Wilson It was also said that the jacket was purchased in 2019, I believe. I remember seeing someone mentioning that in one of the groups on this case.

Reply 1

Reply to Melissa Wilson...

Reply to Renee Alkazoff Kulon...

Twi Tch · 2w
The dude ain't no killer. The eyes never lie.

Reply 17

Robert Longoria · 2w
Mike Norris What you're dumb as you sound dummy. He's not no killer then why did they find the ballistics bullet match his gun? Same bullet. Same gun then why do they also find his clothes that he was walking on the railroad tracks with with the girls DNA and his DNA and then he admitted to killing them girls 60 times so your eyes never lie and no killer f you you're full of s

Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w

Robert Longoria its rather funny that you call someone else a bunch of names to insult their intelligence and then spout a bunch of nonsense that proves you don't have any of the facts straight about this case.
1. Ballistics weren't conducted because it was an unspent bullet
2. Richard Allens DNA was not at the crime scene and they found no DNA of the girls on anything of R Allens-not his car, his clothes, nor his knives/boxcutters
3. There weren't 60 confessions

Watch the oral arguments in the appellate court. They go over all of this and its very clear.

Reply

Reply to Robert Longoria...

Brad Begley · 2w

Mike Norris the eyes never lie. sounds pretty stupid. glad you aren't a judge lmao

Reply

Michele Wood · 2w

Mike Norris
Those are the creepiest eyes ever

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w

Mike Norris 🤔 That is a terrible theory. Even if RA has killer eyes, convicting him for that is weird.

Reply

Lottie Shaffer · 1w

Mike Norris so what look in someone's eyes makes him a killer? I've seen many who didn't look like a criminal in the eyes but they were. The eyes have nothing to do with it.

Reply

Reply to Twi Tch...

Kathy Zeffel · 2w
Didn't they find the box cutter that was used in the dumpster of the cvs he worked at. I think guilty

Reply 5

Christy Sharp · 2w
Kathy Zeffel 5 yrs later really ?

Reply 3

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Christy Sharp people never cease to amaze me with their train of thoughts and huge leaps to conclusions. Its no wonder why the prosecution was able to convince people that the murders were committed with a CVS boxcutter 🤣

Reply 1

Mandy Salinas · 1w
Christy Sharp the fact that Holeman went out there to see if he could find it five years later says a lot about his detective skills and why the real killers are still out there.

Reply

Reply to Christy Sharp...

Sheryl M Bearden Dijon · 2w
Kathy Zeffel no...

Reply

Reply to Kathy Zeffel...

Lisa Muhs · 2w
Prayers, as he should be freed! He did not commit those heinous crimes.

Reply 20

Melissa Wilson · 2w
Lisa Muhs why did they find the man's jacket in his house that did it then please explain

Reply

Dyan Moore Sparks · 2w
Melissa Wilson and the bullets matched his gun!
Reply

Reply to Melissa Wilson...

Brad Begley · 2w
Lisa Muhs yes he did
Reply 2

Reply to Lisa Muhs...

Karen Winkler · 1w
How did they find the bullet at the murder since and then find it at Mr. Allens house. Anyone can have the same kind of bullets. Ok he had a bullet like the one that was found, doesn't mean the one they found was Richard Allen's. It had to of belonged to the real killer.
Reply

Peter J Mcevoy · 2w
He may be involved or even guilty but there are others or another. I feel confident of that. Someone is escaping scotfree.
Reply 1

Willis Frazier · 2w
That's kinda hard to explain why it was there and how I didn't come from his firearm
Reply 1

Amy Kilpatrick · 2w
Willis Frazier you can't compare a spent bullet to a fired one.
Reply 2

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Willis Frazier one of the most common bullets 🤦
Reply

Reply to Willis Frazier...

Terry Marquardt · 2w

I have been writing a book for the last year. My very first fiction book. With it has come a lot of research. Days and nights studying laws, court cases, stories, cross-referencing conviction rates against re-offence rates You name it. I've gotten my head wrapped so deep into it that I dream about it and I'm upset a quarter of the time if not more. So here's my rant.

I have decided that there's such a thing as freedom of speech, and I am tired of controlling my mouth about these depraved, disgusting human beings. If you abuse a child, there's only one thing you deserve, and that's to be permanently SEPARATED from society!!!!

Children trust you because it's in their body. It's cellular from the time of birth to trust their person, even when their person abuses them... Infact the abused end up thinking they must have done something wrong because everything in their body loves and trusts their person. It's survival for them. There is only one thing good for these disgusting humans that manipulate and abuse that and children...

Mental illness or not! I DON'T CARE! Your abuse of a child should be an automatic separation from society for THE REST OF YOUR MISERABLE LIFE.

I've held my tongue for a long time. I've said things in a manner that protects my family.... Well... freedom of speech. Our president talks about annihilating a whole country of people for crimes. I think I can talk about a person who sexually abuses or physically abuses a child of any age be separated from society - permanently!

I am NOT going to physically harm anyone. But I am going to call this stuff out and do everything I can to ensure that they are punished for the rest of their miserable lives, just as their victims are. I am going to try my best to bring about change.

I have been writing a fiction book for the last 9 months! It's almost ready for print. Because of that, it's gotten me into research and study, and I've created a website and platforms, and I'm posting stuff all the time. Want to know more or see more? Search The Advocate by Terry Marquardt or click the link below. Watch my activism. Read a book everybody's going to want to read that distributes true justice.
The Advocate and the Pussytoe Fields — a novel by Terry Marquardt
https://share.google/f6m47VPCQDigEqiSI

Reply

Tracie Hankins · 2w

Depends on who he was being threatened by! Fall guy....

Reply 4

Mike Wilson · 2w
He is Not Guilty the jury got it wrong it was a botched up investigation as well

Reply 3

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Mike Wilson It was botched because he should have been arrested week one.

Reply

Mike Wilson · 1w
Shawn Palmi nope he is not guilty he needs freed

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Mike Wilson How do you know? Were you there?

Reply

Mike Wilson · 1w
Shawn Palmi because its not that hard to figure out any smart person with common sense knows that & he is also a family man with his own children

Reply

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Mike Wilson No, smart people think he is the killer. I'm trying to find out why people like you think he's innocent. You mentioned because he's a family man. So are you not aware that people who are family men do bad things? Have you heard of the BTK killer? The Long Island serial killer? The list goes on and on. Often bad people hide their evil side from their loved ones.

Reply

April Vasquez · 1w

Shawn Palmi

It's easy to understand why people that only know what was presented at trial think he's guilty. Everything that was exculpatory was kept out of trial. Except; not a single witness described Allen.

Allen is very short for a man. Not a single person described a short man.

Vorhees said she saw BG at 2:15. How? Libby's video started at 2:13 and 20ish minutes from where she said she saw him.

There is a reason the prosecution didn't ask any of the witnesses if the man they say was sitting in front of them.

The only way to show you Allen is innocent is to present the evidence that exonerates him; like the geofence, the surveillance video from businesses in town on the route he took to and from the trails, the van video, third party evidence of course and there is more.

None of his DNA at the scene or on the girls. None of the girls DNA in Allen's vehicle or on anything they took from his house. The car portrayed as Allen's is not his. He left around 1:30 and did see a group of 3 girls; we know who they are and they are not who the prosecution put on the stand.

LE was right to go back to the beginning because that's where the truth is but it does not lead to Allen. You'll get to see everything eventually. When the world sees what was done to this man; I hope the walls come crashing down on the ppl responsible and on the real monsters that took the lives of Abby and Libby.

Reply 1

Reply to Shawn Palmi...

Reply to Mike Wilson...

Tonya N Greg · 2w

He's innocent

Reply 15

Marcia Mahony · 2w

Tonya N Greg He did it.

Reply 2

Reply to Tonya N Greg...

Debby Lewis Borrelli · 2w
Innocent
Reply 7

Lisa Armstrong · 1w
He was a scapegoat. Pure and simple
Reply 2

Susan Felicity · 2w
So many questions here.
Reply 5

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Susan Felicity yeah, like how long will he live and why isn't he dead yet.
Reply 1

Austin Westerman · 1w
Susan Felicity no not really
Reply

Reply to Susan Felicity...

Brian Quinlisk · 1w
Hey Mia, as a juror, you should've never put this on social media because this is grounds for an appeal right now and the fact that you were still willing to find him guilty when there is really no true evidence that he did it makes me hope to God I never be in court while you're on the jury panel
Reply 1

Kim Yoder · 2w
The man is innocent
Reply 3

Christy Coons · 2w
Kim Yoder I 100% agree with you
Reply 2

Reply to Kim Yoder...

Larry Peters · 2w
He will not get a new trial

Reply 10

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Larry Peters I think he did it, but from watching the court of appeals argument, I think 2 of the 3 judges will vote to give him a new trial.

Then it goes to the Indiana Supreme Court.

Reply

Lowell Parson · 2w
Marcia Mahony why would it go to the supreme court

Reply

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Lowell Parson Whoever loses at the court of appeals will appeal to the Indiana Supreme Court.

Reply 1

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Darrel Richardson · 2w
Larry Peters, I guess they will have to keep him in population so he doesn't get protected into psychosis. His fellow inmates will serve justice then.

Reply 1

Brad Begley · 2w
Darrel Richardson it's crazy how all these people want a child killer walking the streets

Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Brad Begley Its crazy how many people don't care about the constitution.

Reply

Brad Begley · 1w
Kristina Magnuson It doesn't matter, yes he will probably get a new trial but nothing will change bc he will still be found guilty.

Reply

Reply to Darrel Richardson...

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Larry Peters Judging by how appalled Judge Brown was, I bet he will.
Reply 4

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Rhonda Blair Quintero She's just one vote, but it looked like Judge Vaidik might vote with her.
Reply 2

Reply to Rhonda Blair Quintero...

Danny Thomas · 2w
Larry Peters want to bet???
Reply 2

Larry Peters · 2w
Danny Thomas how can they he is psychosis right you can't try some one who is psychosis unless I missed something !
Reply

Brad Begley · 2w
Danny Thomas never gonna get a new trial
Reply

Reply to Danny Thomas...

Reply to Larry Peters...

Robert Detert · 2w
He's the guy.
He's guilty.
They got him.
Took awhile but they got him
Reply 3

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Robert Detert Liggett, is that you?
Reply

Reply to Robert Detert...

Carol Ann Landrie · 2w
He's guilty. The jury got it right
Reply 8

Phil Higgins · 2w
Carol Ann Landrie 🤣 that guy did not kill those girls! The jury got it wrong and I bet you he gets a new trial!
Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Carol Ann Landrie whose semen do you think was inside both girls and whose male DNA was on BOTH girls genitals, breasts and underwear? Ricks DNA was excluded??
Reply

Sandra Craft · 2w
Carol Ann Landrie I agree he turned down the polygraph 2x
Reply

Kristina Magnuson · 2w
Sandra Craft Please tell us where you found this information?
Reply

Reply to Sandra Craft...

Mike Wilson · 2w
Carol Ann Landrie Not !!
Reply

Reply to Carol Ann Landrie...

Theresa Tarzwell · 2w
🙏🙏🙏 he gets a new trial!!
Reply 4

Connie Lee · 1w
He is not the guy
Reply 1

Dawn Salazar · 2w
100 guilty appeal will be denied

Reply 6

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Dawn Salazar I bet you're wrong.

Reply

Danny Thomas · 2w
Dawn Salazar Want to bet???

Reply Edited

Tony Hunt · 2w
Dawn Salazar Dream on!!!

Reply

Dawn Salazar · 2w
Tony Hunt the state our taxes is paying for him as we speak ! Your going to tell me that he just magically known girls were covered tree limbs .

Reply

Dawn Salazar · 2w
Danny Thomas have you know that he stated he cut the girls with a box so have many dreams . He will be denied !!! All these lawyers are trying to do is make a name for them selves . Judges arent going to buy it at all will be denied here pretty quick ! Surprised it wasnt denied that day and dont hold your breath once denied he is going to tell all at it has been posted . Hes so ready to start talking you say what ???

Reply

Reply to Dawn Salazar...

Onelittle Hillbilly · 1w
Rest in Peace

Reply

Peter Barraclough · 2w
Allen said he dropped the bullet by the bridge, yet it found under the girls, why wasn't this challenged in court.. He said 3 girls yet there was 4? He could of missed one but why that not challenged

Reply 1

Brad Baker · 2w
Doesn't hurt to ask, I guess. Hes got nothing but time.
Reply

David Magallanes · 2w
Yessica Magallanes
Reply

Linda Martin · 2w
NOT GUILTY
Reply 2

Heath Nevitt · 2w
Tony Hunt cell phone location records do though. Were those made up as well? The evidence against RA is overwhelming. Without the confessions. Its no coincidence he was there at time of abduction, time frame of the murders, and vehicle on camera leaving after that time frame. The case was butchered by law enforcement. If the investigation was fully taken over by ISP and FBI it would have been much quicker.
Reply

Tony Hunt · 2w
Heath Nevitt "Overwhelming" really?? I already know I shouldn't respond and I won't
Reply

April Vasquez · 2w
Heath Nevitt you're misinformed about his cellphone location. Holeman himself said during his deposition that Allen's phone was at his home.
There is geofence data that will eventually make its way to the public.
Reply 1

April Vasquez · 2w

Heath Nevitt

This vehicle? Check out those taillights!

Reply

Reply to Heath Nevitt...

Christopher Robinette · 1w

https://www.facebook.com/share/r/1Fr6JmJvPp/?mibextid=wwXIfr

Reply

Raymond Tillotson · 1w

https://www.facebook.com/share/1UsNmVY7sm/

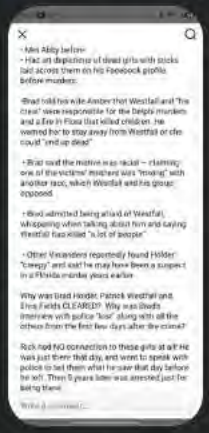

Reply

Josh Acronym · 2w

Reply 4

Nacole Capps Brewer · 2w
Read carefully

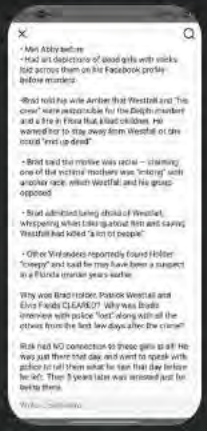

Reply 2

Misty D Jackson Winningham · 2w
Nacole Capps Brewer Holder & them wasn't on the Bridge & that is why, they had Alibis& were at work the same time the Girls were killed ,Guess who was on the Bridge ?RA!

Reply 1

Nacole Capps Brewer · 2w
Misty D Jackson Winningham You must not know his job and what they stated.. Anyone can leave or have someone clock him in and out.. He didn't have to have his phone either.. Someone could've took it for him to give him an alibi.. He supposably went to the gym.. The gym you can use a phone to check in but not be there.. I mean both sketches look like Holder and the other his son Elvis..

Reply

Reply to Misty D Jackson Winningham...

Marcia Mahony · 2w

Nacole Capps Brewer You can't just make stuff up.

Reply

Nacole Capps Brewer · 2w

Marcia Mahony wtf are you talking about making stuff up?? Its called common sense and it happens all the damn time in crime.. Can't make anything up when every day it happens.. That photo is attached to the photo and sketch of Holder..

Reply

Nacole Capps Brewer · 2w

Marcia Mahony I think you need to study and go to some classes for criminal law and shit.. Cause honestly you really sound like you dk anything.. Can't make stuff up in this case.. It's been made up by law enforcement, lack of knowledge, lies and so much more.. Go back from the beginning if you can and follow everything.. What can also help watch tv.. Listen to what the hearing that took place on Monday.. Unconstitutional.. Biase.. How the witnesses story change during court.. But sketches say other wise..

Reply

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Reply to Nacole Capps Brewer...

Jennifer Dickerson · 2w

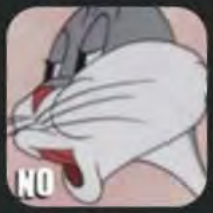

Reply 1

Donna Sue Varner Floyd · 2w
He's innocent

Reply 4

Angie Stahl · 2w

Reply

Tracy Haynes Mcclish · 2w
He's innocent

Reply 1

Mark Melcher · 2w
Tracy Haynes Mcclish I agree

Reply 1

Reply to Tracy Haynes Mcclish...

Shawnna Otis · 2w
I truly don't understand how anyone thinks he's innocent, I won't argue my reasoning but I think he is as guilty as they come.

Reply 13

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Shawnna Otis I agree.

Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Shawnna Otis Simple minded...

Reply

Shawnna Otis · 2w
Tony Hunt lol I don't respond to rage bait...have a nice day

Reply

Reply to Tony Hunt...

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Shawnna Otis can I respectfully ask, I truly want to understand how you can be sure hes guilty, how do you ignore the DNA? Like I said I don't want to argue I really want to understand your reasoning? Male DNA on both girls genitals, breasts and the 1 pair of underwear - Ricks DNA was excluded. Then the seminal fluid from the cervical swabs 😢 inside BOTH girls. Having a daughter I don't understand how people can disregard that? Like I said I don't want to argue, I truly want to understand. TY

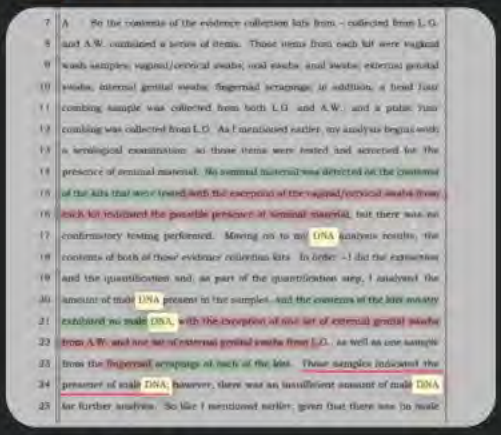

Reply 2

Tony Hunt · 2w
Classic Over Thinker Thank you!!!

Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Tony Hunt you're welcome! It is so baffling to me 😩😩

A So the contents of the evidence collection kits from – collected from L.G. and A.W. contained a series of items. Those items from each kit were vaginal wash samples, vaginal/cervical swabs, oral swabs, anal swabs, external genital swabs, internal genital swabs, fingernail scrapings. In addition, a head hair combing sample was collected from both L.G. and A.W., and a pubic hair combing was collected from L.G. As I mentioned earlier, my analysis began with a serological examination. So those items were tested and screened for the presence of seminal material. No seminal material was detected on the contents of the kits that were tested with the exception of the vaginal/cervical swabs from each kit indicated the possible presence of seminal material, but there was no confirmatory testing performed. Moving on to my DNA analysis results, the contents of both of those evidence collection kits. In order – I did the extraction and the quantification and, as part of the quantification step, I analyzed the amount of male DNA present in the samples. And the contents of the kits mostly exhibited no male DNA, with the exception of one set of external genital swabs from A.W. and one set of external genital swabs from L.G., as well as one sample from the fingernail scrapings of each of the kits. Those samples indicated the presence of male DNA; however, there was an insufficient amount of male DNA for further analysis. So like I mentioned earlier, given that there was no male

Reply

Tony Hunt · 1w

Classic Over Thinker Yep!!! Can't wait until he gets a knew trial or just acquitted if possible? Me personally would really question the drop off evidence, how could you convict anybody with screen shots, recorded voice, evidence and not one person physically putting them on the bridge? All in which could be very easily all fabricated? Like everything we know is a "Mirage" (To me the drop off was all staged imo)

Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Tony Hunt I just want them to test all the DNA properly for a start!! It's probably too late to actually check Brad Holder and Patrick Westfall's alibi's 🤯🤦. It's funny how people say Rick didn't have his 2017 phone yet he gave it to Dan Dulin in Feb 2017 & Rick was cleared! Whereas Brad holder got rid of his phone and truck and Patrick Westfall wiped his phone - yet people are fine with that!! Brad Holders FB posts are very disturbing too!

Reply

Tony Hunt · 1w

Classic Over Thinker He's a "Freemason" 😉

Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 1w
Tony Hunt yep his son became a Mason (or Master Mason 🤔) a month or 2 after the murders!
Reply

Tony Hunt · 1w
Classic Over Thinker Thats exactly where this case is at, whether it's protecting the "Holders" the "Bridge workers" "Mccains" etc. You have people being murdered if they get too close, a corrupt judge (way too many state officials being corrupt, way too many people being murdered) for this to be a random dude on the bridge 🙄 "yea right"
Reply

Reply to Classic Over Thinker...

Reply to Shawnna Otis...

Shelley Bryant · 2w
He is innocent and a Federal Investigation of that county needs to be conducted. Something is VERY WRONG THERE.
Reply 30

Shane Jones · 2w
Shelley Schmaltz Yeah something is WRONG THIS PIECE OF SHIT KILLED 2 LITTLE GIRL'S
Reply

Lisa Muhs · 2w
Shelley Schmaltz there is FBI presence.
Reply

Claire Ceci · 2w
Lisa Muhs I hope and pray this is true. I also hope we can trust their investigation. Because so far justice has not been served.
Reply 2

Reply to Lisa Muhs...

Reply to Shelley Bryant...

Claire Ceci · 2w
He said in the very beginning he was innocent. Then they stuck him in solitary confinement for 13 months (against his constitutional rights) and he declined into psychosis. Then they coerced him into confessing. He certainly should get an appeal. And what was done to those two girls is evil. Justice has not been served yet.

Reply 36

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Claire Ceci he declined into psychosis because he was in segregation?? I can't believe people like you actually buy that shit. His "psychosis" was an act. A couple doses of haldol later and voila!! Just like that he's back to normal.

Reply 10

Shane Jones · 2w
Robyn Hlewka Facts 💯....THAT PIECE OF SHIT DID IT....WHY WAS A BULLET (HIS BULLET FROM HIS GUN) FOUND UNDER ONE OF THE LITTLE GIRL'S?? THAT NIGGA KILLED 2 LITTLE GIRL'S NO APPEAL FOR YOU MOTHER FUCKER....KILL YOURSELF 🖕🖕🖕

Reply

Zach Parker · 2w
Robyn Hlewka are you retarded or do you just pretend to be? You are aware solitary is one of the worst things you can do to someone mentally.

Reply

Claire Ceci · 2w
Robyn Hlewka I do not have to defend myself to you. So I will say "whatever" now.

Reply 3

Kevin Ailes · 2w

Robyn Hlewka .... You wouldn't happen to be from Russia would you?

Thankfully, the appeals court judges know a little more about mental illness than you do!

Why in the world would the judge prohibit the defense from showing a sketch that investigators showed to millions and millions of people during the course of their investigation?..... don't you remember?..... have you seen this guy, if so call us!!!..... now the jury can't see the sketch ..... WHY? Like the appeal judge said "a picture is worth a thousand words"!!!

At this point, it's not about Allen's guilt or innocence..... The issue before us is.... WAS HIS TRIAL FAIR????

I say NO!

Way too many issues that is not conducive to a fair trial!

Reply 2

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan · 2w

Robyn Hlewka At what point was he back to "normal" Dr?

Reply 2

Kris Studley · 2w

Robyn Hlewka did you even watch the appeal hearing? One of the judges said, "You protected him into psychosis", when the state kept saying he wasn't being punished, that he was kept in solitary for his own protection.

Reply Edited 3

Robyn Hlewka · 2w

Kris Studley I did watch it. That judge is just as gullible as you.

Reply

Robyn Hlewka · 2w

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan lol... did you not read my comment??
I clearly said "a couple of doses of haldol and he was back to normal".
That's literally what happened.

Reply 1

Kris Studley · 2w

Robyn Hlewka I see you're Canadian, I should have known by your pompous and irrational arrogance.

Reply

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan · 2w
Robyn Hlewka He is far from being back to normal, haldol is only a blocker so I'm missing your point unless you are being sarcastic furthermore, none of us know if he was already displaying signs of psychosis previous to all of this. There are various states of psychosis & by the time the psychiatrist evaluated him & confirmed it he was already in severe psychosis & maybe you should do yourself a favor & read up on psychosis

Reply Edited 1

Mark A. Pequignot · 2w
Robyn Hlewka That's B.S.! And you should be ashamed.... go snack on some feces Robyn!

Reply

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Michelle Rainer-Gaughan you bleeding hearts make me laugh... what psychiatrists?? Hired to evaluate him by the defense?? That right there tells you all you need to know. Haldol must be awful because he chose acting right as opposed to his crazy routine. Being segregated doe not make a normal person have a psychotic episode. Fuck him... he's guilty.

Reply

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Shane Jones hey dummy, read my comment again. I think you're replying to the wrong person. I clearly said he was putting on a crazy act. He is guilty

Reply

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Zach Parker fuck right off. That is bullshit.

Reply

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Michelle Rainer-Gaughan eat shit fuck face

Reply 1

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Kris Studley you make me sick. You fucking stupid cunt.

Reply 1

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan · 2w
Robyn Hlewka Bleeding hearts 🤣 Dr John Martin was not appointed by Richard Allens defense team! Obviously you haven't followed this case. You resort to calling names because that's all you have! Grow up!

Reply Edited

Kris Studley · 2w
Robyn Hlewka I know Canada has extremely long backlogs for psychiatric treatment. I'm sorry you're not receiving the help you need for your illness.

Reply 1

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Kris Studley lmao... get fucked. The mental illness here is sticking up for a child killer.

Reply

Kris Studley · 2w
Robyn Hlewka You're not American, perhaps that's why you're not understanding the current appeal issue is not about guilt, it's about OUR constitution and rights to due process. Canada has no shortage of its own problems, perhaps you should focus on what impacts your own country instead of trying to meddle in our's.

Reply

Libby Baca · 2w
Claire Ceci I completely agree with you I have a loved one at the same prison and it is beyond terrible... he tells me some of the horror story of those men that's put in solitary confinement... They never come out the same

Reply

Reply to Robyn Hlewka...

Jennifer Stewart · 2w
Claire Ceci first off you are wrong. He confessed to his family way before he every faked being in a psychotic state of mind. His ex wife and ex step daughter both agree he is guilty. That says a lot. He is a narcissist murderer and deserves what he got.

Reply

Claire Ceci · 2w
Jennifer Stewart Whatever.
Reply

Reply to Jennifer Stewart...

Joanne Healey · 2w
Claire Ceci He confessed before and after his psychosis. Only five confessions out of 60+ happened during the time he was in psychosis.
Reply 6

Claire Ceci · 2w
Joanne Healey Nope.
Reply

Joanne Healey · 2w
Claire Ceci Wrong.
Reply

Kevin Ailes · 2w
Joanne Healey .... Wrong!
You have to listen to all his recorded calls..... he clearly states!
I don't know what I'm doing
I'm out of my mind
He said these things while the state contends he was ok
We all want justice for Libby & Abby..... justice means convicting the right person ..... if the prosecutors case was so strong, why all the shady stuff???
Reply 6

Christy Sharp · 2w
Joanne Healey Why did Gull have the audio of those videos removed at trial. Jurors didn't get the whole context of what was going on. All 3 judges didn't like that. State controlled what the jurors saw & heard. Alot of handout of pics.
Reply 2

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan · 2w

Joanne Healey He also denied it numerous times before & after he was arrested & imprisoned. During the initial interrogation, the interrogator became very verbally aggressive & was trying to force a confession out of him. A person can only be badgered for so long before their mind breaks & they give in just to stop the craziness. It started there & continued & got worse once he was put in prison. Watching his 1st interrogation & then his wife coming in the room during it & the conversation they had, I don't believe he's guilty at all.

Reply Edited 3

Melissa Wilson · 2w

Kevin Ailes but why did they find the jacket of the man's in his house please explain that

Reply

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan · 2w

Melissa Wilson Delphi is a small town. Most of the men more than likely shop at the same store & a blue, black & brown Carrhart jackets are very common everywhere. I'd would rather someone explain how not even a speck of blood was found on his jacket or anywhere being that the murders were very violent with a lot of blood loss. I would also like to know if Richard Allen has a bad leg that causes him to walk with a severe limp like the man on the high bridge

Reply Edited

Michael Ragan · 2w

Melissa Wilson it was a similar jacket.

Reply 2

Virginia R Himes · 2w

Michael Ragan and with no DNA evidence. Blue Carhartt jackets are a dime a dozen in Indiana, just about every guy has one.

Reply 1

Reply to Joanne Healey...

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Claire Ceci Oh, if he claimed he was innocent, why even have a trial? The only people who are guilty are the ones who admit it from the beginning.

I do have concerns about his confessions, given his psychosis. However, they did not coerce him. They didn't even interrogate him in jail.

Reply Edited

Kris Studley · 2w
Marcia Mahony how do you know they didn't coerce him? Did you hear what was said on the videos when he was in solitary? No, because the state convinced the judge to remove the audio!

Reply 2

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan · 2w
Marcia Mahony No he was horribly interrogated before he was arrested the same day on Oct 26th, 2022, badgered & bullied by the interrogator because he wasn't saying what they wanted to hear & as far as the rest, nobody knows what they did or said while he was in jail or prison unless you were there.

Reply Edited 1

Kevin Ailes · 2w
Michelle Rainer-Gaughan .... I can assure you he was badgered by the confirmed gang member prison guards 24 hours a day!

Come on Rick, tell us you did it
You are a child killer Rick
Tell us you did it Rick and things will get better for you
All you gotta do is confess Rick
Who helped you Rick
You killed those girls Rick

He heard this 24 hours a day!!!!
He was put in the "hole" in an effort to get him to roll on his accomplice..... according to the prosecutor, at the prosecutor's post arrest press conference
"More arrests are coming"
"This is still a on-going investigation"

At the time of Allen's arrests, the state firmly believed more than one person was involved..... it's clear by the post arrest press conference!

Reply 1

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Joanne Mistrulli · 2w
Claire Ceci yeah that's why he kept going back-and-forth saying he did it that he didn't do it. I don't know what they did to him in there, but what he was saying and exhibiting was not normal.
Reply 1

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Claire Ceci I call you names because you're sticking up for a child murderer
Reply

Reply to Claire Ceci...

Stan Draper · 1w
He's innocent
Reply 1

Carol Collins · 2w
I still believe that Mr Logan the property owner who bragged in prison about it get it. There has been testimony of by an ex-girlfriend that he was very cruel and mean to animals and to her as well we all need to rethink this but whether he is guilty or not that those jurors need to determine that and listen well God bless them all
Reply

Pamela Eckels Guthrie · 2w
He's guilty
Reply 5

Susan Burrows · 2w
May the judges bring justice back to the legal system in Indiana! ⚖️
Richard Allen did NOT get a fair trial!
Reply 6

Michelle Filoni Maleta · 2w
the unspent bullet from his gun at the crime scene is what did it for me
Reply 4

Brian Steinke · 2w
Michelle Filoni Maleta absolutely. That puts him there at the scene.
Reply 1

Reply to Michelle Filoni Maleta...

Alyssa Bannach · 2w
Still. No motive. No DNA connection. I truly don't understand how he was convicted without these giant pieces of evidences that are always used in court. Someone please explain this part.

Reply 7

Lowell Parson · 2w
Alyssa Bannach simple, the judge didn't allowed the jury to hear certain things, not the entire story or scenario the only material evidence I had was a bullet, and I still believe it was Barney, Fife, that did the investigation, and that bullet they and floyd gilmer and goober were his deputies found was the one that fell out of his shirt pocket. And floyd gomer and goober was his deputies, and andy, was on vacation with helen

Reply 1

Perry E. Tucker · 2w
Alyssa Bannach , Now explain how a jury of peers is the road to justice?
I trust dogs more than people!

Reply 4

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Alyssa Bannach Motive is not an element of the crime. I have concerns about using the confession of a mentally ill person.

And I think he's guilty. He put himself at the crime scene before he decompensated, before he was even a suspect. And rounds from his gun were at the crime scene along with the girls.

Reply 3

Christy Sharp · 2w
Marcia Mahony He lived & worked there for 5 yrs, not 1 person tipped him in. He didn't break down till solitary confinement. " you protected him into psychosis. "

Reply Edited

Reply to Marcia Mahony...

Reply to Alyssa Bannach...

Kristina Heller · 1w
They have evidence that matches the video on the girls phone.
Reply 1

Elizabeth O'connell Forrer · 2w
He admitted it. What else do they want
Reply 1

Myra Zane Smith-Robinson · 2w
Free the man!!!
Reply 1

Kathy Johnston · 2w
I believe he's innocent
Reply 2

Claire Ceci · 2w
There is a really good youtube channel called "Hidden Killers with Tony Brueski: True Crime Today". I have been watching his coverage of the Delphi case. And he talks about other people who may have been involved. I would suggest anyone who wants to learn more, watch his channel.
Reply 2

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Claire Ceci ITS great, plus I love Robin Dreeke retired head of FBI BAU, my favourite quote by Robin 'if you think hes guilty because he confessed then you are a psychopath'
Reply 2

Claire Ceci · 2w
Classic Over Thinker That's an interesting quote. I also like Bob Motta and I listen to what he has to say. And of course Tony Brueski! Thank you for your common sense reply.
Reply 2

April Vasquez · 1w
Claire Ceci
ClassicOverThinker also has a great channel on YouTube that points out all of the BS.
Reply

Reply to Classic Over Thinker...

Reply to Claire Ceci...

Gabe Beckham · 2w
So obviously guilty.
Reply 1

Tony Hunt · 2w
Gabe Beckham Poor Richard!!! Please let him out already!!! He's suffered enough!!!
Reply

Reply to Gabe Beckham...

Annie English · 2w
Hopefully someone will get it right this time. Your mental shape has alot to do with how your mind works i would have told them what they wanted to hear just to get them out of my face. ...he was setup by the family and law enforcement someone had to be found guilty...
Reply 2

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Annie English Um no. Lots of cases go unsolved. This one was for 5 years. Why are you going all tin foil hat? Is that just your normal behavior?
Reply

Haley Brock · 1w
Annie English what family ??????
Reply

Reply to Annie English...

Kimberly Stavrakis Withers · 2w
Guilty, guilty, guilty, guilty! 😈😈
Reply 3

Susan Burrows · 2w
#EndWrongfulConvictions
Reply 1

Emily Wills · 2w
He's guilty
Reply 3

Lisa N Bridges · 2w
Death
Reply 1

Jeff Jarosak · 2w
FREE RA.....
Reply 1

Claire Ceci · 2w
A couple of other things. Richard Allen had NO criminal record. And how come no one turned him in based on the sketch or sketches? It's because it was not him. He is a patsy. I feel sick about what happened to those two girls. But I also feel terrible about what THEY have done to an innocent man, Richard Allen. I also feel so bad for his wife and daughter. Please stay strong. May God bless you all, is what I have to say. I have never spent one day in jail myself. I have not committed any crimes. But it is sure scary to think they can take an innocent man and do this to him. There will be no forgiveness to anyone who has done this. I follow the law. I have usually thought better of law enforcement but NOT after this.
Reply 2

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Claire Ceci 100% of people during their first arrest have no record of being arrested before. So maybe RA is one of that 100%?
Reply

Claire Ceci · 1w
Shawn Palmi I do not have to defend myself to you. So I will say "whatever".
Reply

Reply to Shawn Palmi...

Reply to Claire Ceci...

Sue Carpenter · 2w
He stated to his wife on a prison phone more than once that he did the murders..... what more does the justice scales need to weight out the juries decision. You don't keep trying someone until you get an answer that his attorney wants. Give the families a break, and let these girls rest in peace once and for all. Save the millions of tax payers dollars!

Reply 8

Sue Carpenter · 2w
Pull the recording of the prison phone call and make it public. The reasses your decision.

Reply 1

Mandy Salinas · 1w
Sue Carpenter the prison phone calls are out. You know, the ones where he tells his wife, "because I think I did it."

Reply

April Vasquez · 1w
Sue Carpenter
Pull the transcript of the call to his dad that he made hours before he started "confessing".

Reply

Reply to Sue Carpenter...

Larry McCullough · 2w
Sue Carpenter that is the dumbest thing the jail said. They have NO recordings of that phone call admission. The families will still grieve mo matter what the outcome is. However, they would probably appreciate the truth and the person who is actually responsible for the crime instead of the man they want just to appease the families. Justice over grief!!

Reply 1

King Ron · 2w
Sue Carpenter yeah, all the while the real murderer is out scott free laughing at people like you.

Reply

Reply to Sue Carpenter...

Elizabeth Trilling · 2w
They say, if touch a piece of paper, you leave DNA. Where is the DNA? How could one murder 2 children and not leave a single bit of DNA? How?

Reply 1

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Elizabeth Trilling Maybe the killer had on gloves?

Reply

Reply to Elizabeth Trilling...

Jenny Crume · 2w
I was at court yesterday as I will always be there until we get Justice for Rick that man did not do this he was not given a fair trial and they all know it and they all know who did this and I've been saying this for the last decade.. we will get our day in court again... And after we get Justice for Rick that's when the real Justice comes for Libby and Abby because right now there is no justice for any of them and that's the God's honest truth.. and I know this case better than anybody been in on day one and I also know everybody that surrounds this case including family seeing how I am like family to all of them.. they railroaded him and they know it!! No DNA Richard Allen didn't get a blue carhart until after 2019 and you can clearly see there is no logos on the blue jacket of the man on the bridge not to mention he's tall and thick Richard Allen is short... They took the geofencing away because it proves Rick was not there and who was and that's why they took that away and the third party think about it they set this man up..
There is so much about this case that most people don't even know about and things that happen in court and Carroll county that should have never been allowed to happen having a biased judge a prosecutor that was related to everybody was conflict of interest and so much more we need a new trial and a new judge that is not biased and a different prosecutor that's not family and all evidence entered into court oh but wait we didn't get a tell the appellate judges that Carroll county lost 70 days of interrogations and polygraphs how convenient for them they did that crap on purpose.. I know all of them and Carroll county and how dirty and evil and corrupted they are they know they did wrong and I pray to God we get a chance to prove that he did not do this because he is an innocent man.. and I'm so glad people are waking up and finally seeing this..

Reply 11

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Jenny Crume You seriously see a tall man when you see BG?
Reply

Reply to Jenny Crume...

Sammy Singleton · 2w
I would like to know why they are keeping him in prison outta state. To me makes you wonder if they are trying to hide something. If you look on Indiana department of corrections inmate finder and look up his name, it shows he is in a out of state facility
Reply 1

Tara V Kelly-Lippard · 2w
Sammy Singleton that's because they screwed up and now want to try and cover it up. I believe the family knows something too had that feeling from beginning. He is innocent. Why were these girls meeting a man off line ? Done it several times.
Reply 1

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Sammy Singleton he was transferred to Oklahoma!!
Reply

Reply to Sammy Singleton...

Marcus Cornell · 2w
I don't care how much everyone wants him to be innocent. No man ever said he was guilty when he wasn't. I don't care what anyone says. I would die & my last breath i would say I was innocent.
Reply 2

Shawn Palmi · 2w
Marcus Cornell It's actually pretty common for people to confess to crimes they didn't do for various reasons.
Reply 1

Marcus Cornell · 2w
Shawn Palmi it's your story tell it like you want.
Reply

Reply to Shawn Palmi...

Classic Over Thinker · 2w

Marcus Cornell that sort of thinking is why the US has the highest wrongful conviction rate of nearly all countries. The absolute lowest estimate is 40,000-50,000 innocent people are in prison atm (report by DOJ). Most wrongful convictions include - false confessions, junk science, bad witness ID and misconduct be either LE or the courts or both. 🤦

Reply 1

Marcus Cornell · 2w

Classic Over Thinker yeah well this time they got it right.

Reply

Classic Over Thinker · 1w

Marcus Cornell I just want LE to do there bloody job and test the DNA! They should actually try investigating 🤦. Although these dickheads cleared someone whose alibi was downloading CSAM 🙈. Which would be fine if they arrested the fcker for the CSAM with girls as young as 3yo, bur no they didn't care 🙈🙈. WHOSE SEMINAL FLUID IS INSIDE BOTH GIRLS & wholes DNA is on their genitals! You may not care who did that to the girls but i do 😢!

A. So the contents of the evidence collection kits from – collected from L.G. and A.W. contained a series of items. Those items from each kit were vaginal wash samples, vaginal/cervical swabs, oral swabs, anal swabs, external genital swabs, internal genital swabs, fingernail scrapings, in addition, a head hair combing sample was collected from both L.G. and A.W., and a pubic hair combing was collected from L.G. As I mentioned earlier, my analysis begins with a serological examination, so those items were tested and screened for the presence of seminal material. No seminal material was detected in the contents of the kits that were tested with the exception of the vaginal/cervical swabs from each kit indicated the possible presence of seminal material, but there was no confirmatory testing performed. Moving on to my DNA analysis results, the contents of both of those evidence collection kits, in order – I did the extraction and the quantitations and, as part of the quantification step, I analyzed the amount of male DNA present in the samples, and the contents of the kits mostly contained no male DNA, with the exception of one set of external genital swabs from A.W. and one set of external genital swabs from L.G., as well as one sample from the fingernail scrapings of each of the kits. Those samples indicated the presence of male DNA; however, there was an insufficient amount of male DNA for further analysis. So like I mentioned earlier, given that there was no male

Reply

Reply to Classic Over Thinker...

Reply to Marcus Cornell...

Bob Fitzgerald · 2w
He was railroaded to close the case.

Reply

Jesse Hughett · 2w
God knows

Reply 3

Esme Loock Laubser · 2w
According to me , they got the wrong guy, but even if he did it, there were not enough evidence against him, and the judge did no one favours, she botched this case, it was not a fair trial

Reply

Daniel Prince · 2w

Reply 2

Claire Ceci · 2w
Ask yourself this question. How tall is Bridge Guy? The video of Bridge Guy places him at between 5 ft. 8 in. possibly up to 6 ft tall. How could Richard Allen be Bridge Guy? Richard Allen is between 5 ft 4 inches to 5 ft. 5 inches. When I saw the footage of Richard Allen I was shocked at how he wasn't possibly tall enough to be Bridge Guy. Once again, I say that justice has not been served. And it's really terrible that these 2 little girls were murdered and there is still a criminal or criminals on the loose.

Reply 2

Lorinda Cearing · 2w
Claire Ceci Not one person said they saw a short man, and if I were giving a description of RA to the police the first comment from my mouth would be he was short.

Reply 1

Shawn Palmi · 1w
Lorinda Cearing The first thing I thought when I saw BG was white, middle aged, chunky, short guy. Which is why RL as a suspect was so strange to me, as was the young looking sketch. Unlike 99% of cases we actually have video of BG. And while we can't make out the exactly what his face looked like, we can see things like his height.

Reply

Claire Ceci · 1w
Shawn Palmi You need to have your eyes checked. BG is obviously not short.

Reply Edited

Reply to Lorinda Cearing...

Reply to Claire Ceci...

Nick Johnson · 2w
He's guilty but that trial was garbage. Do or again and do it right so that there is zero chance he'll ever get out on some kind of appeal.

Reply 1

Anthony Mcnary · 2w
Too

Reply

Charlotte Gearing · 2w

Reply 1

Capture Entire Screen

Classic Over Thinker · 2w
Charlotte Gearing Australia too!!

Reply

Reply to Charlotte Gearing...

Charlotte Gearing · 2w

Reply 1

Bsue Price · 2w
Guilty!

Reply 9

Karen Waters · 2w
Not going to happen 👏

Reply

Bridgett Cali Fitzpatrick · 2w
Guilty.....

Reply 6

Misty Gick · 2w
Well what did they decide on? I'd like to know. Really fed up with these people saying that he is innocent in the comments!!!!

Reply Edited 3

Joanne Mistrulli · 2w
Misty Gick you should read up on his appeal and what the attorney argued . it's really really interesting and eye-opening

Reply

Misty Gick · 2w
Joanne Mi like I said sick and tired of people saying that he is innocent. Did You or Didn't you read my statement correctly!! Obviously not, still tired of people being idiots.

Reply

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Misty Gick Decide about what? The court's decision on the appeal can take weeks or months. Maybe you should actually read the article before you call others idiots.

Reply

Misty Gick · 2w
Joanne Mi you don't tell me what I need to read. Just like my statement sick and tired of people saying that he Is innocent. So please back the fk off

Reply

Reply to Joanne Mistrulli...

Reply to Misty Gick...

Ronda Hurley · 2w
Is Rick still mArried to Kathy

Reply 1

Hernandez C Elizabeth · 2w
Ronda Hurley There have been rumors that she divorced him but I don't believe that is true.

Reply

Reply to Ronda Hurley...

Ronda Hurley · 2w
On one of the podcasts I watched it said that Brad Holders son was dating one of the victims

Reply 2

Theresa Tarzwell · 2w
Ronda Hurley Libby

Reply

Reply to Ronda Hurley...

Beth Wenz Haisley · 2w
HE CONFESSED.

Reply 2

Erica Lynne · 2w
Beth Wenz Haisley so did Lindsay Clancy but look at all the support she gets 🤦‍♀️

Reply 2

Beth Wenz Haisley · 2w
Erica Lynne yep. I don't get anyone defending a child killer. Ever.

Reply 1

Erica Lynne · 2w
Beth Wenz Haisley same girl. Same.

Reply 1

Reply to Erica Lynne...

Reply to Beth Wenz Haisley...

Ronda Hurley · 2w
Rumor has it one of the prosecutors was related to one of the victims. I don't know what to believe so much more stuff surfacing

Reply 2

Joanne Mistrulli · 2w
Ronda Hurley really?????? Wow. Talk about prosecutorial bias.
Reply

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Joanne Mi No.
Reply

Brad Begley · 2w
Joanne Mi lie lie
Reply

Brad Begley · 2w
Joanne Mi rumor has it that Richard Allens wife helped him kill the girls
Reply

Reply to Joanne Mistrulli...

Marcia Mahony · 2w
Ronda Hurley Don't believe and spread rumors without checking them out.
Reply

Brad Begley · 2w
Ronda Hurley lie lie
Reply

Brad Begley · 2w
Ronda Hurley rumor. has it Richard Allens wife helped him kill the girls
Reply Edited

Reply to Ronda Hurley...

Debra Baker · 2w
Guilty as hell
Reply 6

Marcia Mahony · 2w
He did it.
Reply 8

Charlie Brattain · 2w
Free Rick Allen
Reply 9

Sherry Peterson · 2w
He sure looks like the picture, but he was heavier then.
Reply 3

Michelle Rainer-Gaughan · 2w
Sherry Peterson A million men look like that grainy pic! You can't even see the mans features. I have an ex boyfriend, someone I knew years ago, A few men I looked at in their profile profile pics. With the clarity of this not so great pic, what stands out to you that makes you think that?
Reply 2

Megan Bell · 2w
He looks and sounds like the killer, and he freely admitted to being on the bridge that day. If it quacks like a duck.....
Reply 1

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Megan Bell He sounds nothing like the bridge guy, and also that recording was heavily altered, per the police.
And there were dizens of people who visited the bridge that day. No physical evidence, no motive, no dna, nothing to connect him to the crime.
Reply

Reply to Michelle Rainer-Gaughan...

Reply to Sherry Peterson...

Zuri Jones · 2w
THIS is the problem when snarky judges don't allow all the evidence to be presented at trial. Then there are questions left unanswered. That judge should be pulled as a judge for the way this trial was handled.
*I'm not saying he's innocent or guilty. But ALL evidence should be allowed in a court of law so that jurors can make an informed decision.
Reply Edited 39

Robyn Hlewka · 2w
Zuri Jones all that odinist shit is not evidence

Reply

Tommy J Bodnar · 2w
Zuri Jones evidence is evidence! Use it all, nothing should be thrown out, let the jury see everything don't filter nothing , let the jury decide if it fits don't feed them the just what you want them to see!

Reply 2

Krystal Carmack · 2w
Zuri Jones the judge retired right after his case

Reply Edited 1

Zuri Jones · 2w
Krystal Carmack Good to know. She left herself a one 💩 of a legacy.

Reply Edited

Hernandez C Elizabeth · 2w
Krystal Carmack It's ironic that Doug Carter also retired and Toby Leazenby went to a different county still in law enforcement, though.

Reply

Reply to Krystal Carmack...

G Owen Yenolds · 2w
Zuri Jones let ALL evidence come in? Sssssssoooooo hearsay is valid now?

Police reports?

Social media posts?

Tip hotline calls that are real, fake, or malicious?

Sounds like a horrible idea.

Reply

Zuri Jones · 2w
G Owen Yenolds You're obviously not familiar with the case. That is not what I'm talking about. This judge was losing her mind. She even tried to get his defense council removed. A man has a right to a defense AND to present an alternate theory along with evidence to support it, including eye witnesses, etc. She wouldn't allow most of it.

Reply

G Owen Yenolds · 2w

Zuri Jones nope. Not familiar at all. Just lived next door to the cousins for a decade and am an attorney.

No need to get into the facts when the premise of your question is sssssssoooooo absolutely stupid.

Reply

Zuri Jones · 2w

G Owen Yenolds Every other attorney weighing in on this disagrees with you. What's the old saying? "When the debate is lost, insults are the loser's tools."

Reply

G Owen Yenolds · 2w

Zuri Jones what you said was allow EVERY piece of evidence in. That eliminates 2 very important rules:

1- relevance. It may be evidence, but does it do anything to move the needle towards reaching a verdict?
2- Probative value does not exceed prejudice. Essentially, will a piece of evidence cause confusion among the jury and actually reduce the chances of a verdict?

Those are very important safeguards to have and why Evidence is one of the hardest phases of any trial.

That's why police reports aren't admissible but can be used to impeach a witness (usually the officer who wrote the report). That's why hearsay isn't generally allowed (because anyone could put words in the mouth of someone else who isn't being called as a witness. That's why chain of custody on all physical evidence gathered by the police during investigation is so important. Break the chain of custody and that evidence needs to be quashed or else it will lead to confusion.

Admissibility of evidence vs its Probative weight/value are two distinctly different concepts. And they are different for a reason.

So, no, what the talking heads are discussing is where Judge Gull got it wrong on ruling on specific pieces of evidence or denying motions to present different defense theories.

No one is saying EVERYTHING should come in.

Pay closer to attention to what they are actually saying. Are the talking heads saying EVERYTHING should come in, or that everything on a particular list that they compiled should have come in.

Getting a ruling wrong vs changing the rules are different.

I called you out, continue to call you out, and will continue to call you out. You didn't say this particular case, you spoke of "snarky judges" and your last sentence: "[b]ut ALL evidence should be allowed in A COURT OF LAW...."

You spoke universally and you are wrong for it. Period.

Reply Edited

Reply to G Owen Yenolds...

Reply to Zuri Jones...

Kimalie Webb · 2w
A jury of twelve found him guilty after reviewing all the evidence.
Witnesses on the bridge that day testified they saw Richard Allen on the bridge that day.
There is evidence that points to Allen's guilt. He confessed.
Allen was housed at the correctional center vs jail at the request of his defense attorneys.

Reply 3

April Vasquez · 1w
Kimalie Webb
Ma'am, no.
The jury was not shown all of the evidence.
Not a single witness identified Allen.
He "confessed" while psychotic and the details were not factual.
The STATE asked to have him held in the worst maximum security prison in the state as a "safe keeper". By law Allen should have been at the safe keeping hearing and had the opportunity to deny safe keeping; that didn't happen. His defense attorneys tried to get him moved out of the prison and the state lied saying he was fine. Did you pay attention at all? Watch oral arguments at the very least. Geesh.

You obviously have no clue about this case; better not to comment.

Reply 1

Ryan Bennison · 1w
Kimalie Webb literally everything you just said is factually incorrect 🤣💩🤣💩
Go educate yourself then come back!

Reply 1

Kimalie Webb · 1w
Ryan Bennison Not true. Come back when you have something better. Da Nile is a river in Egypt.

Reply 1

Ryan Bennison · 1w
Kimalie Webb sure 🤣

Reply

Reply to Ryan Bennison...

Kimalie Webb · 1w
Yes, I paid attention. It was Allen's attorneys who did not believe the jail could keep him safe.

Reply

Reply to Kimalie Webb...

Kathy Cook Cummings · 1w
Should have never even been arrested!

Reply

Joshua Baer · 1w
U ever been in the hole. For a long time you would have mental problems too. S

Reply 1

Joshua Baer · 1w
When he's found not guilty. The judge needs locked up in solitaire. She should be disbared. She did wrong.

Reply

Katina Lightfoot · 2w
He needs to stay in prison

Reply

Glenda Skelton · 2w
Hell No! He needs to be put in the Electric chair!

Reply

Shelley Bray · 2w
you all saying this is BG LOL. Brad Holder. bald no poofy hair and a full beard . Feb. 15 2017. Now who is lying to you? the defense . someone better do research before keep blaming an innocent man.

Reply

Linda Dowell · 2w
He should stay in prison.He should not get any help getting out.He did it and he should stay where he's at the girls don't get out of the ground so

Reply

Danielle Franke · 2w
Shouldn't have taken two little girls' lives.

Reply 1

Christopher J Shepard · 2w
He deserves another trial

Reply 1

Karen Callahan Stewart · 2w
This bastard should rot in jail.

Reply 1

Joanne Healey · 2w
GUILTY! GUILTY! GUILTY!

Reply 3

Jill Marie Cox · 2w
He not your guy! You got the wrong man while your punshing the wrong man the real man out there! Sad they don't see that!

Reply 1

Pam Minnix · 2w
Don't let the killer free

Reply 1

Brian Stewart · 2w
They should publicly execute this piece of shit.

Reply 1

Dave Winfrey Jr. · 2w
The people that actually think he's innocent make flat earthers look normal and rational

Reply 2

Bill Davis · 2w
Guilty should be on death row

Reply 1

John Thomas · 2w
he was found guiltyby jury so he's guilty not up for debate. not up for all this. b* he should have got the death penalty. it was any of you on here talking back and forth about all this BS. if it was your child, he would be guilty

Reply Edited 2

April Vasquez · 1w
John Thomas
No, if it were my child; I would fight for the truth to come out!! I would want to be absolutely certain that the right person was paying for it. All evidence that exonerates Allen needs to be presented!

Reply

John Thomas · 1w
That's why they have jury trials. so 12 people can review the evidence and give their opinion not just one

Reply 1

John Thomas · 1w
but I don't want to bicker or argue with anybody about this situation. I just simply voiced my opinion and I'm well entitled to that as you are

Reply 1

Reply to John Thomas...

Dave Pigecella · 2w
Burn in hell

Reply

Floyd Hammond · 2w
If your mental illness causes you to admit to murder then you are also capable of Murder

Reply Edited

April Vasquez · 1w
Floyd Hammond
The mental illness that was created while in custody.
Makes sense...

Reply

Reply to Floyd Hammond...

Jackie Smudzinski · 2w
Rot in prison.

Reply

Craig Flynn · 2w
Stick him in the general population at the prison while this stupidity continues!

Reply

Jeff Nunnally · 2w
No DNA ,no murder weapon,not one speck of blood in the car he supposedly got in after murdering 2 people? Plus he talked to police the day after it happened and it took them 5 years to say,we had the info all along?

Reply

Brooke Gunderson · 2w

I've been following this case on YouTube for a VERY long time! Richard Allen is INNOCENT!!
Ron Logan (deceased in 2022) pedophile
Kegan Kline- cellmate of Ron Logan (pedophile)
Brad Holder- neighbor of Ron Logan
Father of Abby's boyfriend. In to Odenism (symbols were laid on both Abby and Libby's bodies) I don't remember who the other members of Brad Holders cult are. I'm sure they were involved also!
Also I'm SO tired of people spreading rumors that those girls were shot! Yes she'll casings where found nearby but that could have been do to anything other than those 2 particular murders.
I pray that WHEN Richard Allen is acquitted of all charges upon a reasonable doubt, he along with his Attorneys need to file a HUGE compensation to notorious only Richard Allen's attorney's, but a HUGE payout to Richard Allen for EVERYTHING that he's been through!! Shameful and disgusting!!!
Btw, don't even think about trying to reply with some ignorant opposition/opinion! They will ALL be ignored fully by me!!! I'm just going to laugh at you! Keep that in mind and put that in ya book! 😉😘
Have a nice day...

Reply

Barbara Bean · 2w

He is !!!!! Hes guilty....hes nuts....

Reply

Mike Zeese · 2w

Yeah, and Luigi didn't shoot that guy in the back in New York either. Right!!!

Reply

Heather Cutter · 2w

Hell no

Reply 1

Philo M Bedoe · 2w

Fuck you, rot!

Reply

SJ Clifford · 2w

What a crock of shit. He's guilty af.

Reply

Sandi Smith · 2w
I hope he Rots on prison..he doesn't deserve to live..he's got evil written all over his face...

Reply

John Hawkins Sr. · 2w
Let's not forget two sweet innocent girls were brutally tortured and murdered if you want to overlook obvious evidence you have to live with it don't make the parents and loved ones go through this again I'm sure they know who you are.

Reply 2

Albert Al-t Thomas Muskin Sr. · 2w
Nah FK him.. let him rot!!!

Reply

Robin Welcher Thomlison · 2w
He should've never been arrested, much less convicted. BOTCHED from day one. Dude definitely didn't get a fair trial 😔

Reply

Mike Marmande · 2w
Hope it overturns the the death penalty

Reply

Kenny Loveless · 2w
Not that s it again kill him just like he did them 😡

Reply

Austin Annis · 2w
I met his attorney that helped fuck him really hard before he withdrew...I met the peice of shit an he was wearing an Odin ring!!!

Reply Edited

TiffanyMark Rees · 2w

It's sad that the small town Indiana judicial systems are so corrupt! They needed someone to convict for closure. But there's just one thing wrong with all this.. they withheld so much evidence, because they so badly needed him to take the fall!! I have personally seen the crime scene photos. There's no way possible that RA was able to carry those heavy dead children. Come on, again I've seen the crime scene photos. I actually have them in my possession. RA deserves a new trial in a new venue with fair and impartial jurors. Not an entire town and county running on super high emotions!!!! Please give him another trial! If he's truly guilty, they will find him guilty!! But at least there will be no questions!!!! And if he's not the killer... Shame on courts in that county!!!!!

Reply 1

Kimberly Stavrakis Withers · 2w

TiffanyMark Rees nobody "carried" the girls. Rick Allen murdered them right there. They were petrified. He had a gun and had them undress.

Reply 1

TiffanyMark Rees · 2w

Kimberly Stavrakis Withers what ever you say!!!

Reply

TiffanyMark Rees · 2w

Kimberly Stavrakis Withers obviously you've never seen the crime scene photos .. But what ever

Reply

TiffanyMark Rees · 2w

Kimberly Stavrakis Withers well it will be interesting to see what happens. It's an absolute tragedy. My heart goes out to the families and community! I'm a Hoosier and this was too close to home!

Reply

Kimberly Stavrakis Withers · 2w

TiffanyMark Rees I honestly don't think Rick will ever be able to hurt another child again. He will never be free. The families are at peace with that. ❤️

Reply Edited

Reply to Kimberly Stavrakis Withers...

Reply to TiffanyMark Rees...

Patti Doan · 2w
They really screwed this man
Reply

Terry Smoker · 2w
Patti Doan this man screwed himself
Reply

Faye Pedigo · 2w
Patti Doan I think so too, but I also think he was involved but he didn't do it alone
Reply

Reply to Patti Doan...

Gregory Kirk · 2w
Bridge guy looks much bigger than him.
Reply 1

Debra Nelson · 2w
He killed those kids,,, and trying to get out of murder
Reply 1

Dave Turbin · 2w
He should rot in hell for what he did
Reply

Paul Roberts · 2w
He's wasting taxpayer money taking care of his killing ass Monster and people that want him out are too
Reply

Sharon Dewispeleare · 2w
He admitted to his wife he killed the girls
Reply

Anthony Mcnary · 2w
He used to be fat too
Reply

Ted Schott · 2w
trading noodles for ass ra forever lol.
Reply

Bsue Price · 2w
Why would anyone want that scumbag back on the street?!
Reply 1

Bsue Price · 2w
Guilty! Heard Mr Weber 's vehicle. Spooked him. Only killer would know that. He had a very fair trial 2.5 million worth. Who gets that kind of money for their defense?! Praying the families of Libby and Abby doesn't have to suffer through another trial. Because greedy lawyer's want their pockets refilled! 🙏
Reply 1

Rhonda Blair Quintero · 2w
Travesty of justice.
Judge Fran Gull is as biased as they come and should be permanently removed from the bench.
I hope once RA is freed, he sues this corrupt state and wins millions.
Reply

Wayne Osman · 2w
He needs to be put down, like a rabid dog.
Reply

Jeremy Lee · 2w
Before that crazy Lindsey lady....all y'all was ready to hang him.
Reply

Misty D Jackson Winningham · 2w
Scenerios & Gossip doesn't help the Girls Family listening to people turn it around on being botched bec of being related is a crock of crap & this was why the Judge put a Gag order on the case bec of Scenerios & gossip lies that could cause a killer to walk !
Reply

Alex Dossey · 2w

I find it hard to believe that one fat man (in the video) could mutilate 2 teenage girls without one of them getting away-in a wooded area.
Also they were MUTILATED. A BULLET was used to convict him. I am an army veteran. I have seen many BULLETS. I have NEVER seen a BULLET from a handgun MUTILATE anyone, let alone 2 teenage girls.

Something is not right!

Reply 4

Jennifer Callantine · 2w

There were more people involved and had plenty of time to cover up the horrific crimes that these poor souls endured they were most likely sacrificed/Satanic Ritual Abuse.
Law enforcement + Fr33masonz involvement

Reply Edited

Jessica Arnold · 2w

I heard that the man who murdered the girls is OUT HERE RUNNING AROUND STILL !!!!

Reply

Melissa Southern · 2w

FREE RICHARD ALLEN!! He is NOT GUILTY BEYOND REASONABLE DOUBT!! Election Year... pressed to charge & get a conviction... THE CONVICTION IS OF THE WRONG MAN!!

This conviction does absolutely NO JUSTICE FOR THE GIRLS!!

Get it right McLeland!! You know you did this innocent man DIRTY!!

Justice for Abby & Libby! 💜💌

Justice for Richard Allen!!!!

Reply 5

Jill Alexander · 2w

they r reaching. and unlawful search of his house???...what about the unlawful killing of 2 young children!!!

Reply 1

Dantan Strong · 2w

It's that la porte cop and Indiana is one of the dirtiest states at covering for there cops and judges .. and charging innocent people.

Reply

Mike Sims · 2w
Worst cover up in the state of Indiana, they are protecting the guilty people that did this. We demand justice for Abby & Libby!

Reply 3

Dave Chalk · 2w
Ok how about 190 years.

Reply

Gary Weaver · 2w
As soon as the convicted invoke satanism, or a facsimile there of, that's as good as a guilty confession. Book em Dan o. Murder one. Aloha.

Reply

Tanya Savage · 2w
Why don't you you execute this m*? Give him what he did to the people. That's what needs to happen in this f country. And these f dirt bags would think twice. Your liberal love and son of a b***

Reply

Martin Ancil · 2w
Tanya Savage tell em how ya really feel ! lol

Reply

Tanya Savage · 2w
Martin Ancil that's only a way I tell everybody. How I really feel, I don't sugarcoat. S i'm not willy wonka

Reply

Reply to Martin Ancil...

Reply to Tanya Savage...

Jelly Roll · 2w
He should get a death sentence

Reply

Johnny Neptune · 2w
Just put his ass in a wood chipper. He is guilty AF!!!

Reply

Michelle Shafto · 2w

I have an idea..... Can you say firing squad!!!

Reply 1